Aid Bill Cut by 2 Reductions

Reapportionment Rider Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate battle lines formed today over efforts to tie a legislative reapportionment rider to the coattails of the foreign aid bill.

Administration leaders saw little prospect of heading off a long floor fight on the rider sponsored by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen.

Unless a compromise can be reached, final action on the bill may not come until late next week, killing any prospect for the adjournment of Congress in advance of the Democratic National Convention which opens in Atlantic City a week from Monday.

The foreign aid bill suffered two setbacks Tuesday.

First, the Senate trimmed $216.7 million from the $3,516,700,000 asked by President Johnson and approved by the House. The action came on a 50-35 vote adopting an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore. This reduction, added to a $50 million cut recommended by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, slashed the bill $266.7 million below the original "bare bones" request. Supporting the slash were 31 Democrats and 19 Republicans, while 26 Democrats and 9 Republicans opposed it.

Shortly afterward, the program suffered what Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., its floor manager, described as a much more crippling blow. The Senate weighted the bill with an amendment that would raise interest rates on all development loans abroad, including those under the Alliance for Progress program in Latin America.

Administration leaders were hopeful the cut will be partially restored, and that the interest amendment can be eliminated or modified in a meeting of Senate and House conferees to iron out differences in the two bills.

But they admittedly saw little hope of avoiding a long fight over Dirksen's rider that would be aimed at slowing down court-ordered reapportionment of both houses of state legislatures on a population basis.

Kennedy Sure to Win Senate Nomination

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy appeared today to be well on his way toward nomination as the Democratic candidate for U.S. Senator from New York State.

A well informed source in the state Democratic organization said a series of moves over the next several days were expected to provide the momentum that would assure Kennedy's nomination.

The moves were expected to include Kennedy's announcement of his candidacy and further declarations of suppport from county chairmen in strategic locations.

The Kennedy-backers plan to offer those announcements as evidence of broad support for the attorney general's candidacy.

Officially Neutral

While top party leaders in the state continued to maintain an official air of neutrality, there was evidence they were concentrating on the Kennedy candidacy almost to the exclusion of other prospects.

For example, Democratic spokesmen are well-briefed with detailed legal references on the issue of Kennedy's position as a non-resident of the state.

He now has a home in Virginia and was named to the Massachusetts delegation to the Democratic National Convention beginning Aug. 24 — the week before New York Democrats choose a senatorial candidate.

Once Withdrew

Kennedy, who once took himself out of contention for the nomination reconsidered after he and all other cabinet members were eliminated by President Johnson as potential nominees for vice president.

Kennedy's backers for the Senate nomination argue that the U.S. Constitution requires only that a Senator be "when elected, an inhabitant of that state for which shall be chosen."

In addition, they point out, state election law provides authority for a politicai party committee to allow the nomination of a candidate who is not an enrolled member of the party in the state.

Stratton to Fight

Force of Rep. Samuel S. Stratton of Amsterdam, an undeclared candidate for the nomination, have promised a court fight to block the nomination of Kennedy if he enters the race. The Stratton backers would allege that, as a non-resident, Kennedy is ineligible for the nomination.

But an endorsement of Kennedy by Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City is considered imminent — a step that the attorney general has said is crucial to any bid by him.

Those advocating the nomination of the attorney general see great political possibilities in having the brother of the late President on the ticket.

They see political magic in the Kennedy name and feel his

Barry Disavows All Extremists At GOP Summit

Hershey, Pa. (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater disavowed extremists of the left and right today, and promised, if he wins the presidency, to consult in advance with former President Eisenhower on appointments to key Cabinet posts.

"I seek the support of no extremists — of the left or the right," Goldwater told a closed-door summit conference of Republican leaders he had summoned here in a bid for party unity.

Goldwater said he was confident there would be no "so-called extremist takeover of the party."

His statement was distributed in advance.

In it, he said that if elected president, he will consult Eisenhower, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon "and other experienced leaders seasoned in world affairs" before naming secretaries of defense or state, or any other key national security posts.

Goldwater said his foreign policy would be patterned upon Eisenhower's, and continued:

"If all this amounts to an impulsive and trigger-happy approach to foreign policy, then I fear the English language has lost its meaning."

Goldwater said the number one campaign problem the Republicans face is "the totally wrong view our opponents will try to din into the mind of every American voter — namely that the election of a Republican president in November will somehow lead to war."

"This is the supreme political lie, and we've got to label it for what it is," Goldwater said.

Permits Needed Before Harvest Under New Order

Farmers wishing to use diverted or retired lands under the new Department of Agriculture order must obtain a permit from the Agricultural Stabilization & Conservation Service office, 54 John Street, before harvesting, the ASC office warned today.

Congressman J. Ernest Wharton, (R) representing the 28th Congressional District announced from Washington, D. C., Tuesday that the Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman had included Ulster and Dutchess Counties in declared disaster areas due to severe drought conditions.

The order permits release of diverted acres in the Conservation Reserve, Feed Grain and Voluntary Wheat Program for harvesting and grazing purposes. This permission expires on October 31.

Farmers who have diverted acres to release will have their government payments reduced accordingly. This reduction will depend on the tons per acre and quality of the hay.

Farmers were informed that releases are available at the ASC office. Office hours are Monday through Friday 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Doiald Weaver of the ASC office said about 1,500 acres in Ulster are diverted and could be released and harvested.

Sunset Gardens Title Transferred To Corporation

While Town of Ulster officials were endeavoring to arrange a meeting to determine jurisdiction of the Town Planning Board in the controversial proposed Sunset Gardens development, it was learned title to property involved was transferred July 27 to Sunset Gardens A.T.T.S. Inc., 202 Fair Street.

A meeting between town officials and park development representatives to determine jurisdiction of the planning board in the matter, may be held soon, it was understood.

Confirms Report

Mal Cunningham, who has offices at the Fair Street address, confirmed a report that title to the property included in the proposed building project in the Town of Ulster, was transferred to the Sunset Gardens corporation last month. He said the Germano Brothers of Poughkeepsie are general contractors for the project and they are interested financially in the proposed development.

Cunningham stated that it has not been definitely decided the type of apartment plans that will be approved. In the original papers filed with the Town of Ulster officials reference was made to condominium complex apartments, a new venture in housing development which is without precedence in the Kingston area.

Working on Difficulties

Cunningham said efforts are now being made to iron out legal phases that now exist, and he noted that the Condominium Act was passed only this year. He stated that the development probably will start with rental apartments, and eventually work into condominium apartments, which are individual apartments that would be sold.

Yesterday it was reported that a poll of persons attending a public hearing Monday night in the Lake Katrine Grange Hall, showed they were 100 per cent against construction of the proposed million-dollar venture.

Edward Devine, planning board chairman of Ulster township, said the town attorney and supervisor and attorneys for the Sunset Park and Forest Glen developments would have to meet to determine the next step.

Bullet Hits Power Line In Columbia County

Forty-seven hundred customers of two electric concerns were without service in the northern section of Columbia County Monday night after a power line was separated by a rifle bullet.

It was reported that 2,200 Niagara-Mohawk customers and about 2,500 New York State Electric and Gas Co. users were without service until repairs were made.

Officials said that a rifle bullet evidently shot an insulator knocking out a 34,500-volt transmission line, which carries power from East Greenbush to Columbia County.

TurksKeep Up Cyprus Air Checks

Britons Are Also Targets of Greeks

By ALEX EFTY

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Turkish jet planes cruised low on reconnaissance missions over northwest Cyprus today only a few hours after the U.N. Security Council appealed to all nations to end flights over Cyprus.

Placard-carrying Greek Cypriots demonstrated outside the U.S. Embassy in Nicosia, shouting for the 400 or so Americans in Cyprus to get out.

"Murderers, get out," they yelled, expressing a conviction that both the United States and Britain supported the Turkish air raids last weekend. "Get out, you sons of donkeys."

Banners demanded: "Yankees go home. . . Britons go home."

Take Off First

A government spokesman in Ankara said the Turkish jets had taken off before receipt of the council's request to all nations to stop flights over Cyprus. He said they were fighters ordered to photograph but not to strafe or bomb Greek Cypriot positions or troop movements.

Greece charged that the Turks also flew over the Greek islands of Crete and Rhodes, both Tuesday and today, and demanded that they quit it.

Premier George Papandreou's Athens government warned Turkey that any further violations of Greek air space "would compel Greece to act accordingly."

Police in Morphou, 25 miles west of Nicosia, sounded the air raid alarm.

A loud explosion was heard from the direction of Xeros Port, six miles farther west.

United Nations headquarters in Nicosia confirmed the reappearance of Turkish planes but a spokesman said first information only told of one Turkish jet fighter flying low over the Turkish-held village of Kokkina.

The Morphou alert lasted more than an hour. Citizens said two Turkish jets roared over several times, apparently flying between Morphou and Xeros.

Turkish jet fighters carried out daily attacks on Greek Cypriot villages in northwest Cyprus from last Friday until Monday.

Tuesday, Turkish planes confined their flights to reconnaissance over the Kokkina region where Greek and Turkish Cypriot forces are observing a cease fire after heavy fighting last week.

To Fight for Rule

President Makarios said his Greek Cypriots would fight "alone or with others" to preserve their rule of Cyprus, in a broadcast Tuesday that underscored a rift with Greece.

While Makarios rallied his people in the nationwide broadcast, Athens radio said Greek Cypriots launched an offensive against Turkish Cypriot positions in northwest Cyprus Aug. 5

PRESENTS SCHOLARSHIP—Mrs. Paul N. Prentice, president of the American Association of University Women of Kingston, presents a $200 scholarship to Dr. Dale B. Lake, president of the Ulster County Community College. The scholarship will be awarded annually to the Ulster County woman student who plans to continue her education toward a four year degree. In past years the scholarship had been awarded to graduates of Kingston High School but because of the widespread membership of AAUW and because of its emphasis on higher education for women, the scholarship has been applied to the new purpose. The organization raises funds for the scholarship through its annual book sale at the Ulster County Fair to be held this year Aug. 19 and 20. Those wishing to donate items for the sale may contact Mrs. Prentice and arrangements will be made to pick up the books. (Freeman photo).

To Discuss Sears Site Uptown

Downtown Renewal May Start in November

Signs of new progress in both downtown and uptown urban renewal projects were indicated at a Tuesday night meeting of UR officials and committees.

Advancement of federal procedure to get downtown's Broadway East project definitely started in the fall, "possibly in November," are favorable, Eric Hemphill, local UR director said, and plans were advanced to discuss location of a Sears Roebuck & Co., retail store in the uptown area.

Representatives of Sears Roebuck will be asked to meet with UR officials and committee members next week to discuss uptown sites.

Hemphill said he has been notified of federal approval in New York of local procedure pertaining to establishment of the required UR Agency, and other recent required agreements in furthering the Broadway East project, and he expected to receive a formal letter today, noting approval of required procedure, to date.

Company Interested

Sears Roebuck, it was reported recently is interested in sites in the uptown urban renewal area and in the Kingston Shopping Plaza. UR officials will not become involved, if a site in the latter is favored, but two sites in the uptown UR area are under consideration for commercial development that could include such a retail store.

One site would be bounded by Washington Avenue, Converse and Green Streets, and part of Lucas Avenue, the other, more favored by uptown merchants, would be bounded by North Front and Crown Streets, and an area toward Lucas Avenue.

At last night's meeting were members of city government, of the Citizens' Advisory Committee, the Uptown Economic Sub-Committee for Urban Renewal, and the Urban Renewal Agency.

UR Director Hemphill said "Particular emphasis was given" at the meeting, "to the discussion of sites, which could be made available for commercial purposes in the uptown project area. Although the UR plan for the uptown project has not yet received federal or local approval, the UR Agency stated there had been interest from potential developers."

Onteora Voting On $2,572,018 Budget to 9 p. m.

Qualified voters in the Onteora School District today will go to polling places in four districts, to ballot for a third time on a budget for 1964-65, which has been reduced by school officials.

Dr. George Sullivan, school district superintendent, said polls will be open from 2 to 9 p. m. at the following places: Shandaken Town Hall, high school building at Boiceville, Woodstock Elementary School and West Hurley Elementary School.

The original budget as prepared by the Board of Education totaling approximately $2,661,435 has been cut to $2,572,018, officials said. In May the original tentative budget was defeated by 18 votes and in June the same budget was rejected by 265 votes.

Dr. Sullivan said the district has been operating on an austerity budget, and if the reduced budget is defeated by the voters today, the austerity budget will still be used.

Fighting Men in 'Copters

Early Start Held Up by Dense Fog

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

XA BA HAO, Viet Nam (AP) — One of the largest helicopter assaults of the South Viet Nam war was hurled today against a reported concentration of some 3,000 Communist Viet Cong in a jungle area.

Ninety-six Vietnamese and U.S. Army helicopters carried nearly 1,000 Vietnamese troops into the attack.

Minutes after the assault began, a young U.S. Army first lieutenant slumped dead at his controls.

Pierces Heart

A 50-caliber armor-piercing machinegun bullet had passed through the windshield as the helicopter was making a strafing pass and pierced his heart.

"He was the seventh pilot in our class of 50 to be killed in Viet Nam," Capt. Robert Estes of Anson, Maine, said.

Another armed helicopter, flown by Maj. Ralph Irvin of Redding, Calif., also was shot up badly but limped back to Saigon. Redding and his crew escaped injury.

Every available helicopter in the southern half of South Viet Nam was rounded up for the operation.

But the morning started poorly. The helicopters and the Vietnamese Air Force fighters that were to have blasted rockets into the assault zone had to turn away when heavy ground fog rolled in.

It was nearly 9:30 a.m. before the operation got under way again.

"It's nice for the Viet Cong this way," a crewman said. "Our spotter planes have given them fair warning. They've seen the sky black with choppers, and now they have a couple of hours to pack up at leisure."

In the jungle, scores of smoke bursts erupted, and tracers arched up at the helicopters. Machineguns in the fast-moving helicopters chattered, and rockets roared from their pods.

(This correspondent was knicked on the face by flying metal).

Troop-carrying helicopters touched down about six seconds, just long enough to unload their men. Only a few troops reported enemy contact.

Could Be Numerous

"In this mess of jungle, there could be 2,000 or 20,000 Viet Cong hiding, and we'd never see them," an American paratroop adviser said angrily.

But Viet Cong antiaircraft batteries continued to hammer away from under their canopy of foliage.

Near the same place Tuesday, the Viet Cong hit a government outpost, killing 11 defenders and capturing 19 rifles.

Jersey Block Dance Erupts Into Torrid Racial Outburst

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP)—Racial violence flared unexpectedly in the large New Jersey industrial cities of Elizabeth and Paterson Tuesday night, but no serious injuries were reported in either city and police appeared in control early today.

Negroes threw gasoline bombs, bottles and bricks. In Elizabeth, the fire bombs started two blazes while a third was set under the front porch of a white family's home.

Store windows were smashed in both cities and one Elizabeth store was looted.

Paterson Mayor Frank X. Graves said a bus was boarded by a dozen Negro youths who smashed its windows. All buses then were rerouted and police closed the section — a predominantly Negro neighborhood—to all traffic.

Police Li. Joseph Grossi said the disturbance in Paterson "came out of a clear blue sky" after some 200 Negro teen-agers left a city-sponsored dance. They began hurling missiles at a passing police car and then began throwing at other vehicles and store windows.

Three white youths were arrested in Elizabeth when they allegedly threw a bottle from a car.

In Atlanta, meanwhile, restaurant operator Lester Maddox refused to comply with Federal Court orders to desegregate under terms of the civil rights law.

Segregationist Maddox said he would never desegregate his restaurant after Negroes tried three times to enter.

He brought out ax handles for his customers and said if he was forced to close he would turn the restaurant into headquarters for "The Americans for Goldwater for President."

The incidents occurred less than 24 hours after U.S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black turned down requests by Maddox and the Heart of At-

United Nations headquarters in Nicosia confirmed the reappearance of Turkish planes but a spokesman said first information only told of one Turkish jet fighter flying low over the Turkish-held village of Kokkina.

Lake, president of the Ulster County Community College. The scholarship will be awarded annually to the Ulster County woman student who plans to continue her education toward a four year degree. In past years the scholarship had been awarded to graduates of Kingston High School but because of the widespread membership of AAUW and because of its emphasis on higher education for women, the scholarship has been applied to the new purpose. The organization raises funds for the scholarship through its annual book sale at the Ulster County Fair to be held this year Aug. 19 and 20. Those wishing to donate items for the sale may contact Mrs. Prentice and arrangements will be made to pick up the books. (Freeman photo).

To Discuss Sears Site Uptown

Downtown Renewal May Start in November

Signs of new progress in both downtown and uptown urban renewal projects were indicated at a Tuesday night meeting of UR officials and committees.

Advancement of federal procedure to get downtown's Broadway East project definitely started in the fall, "possibly in November," are favorable, Eric Hemphill, local UR director said, and plans were advanced to discuss location of a Sears Roebuck & Co., retail store in the uptown area.

Representatives of Sears Roebuck will be asked to meet with UR officials and committee members next week to discuss uptown sites.

Hemphill said he has been notified of federal approval in New York of local procedure pertaining to establishment of the required UR Agency, and other recent required agreements in furthering the Broadway East project, and he expected to receive a formal letter today, noting approval of required procedure, to date.

Company Interested

Sears Roebuck, it was reported recently is interested in sites in the uptown urban renewal area and in the Kingston Shopping Plaza. UR officials will not become involved, if a site in the latter is favored, but two sites in the uptown UR area are under consideration for commercial development that could include such a retail store.

One site would be bounded by Washington Avenue, Converse and Green Streets, and part of Lucas Avenue, the other, more favored by uptown merchants, would be bounded by North Front and Crown Streets, and an area toward Lucas Avenue.

At last night's meeting were members of city government, of the Citizens' Advisory Committee, the Uptown Economic Sub-Committee for Urban Renewal, and the Urban Renewal Agency.

UR Director Hemphill said "Particular emphasis was given" at the meeting, "to the discussion of sites, which could be made available for commercial purposes in the uptown project area. Although the UR plan for the uptown project has not yet received federal or local approval, the UR Agency stated there had been interest from potential developers."

Onteora Voting On $2,572,018 Budget to 9 p. m.

Qualified voters in the Onteora School District today will go to polling places in four districts, to ballot for a third time on a budget for 1964-65, which has been reduced by school officials.

Dr. George Sullivan, school district superintendent, said polls will be open from 2 to 9 p. m. at the following places: Shandaken Town Hall, high school building at Boiceville, Woodstock Elementary School and West Hurley Elementary School.

The original budget as prepared by the Board of Education totaling approximately $2,661,435 has been cut to $2,572,018, officials said. In May the original tentative budget was defeated by 18 votes and in June the same budget was rejected by 265 votes.

Dr. Sullivan said the district has been operating on an austerity budget, and if the reduced budget is defeated by the voters today, the austerity budget will still be used.

Fighting Men in 'Copters

Early Start Held Up by Dense Fog

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE

XA BA HAO, Viet Nam (AP) — One of the largest helicopter assaults of the South Viet Nam war was hurled today against a reported concentration of some 3,000 Communist Viet Cong in a jungle area.

Ninety-six Vietnamese and U.S. Army helicopters carried nearly 1,000 Vietnamese troops into the attack.

Minutes after the assault began, a young U.S. Army first lieutenant slumped dead at his controls.

Pierces Heart

A 50-caliber armor-piercing machinegun bullet had passed through the windshield as the helicopter was making a strafing pass and pierced his heart.

"He was the seventh pilot in our class of 50 to be killed in Viet Nam," Capt. Robert Estes of Anson, Maine, said.

Another armed helicopter, flown by Maj. Ralph Irvin of Redding, Calif., also was shot up badly but limped back to Saigon. Redding and his crew escaped injury.

Every available helicopter in the southern half of South Viet Nam was rounded up for the operation.

But the morning started poorly. The helicopters and the Vietnamese Air Force fighters that were to have blasted rockets into the assault zone had to turn away when heavy ground fog rolled in.

It was nearly 9:30 a.m. before the operation got under way again.

"It's nice for the Viet Cong this way," a crewman said. "Our spotter planes have given them fair warning. They've seen the sky black with choppers, and now they have a couple of hours to pack up at leisure."

In the jungle, scores of smoke bursts erupted, and tracers arched up at the helicopters. Machineguns in the fast-moving helicopters chattered, and rockets roared from their pods.

(This correspondent was knicked on the face by flying metal).

Troop-carrying helicopters touched down about six seconds, just long enough to unload their men. Only a few troops reported enemy contact.

Could Be Numerous

"In this mess of jungle, there could be 2,000 or 20,000 Viet Cong hiding, and we'd never see them," an American paratroop adviser said angrily.

But Viet Cong antiaircraft batteries continued to hammer away from under their canopy of foliage.

Near the same place Tuesday, the Viet Cong hit a government outpost, killing 11 defenders and capturing 19 rifles.

Jersey Block Dance Erupts Into Torrid Racial Outburst

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP)—Racial violence flared unexpectedly in the large New Jersey industrial cities of Elizabeth and Paterson Tuesday night, but no serious injuries were reported in either city and police appeared in control early today.

Negroes threw gasoline bombs, bottles and bricks. In Elizabeth, the fire bombs started two blazes while a third was set under the front porch of a white family's home.

Store windows were smashed in both cities and one Elizabeth store was looted.

Paterson Mayor Frank X. Graves said a bus was boarded by a dozen Negro youths who smashed its windows. All buses then were rerouted and police closed the section — a predominantly Negro neighborhood—to all traffic.

Police Lt. Joseph Grossi said the disturbance in Paterson "came out of a clear blue sky" after some 200 Negro teen-agers left a city-sponsored dance. They began hurling missiles at a passing police car and then began throwing at other vehicles and store windows.

Three white youths were arrested in Elizabeth when they allegedly threw a bottle from a car.

In Atlanta, meanwhile, restaurant operator Lester Maddox refused to comply with Federal Court orders to desegregate under terms of the civil rights law.

Segregationist Maddox said he would never desegregate his restaurant after Negroes tried three times to enter.

He brought out ax handles for his customers and said if he was forced to close he would turn the restaurant into headquarters for "The Americans for Goldwater for President."

The incidents occurred less than 24 hours after U.S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black turned down requests by Maddox and the Heart of At-

Uncle Ramundo Returns After Funeral Is Held

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ramundo Reyes' funeral was a reverent event, carefully arranged by members of his family.

They chipped in $150 to pay the mortuary and cemetery. His nephew contributed $22 for the burial suit. Reyes' Social Security was cut off, his other worldly affairs were terminated.

Final rites were conducted last Friday.

Tuesday, Reyes, 74, was home again.

The nephew, Adam Rios, saw him first. Reyes was crossing the street, toward his house.

"I put my hand to my forehead," Rios related, "and I said, 'Oh, my God!' "

Reyes' sister, Paula, 75, was more calm.

"Where have you been?" she asked Ramundo, with whom she resided.

Gone Three Weeks

He murmured something about Mexico, but he didn't remember much that had happened since he disappeared three weeks ago.

Miss Reyes said her brother accompanied her to General Hospital three weeks ago when she went for treatment. He waited outside.

When she returned to the waiting room, he was gone. So was $16 in her purse and $290 in her shopping bag.

Police were notified.

Last Wednesday, police called to say the coroner's office had the body of a man, matching Reyes' description, who had died the day before at a downtown relief mission.

All Agreed

"We sent right down," said Rios. "We even took along some of the neighbors and friends, and they all agreed that it was my uncle."

Fifty friends and relatives filed past the open casket after the rosary last Thursday night. None questioned the identity of the deceased.

"I would have sworn it was him," said a neighbor.

Uncle Ramundo couldn't explain what had happened.

Reyes said he couldn't believe he'd been away for three weeks. It seemed like only a few days.

"When things like this happen," he said, "the government ought to investigate."

Tuesday Rios took his uncle to Social Security and state aid authorities to prove Reyes was alive, so his payments could start again.

The Big Question

"There he sits now," said Rios, "but who is the man we buried?"

"We call him John Doe," said a deputy coroner.

What does Uncle Ramundo think about his funeral?

"I don't want to think about it," he said.

Chile Severs Relations With Cuba

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Only three Latin American nations remained on diplomatic terms with Cuba today after Chile severed relations with Fidel Castro's Communist regime. Chile's move isolates Cuba from all its neighbors except Uruguay, Bolivia and Mexico.

The break came only three weeks before Chile's voters are to choose a new president. A hot issue in the campaign is whether U.S. corporations, especially copper companies, should be taken over by the Chilean government.

Some diplomatic observers here think the break with Cuba will hurt the chances of Salvador Allende, a Communist-backed Socialist who is campaigning for president on a soak-the-Americans platform.

The other leading candidate is Christian Democrat Eduardo Frei, a moderate leftist. Although an advocate of reforms, Frei has not suggested that the government take over U.S. corporations.

After the break was announced, Chile's biggest labor organization, the Communist-dominated Central of Workers, said it would retaliate with a nationwide strike. No date has been revealed.

The break with Havana was the first under sanctions voted by the foreign ministers of the Organization of American States July 25 in Washington.

The OAS demanded that all Latin American countries sever both diplomatic and trade ties with Cuba. Although the Chilean announcement said nothing about stopping trade it is expected that such a move will occur.

Last year's trade between Chile and Cuba was valued at about $10 million. Trade so far this year is at about the same level.

Commenting on the Chilean action, a U.S. spokesman said in Washington; "We are naturally pleased."

Washington Buys Canned Tomatoes For School Lunch

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced an offer to buy canned tomatoes, packed during 1964, for use in the National School Lunch Program.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service said offers will be considered only on No. 10 size cans, and that purchases will be made on an offer and acceptance basis, using funds appropriated under the National School Lunch Act.

Invitations to offer, including specifications, now are being mailed to canners.

Offers must be received by the Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketing Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250 not later than noon (EDT) Tuesday, Sept. 8, for acceptance not later than Sept. 16. Delivery will be required during the period Oct. 12 through Nov. 16.

Further details may be obtained from Rex Hinshaw, Fruit and Vegetable Division, Agricultural Marketingg Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Boy on 'Cycle Killed

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)— Thomas Travis, 11, of Rochester, was killed Tuesday when run over by a tractor-trailer after falling off his bicycle while he swerved to avoid hitting a girl, police said.

The bicycle hit a large rock on a curbside lawn, flinging Thomas from the vehicle, police said. They reported that a girl ran into his path on a sidewalk.

Capitol Solons Favor $15,000,573 For Seneca Losses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate-House conferees have agreed that the federal government should set up a $15,000,573 damage and rehabilitation fund to help New York's Seneca Indians adjust to loss of land and homes caused by construction of the Allegheny River Dam and Reservoir.

The figure, fixed Tuesday, represents a compromise between bills passed by the House last year and the Senate last spring.

Agreement was reached at the fifth meeting held by a committee of five Senators and five House members.

The House had approved a $20.15-million fund and the Senate, $9,126,550.

The compromise requires approval by both the House and Senate before it can be sent to President Johnson for his signature.

The figure approved Tuesday includes $12,128,971 in funds which can be used for education, and industrial and commercial development on the three Indian reservations.

Savings Bank's Deposit Gains Set Records

NEW YORK — Deposit gains in the nation's 507 mutual savings banks continued to set records during July, according to preliminary figures released today by the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks. Gains in regular accounts reached $275 million in July, two-and-a-quarter times the increase of $122 million registered in July, 1963. The previous record for the month was $158 million, set in July, 1962.

The increase brought regular accounts in mutual savings bankks to $46.5 billion at month-end, compared with $42.7 billion on July 31, 1963.

Dr. Grover W. Ensley, executive vice president of the National Association, noted that the July figures indicated that the record rate of deposit growth achieved by mutual savings banks in the first six months of the year was continuing into the third quarter. "Increased deposit gains," Dr. Ensley stated, "reflect the attractiveness of rates of return offered by savings banks and the absence of strong inflationary pressures as well as the impact of lower tax withholding rates."

Dear Abby . . .

Stand Up To Her!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a painter. A month ago, while painting the house of a very rich woman, the ladder collapsed (it was her ladder) and I fell to the ground. I broke my leg in several places. Since then I've had no income. I lost $600 in pay, and my doctor bill is $150. I asked the woman at least to help me pay my doctor bill and she said her insurance didn't cover that kind of accident and she isn't responsible for my bills.

She is so cheap she told me to buy a box of plaster and make my own cast! She said I was foolish for going to a doctor. She came over with two pain pills she bought at an Army surplus store and said they were just as good as prescription pills. Everyone tells me I am nuts if I don't sue her. She is far from poor, Abby. She owns several houses in town. What should I do?

OUT OF WORK

Dear OUT: See a lawyer at once! If you can't afford one, go to your local Legal Aid Society. If you broke your leg on HER ladder, while painting HER house—insurance or no insurance, I'll bet SHE hasn't a leg to stand on.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: I am an elderly man and have been dating a middle-aged widow for some time. I do not drive, so when I invite her out for dinner her son usually comes by and picks me up. The lady is already in the front seat beside her son, and I have to sit in the back seat all by myself. There is plenty of room for the three of us in the front. Otherwise I think the lady should sit in the back seat with me. I would appreciate your opinion.

ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: Don't look a gift ride in the seat.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a handsome man in his early forties. We have been married only a few months. I knew he had false teeth when I married him, but I never had seen him with his teeth out. Soon after we were married, he started taking his teeth out the minute he came home. Now he never wears them around the house. If we go somewhere, he won't put his teeth in until the last minute, and as soon as we get home he takes them out again.

I told him he should see his dentist if he is having trouble, but he says he has already spent enough money on false teeth and he doesn't want to spend any more. His dentist is supposed to be one of the best in town. We have a small income, but I think this is important. I hate to nag him about it, but I don't know how much longer I can take this. He looks like an old man with his teeth out

A BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: Call your husband's dentist and tell him what you've told me. If he's one of the "best" in town, he will probably insist on adjusting the dentures without charge so they'll be comfortable and wearable.

False-Carding Can Be Dangerous

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The pathological liar feels that it is silly to tell the truth when a lie will do just as well. The pathological false-carder feels that it is silly to make a normal play when there is a chance to false-card.

North and South might well have tried for game in no-trump, and there would have been no way to keep whichever partner played the hand from making 10 tricks, but there is no way to play no-trump unless one partner or the other bids no-trump somewhere along the way. Thus, South found himself in four hearts.

West opened the king of spades, and after East played the three, South lost no time dropping the 10.

West paused for a brief moment to note that the deuce had not apeared and continued with the ace. He knew that East had started with the doubleton trey-deuce or a singleton so that there was no chance that South would be able to ruff in. When East showed out, it was routine for the defense to take two more tricks.

South should have dropped the deuce of spades. West might have continued the suit anyway but on the other hand, he might well have decided that South held no more spades. In that case, he would have abandoned the spade suit and South would have won the rubber.

Civil Service Exam

A new examination for Mediator has just been announced by the U. S. Civil Service Commission. Mediators are employed by the National Mediation Board in Washington, D. C. to adjust controversies between employers and employes in railroad and airline industries in connection with collective bargaining agreements on rates of pay, hours of work, rules, or working conditions.

The positions pay $8,410 a year. Six years of experience in making labor agreements or in negotiating with management or employe representatives in application of them are required. A bachelor's or higher degree in certain related fields may be substituted for three years of this experience.

The experience, other requirements, conditions of employment are outlined in detail in Announcement No. 337-B. Applications will be accepted by the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, National Mediation Board, Washington, D. C. 20572 until November 12, 1964.

Announcements and application forms may be obtained from Leo W. Darwak, examiner-in-charge, Central Post Office, Kingston, or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C 20415.

Area Residents Earn Promotions, Internal Revenue

Two area men have been promoted to the postition of revenue officer trainee in the Albany Internal Revenue Service, according to district director Edward J. Fitzgerald Jr.

The men are William T. Dickson of RD 1, Kingston and Edward C. McBain Jr. of Poughkeepsie. Both were formerly employed as tax examiners at the internal revenue office in Poughkeepsie.

The District Director stated that as professional revenue officers these men would discharge their responsibilities by negotiating arrangements to satisfy taxpayer obligations, securing delinquent tax returns and performing similar types of work of a diversified nature to protect the government's interest.

Mr. Fitzgerald explained that as Revenue Officer Trainees each man would have to successfully complete 18 months of intensive classroom and on-the-job training before progressing to the full professional journeyman Revenue Officer position.

Capitol Solons Favor $15,000,573 For Seneca Losses

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate-House conferees have agreed that the federal government should set up a $15,000,573 damage and rehabilitation fund to help New York's Seneca Indians adjust to loss of land and homes caused by construction of the Allegheny River Dam and Reservoir.

The figure, fixed Tuesday, represents a compromise between bills passed by the House last year and the Senate last spring.

Agreement was reached at the fifth meeting held by a committee of five Senators and five House members.

The House had approved a $20.15-million fund and the Senate, $9,126,550.

The compromise requires approval by both the House and Senate before it can be sent to President Johnson for his signature.

The figure approved Tuesday includes $12,128,971 in funds which can be used for education, and industrial and commercial development on the three Indian reservations.

Part of the development would be a Williamsburg-type restoration of the Iroquois Indian culture.

Savings Bank's Deposit Gains Set Records

NEW YORK — Deposit gains in the nation's 507 mutual savings banks continued to set records during July, according to preliminary figures released today by the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks. Gains in regular accounts reached $275 million in July, two-and-a-quarter times the increase of $122 million registered in July, 1963. The previous record for the month was $158 million, set in July, 1962.

The increase brought regular accounts in mutual savings bankks to $46.5 billion at month-end, compared with $42.7 billion on July 31, 1963.

Dr. Grover W. Ensley, executive vice president of the National Association, noted that the July figures indicated that the record rate of deposit growth achieved by mutual savings banks in the first six months of the year was continuing into the third quarter. "Increased deposit gains," Dr. Ensley stated, "reflect the attractiveness of rates of return offered by savings banks and the absence of strong inflationary pressures as well as the impact of lower tax withholding rates."

Resigns Position As RV Principal, Going to Orange

M. CHRIS CRESPI

M. Chris Crespi has resigned his position as principal of the Rondout Valley Central High School and has been appointed principal of the Minisink Valley Central High school in Orange County.

Crespi had served as principal at Rondout Valley for three years. Prior to that he was director of guidance at the school.

An outstanding cage official, he is a former vice president of the Hudson Valley Board, Approved Basketball Officials. He is a World War II veteran, having served in the European theatre of operations with the First Infantry and 80th Infantry divisions.

Crespi's other school experience includes two years at New York University as a science instructor, five years as director of guidance in Rockville Center, five years as the director of guidance for the Seaford Public Schools.

He has taught high school equivalency courses, has been a summer counselor, and has coached basketball and football teams. In his guidance capacity, he visited more than 400 colleges and has written numerous articles for guidance journals.

Crespi is living temporarily in New Paltz with his wife, two sons and two daughters. The eldest son is a member of the U. S. Peace Corps.

Dear Abby . . .

Stand Up To Her!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a painter. A month ago, while painting the house of a very rich woman, the ladder collapsed (it was her ladder) and I fell to the ground. I broke my leg in several places. Since then I've had no income. I lost $600 in pay, and my doctor bill is $150. I asked the woman at least to help me pay my doctor bill and she said her insurance didn't cover that kind of accident and she isn't responsible for my bills.

She is so cheap she told me to buy a box of plaster and make my own cast! She said I was foolish for going to a doctor. She came over with two pain pills she bought at an Army surplus store and said they were just as good as prescription pills. Everyone tells me I am nuts if I don't sue her. She is far from poor, Abby. She owns several houses in town. What should I do?

OUT OF WORK

Dear OUT: See a lawyer at once! If you can't afford one, go to your local Legal Aid Society. If you broke your leg on HER ladder, while painting HER house—insurance or no insurance, I'll bet SHE hasn't a leg to stand on.

• • • •

DEAR ABBY: I am an elderly man and have been dating a middle-aged widow for some time. I do not drive, so when I invite her out for dinner her son usually comes by and picks me up. The lady is already in the front seat beside her son, and I have to sit in the back seat all by myself. There is plenty of room for the three of us in the front. Otherwise I think the lady should sit in the back seat with me. I would appreciate your opinion.

ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: Don't look a gift ride in the seat.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a handsome man in his early forties. We have been married only a few months. I knew he had false teeth when I married him, but I never had seen him with his teeth out. Soon after we were married, he started taking his teeth out the minute he came home. Now he never wears them around the house. If we go somewhere, he won't put his teeth in until the last minute, and as soon as we get home he takes them out again.

I told him he should see his dentist if he is having trouble, but he says he has already spent enough money on false teeth and he doesn't want to spend any more. His dentist is supposed to be one of the best in town. We have a small income, but I think this is important. I hate to nag him about it, but I don't know how much longer I can take this. He looks like an old man with his teeth out

THE REAL 'PAPER TIGER'

It is still a mystery why hopelessly outclassed North Viet Nam chose to take on the U. S. Navy.

Of the many explanations that have been offered, one is that North Viet Nam incited the blow against itself at this time in order to forestall a later series of sustained attacks on its hitherto privileged territory.

There have been rumblings from both the United States and South Viet Nam about carrying the war across the border into the north. The thinking is that North Viet Nam hoped to arouse world fears of the beginnings of World War III and thus force the United States into an international conference before it could carry out any military plans.

If this theory has plausibility, it suggests that North Viet Nam can place only limited reliance on the backing of Red China, and that it is Red China which is the real "paper tiger," afraid of any serious confrontation with its enemies. For war in and against North Viet Nam would give China no alternative but humiliation or involvement in war with the United States.

Whatever the explanation, it is difficult to see what the Communists have gained from this episode. They have not won world sympathy. The United States has made it clear it will not be intimidated. North Viet Nam has lost many ships and much of its naval support facilities.

As for a conference, President Johnson has stated that if all the participants in the 1954 Geneva Conference—which established the nations of North and South Viet Nam out of old French Indochina—lived up to their agreements, there would be no need for U. S. military presence in Southeast Asia, no need for a new international conference.

Now after the PT boat attacks, if a meeting is what the Communists want, it will be at our leisure.

Nearly 27 years ago, the U. S. gunboat Panay was shelled and sunk by the Japanese on the Yangtze River in China. There was not, and could not be, any retaliation from a virtually unarmed America. There was not, and could not be, any moral pressure put on militaristic Japan by the puny League of Nations, which the United States had chosen not to join.

One wonders what course history might have taken had the United States been strong enough to reply in kind to this instance of unprovoked aggression, as well as others that occurred in the '30s, or if the League had been the strong, respected body which its heir, the United Nations is today.

But it is not difficult to imagine what tomorrow's history would be like had the United States not responded with measured force to the actions of the North Vietnamese.

"Aggression unchallenged is aggression unleashed," said the President.

That is the lesson we learned from the Panay. That is the lesson it is to be hoped the Communists learned in the Gulf of Tonkin.

STOCKS ARE SKITTISH

Once again the stock market disproves the tedious doctrine that capitalism thrives on war. In three days of trading after the first ominous news from the Tonkin Gulf, the Dow-Jones industrial averages lost nearly 17 points.

The threat of further involvement on the part of American military forces in the Vietnamese affair precipitated the sharpest break in the market since the assassination of John F. Kennedy. The bearish prospects, however, are even greater during the present crisis than at that time. Experience proves that stocks do not do well when general conflagration looms.

The review of some past history will bear this out. The invasion of South Korea by Communists in 1950 gave the market a terrible shock. Values shrank more than five per cent in few days. The Cuban crisis of more recent memory produced the same reaction. Stocks sold off badly with the first announcement from the Whate House. Nor did they recover their forward momentum until Premier Khrushchev began dismantling Russian missile bases on that island.

Stock prices on today's market are even more vulnerable, primarily because they are at a higher level. For example, a five per cent decline currently would mean a loss of over 40 points on the averages. Until, therefore, some kind of settlement eases the Southeast Asian problem, stock prices are likely to be skittish. Nothing much else can be expected.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

YOU WORK FOR WHAT YOU GET

This columnist was brought up in New England by a grandmother who had almost pathological hatred of waste and always insisted that nobody ever really got anything for free. I remember her telling me about her honeymoon in the White Mountains of New Hampshire, when she and my grandfather were coming close to using up the money they had budgeted for the trip. They ate walnuts and drank brook water on the last day of the honeymoon, and thoroughly enjoyed it, at least in retrospect.

Since I am a prisoner of my own early conditioning, I am always skeptical of mass movements that seek to get things by political means. Probably because of attitudes that were ingrained in me by the time I was ten years old, I can only see vast disillusionment coming to the Negro leaders who hope, by demonstrating in the streets, to see all their economic grievances removed within twenty-four hours. I hear my grandmother say, "Everybody has to work for what he gets."

This is a ticklish subject when related to the race issue, and anyone who risks talking about it is apt to be condemned as unfeeling, or at least hopelessly old-fashioned. But it stands to reason that, once a law is passed guaranteeing that no man shall be refused service by a hotel, a restaurant, or a bus line because of his color, it does not automatically put money in his pocket to pay for that service. Nor does a Fair Employment Practices law automatically endow a person with the technical skill to run a lathe, or the necessary physical qualifications to model clothes. To quote John T. Hamner, the commonsensical editor of Florida's Bradenton Herald, "the civil rights law opens economic doors only to those Negroes who are trained, talented, willing to work, and able to compete with whites on an equal footing."

Nobody is asking me, but if I were a Negro leader I would, at this stage, tell my followers that the time for magnanimity had arrived. I would take both Lyndon Johnson and Barry Goldwater at their latest word, discounting Johnson's pre-1957 anti-integration attitudes on the one hand, and Goldwater's vote on the civil rights bill on the other. Since both candidates for the Presidency have promised enforcement of the civil rights law, I would tell my followers to stop all political agitation for a season and give two honorable men an opportunity to live up to their promises. But I would also promise that every infringement of the civil rights law would be fought to the bitter end in the courts. The law is the law.

This country is ready for an almost universal accommodation on the race issue if people would only stop pressing to add new law on top of the "almost new" civil rights legislation that was nursed through the U.S. Senate by Everett Dirksen and Hubert Humphrey. There is no reason to doubt the sincerity of the southern publisher who told me last spring at the publishers' meeting in New York City that he hoped the public accommodations law wouldn't pass, but if it did he and his readers "are quite prepared to obey it." This particular publisher knew that the South of his father's time was disappearing, but he rather hoped that the Federal government would let the states find their way to such things as public accommodation by themselves. His was not a fanatical attitude — and my questioning among southern delegates at the San Francisco Republican convention proved to my own satisfaction that there are many southerners like him.

The Negro in America has made terrific strides in recent years in producing a "talented tenth." Even as this is being written, the sports pages are acclaiming the victories on the tennis circuit of a 21-year-old Richmond, Virginia, Negro named Arthur Ashe. He has been beating the best in the game — and nobody cries him down in the tennis circles that used to be a by-word for snobbery. The point to be made is that when a talented tenth has cleared the way for any particular ethnic group, total acceptance isn't very far away. The Irish the Jews and the Italians can all testify to this. If the Negro leaders would only catch the signal, they would find plenty of doors opening. But they and their followers, like everyone else, would still have to work for what they got.

Stumping the experts has always been a favorite indoor sport. Recently at Detroit's Sinai Hospital, Dr. R. L. Ruskin was examining the day's crop of X-ray films when he ran across one that showed what appeared to be a small piece of metal in the intestines.

He asked Melvin Rosen, the senior medical student whom he was training, what he thought the object was and without a moment's hestiation he student said he believed it was a staple.

He then volunteered the information that, although people don't ordinarily make a habit of eating staples, they may be swallowed unconsciously by persons who, while absorbed in watching television or reading, are also nibbling potato chips. He knew this from personal experience while thus occupied he had caught himself just in time to spit out one of the staples used to seal the potato chip bag.

Dr. Ruskin wasn't ready to accept this explanation on the spot but decided to ask the patient a few questions. When he got to the patient's room he found the patient propped up in bed nibbling potato chips.

P.S., The television set was going.

P.P.S., Swallowed staples will pass through the digestive tract without doing any damage.

Q—After the birth of my first two babies, I could take salt on my food without retaining water but after the third baby I got waterlogged and can't take any salt. Why is this?

A—The retention of fluid by your tissues (edema) may be the result of a disease in your heart, kidneys or liver or it may be due to some dietary deficiency. Anything that causes salt to be retained in your tissues also causes retention of water. Pregnancy itself would not cause the edema but some complications of pregnancy such as eclampsia would. Because there are several causes of edema, no single line of treatment can be applied to all cases.

Q—My doctor says I have arteriosclerotic heart disease. Would drinking beer or whisky have any effect on this?

A—Although many doctors believe that alcohol has no direct harmful effect on the heart or arteries, you must take into consideration whether or not these alcoholic drinks tend to make you gain weight. Excess fat definitely puts an added burden on your heart.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Red Chinese are not well enough grounded economicallly to support any kind of major military enterprise against the United States in Southeast Asia.

While farm output is up markedly from the disastrous low levels of 1959-62, China's production today is barely back to 1957 figures. Yet population meantime has increased by 60 to 70 millions. Substaintial imports of grain are still required to provide a minimum diet for many.

A U. S. STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIAL SAYS China's industry today is operating well below the 1960 peak, after severe cutbacks in the intervening years.

The overreaching efforts of the ill-fated Great Leap Forward produced the fiasco of the early 1960s. Officials here indicate that Peking now is planning more modestly and sensibly, and slowly sorting out the chaos which followed the Great Leap.

Nevertheless, many large industrial plants are working far below capacity, and hoards of smaller ones are either just skimping along or are shut down.

Red China never has recovered from the mass exodus of Russian technicians in 1960 when the Sino-Soviet ideological split first developed seriously. It does not have the trained technical manpower even to make the necessary adjustments involved in heavy retrenchment, let alone cope with a growing industry.

Edwin P. Jones, a U. S. economist familiar with Chinese affairs, writes in a publication called "Problems of Communism:"

"China's prospects for relieving this situation quickly do not seem bright . . . It no longer hopes for rapid economic growth, but rather seeks to achieve stability while trying gradually to create the conditions necessary for renewed expansion and modernization."

Jones notes that Red China's economic problems are made more troublesome by the uncertainties of the "inevitably approaching succession."

Most of the present Communist Chinese leaders are in their 60's and must soon give way to younger men. The internal jockeying for positions among prospective successors is undoubtedly causing great ferment in top ruling circles.

A STURDY CLICHE asserts that totalitarian societies now and then seek foreign adventures to distract their depressed peoples from the stresses and strains of life at home.

In view of at least one American official, it is unlikely that such consideratations alone would drive Peking to mix more heavily now in the Vitenamese conflict.

As he sees it, distraction from economic distress was more necessary two years ago than it is today. Furthermore, he believes such an effort could be achieved more easily and more safely by huffing and puffing against the Chinese nationalists on Formosa — or some other standard target.

The Communist assaults on our destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin are seen in high quarters here as altogether too fool-hardy and risky to have been undertaken for such a purpose as distraction. This assumes, of course, that Peking was exerting maximum influence upon the North Vietnamese to launch the attacks.

IF THE CHINESE DID PLAY A KEY ROLE in spurring the attacks, U. S. government officials are as puzzled about their motives as about any which North Vietnamese leader Ho Chi Minh has had.

In a kind of desperation, authorities in Washington seem inevitably to come back to the notion that the Reds, whether the dominent influence was Hanoi or Peking, were bent on testing us and expected to find us soft.

Politicians on Both Sides Make Mountains of Hills

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Politicians in both parties, unfortunately, make mountains out of holehills and exaggerate the importance of certain occurrences which, if there were no political campaign going on, would hardly attract any attention.

When the Democrats, including high officials of the Administration, charged Sen. Goldwater with being "trigger-happy," they didn't have any real basis for that characterization. And the Republicans have just struck back with an accusation against President Johnson which is equally baseless.

The Democrats derived their twisted meaning out of a comment made by Sen. Goldwater to the effect that the commander of NATO forces should be given more discretion in handling tactical weapons in case of attack. From this proposal, which military men have long been discussing, came the charge that the Arizona Senator was "trigger-happy."

Now the shoe is presumably on the other foot. Republicans have made speeches in the House of Representatives accusing President Johnson of carelessly notifying the enemy of an impending attack, and this, it is claimed, amounts to "trigger-happy irresponsibility."

There is an understandable explanation, however, of what Mr. Johnson did, just as there is an understandable explanation of what Sen. Goldwater said in discussing his theory of military defense abroad. But today the debate has taken on the aspect of a major political issue, with the erroneous implications that either candidate is likely to perform his duties in an irresponsible way.

The tirade against the President started after he made his address last Tuesday night over the nation's radio and television networks disclosing the "positive reply" being made to attacks by North Vietnamese vessels against American ships. As he spoke, he revealed that the "reply is being given" and that "air action is now in execution."

Rep. Ed Forman of Texas, Republican, was the first to point out two days later that the enemy had had at least one and one-half hour's notice because, according to the Pentagon summary of the attack there had been this lapse of time after the President spoke before the planes hit their first target. The State Department and the Pentagon immediately offered the explanation that the President had been assured, when he went on the air, that the American planes were near enough to be detected by enemy radar.

This would normally have disposed of the issue, but within the last 24 hours the UPI sent out a dispatch from its correspondent abroad the aircraft carrier Ticonderoga, quoting Rear Adm. Robert B. Moore, commander of the American task force which attacked North Vietnam last Wednesday, as saying:

"I don't believe they were on the radar when the President started speaking."

The Admiral added that he didin't think advance notice could have been of any importance anyway, since the attacking U. S. force was so far superior to its opposition.

Rep. Foreman, however, charged in the House that Mr. Johnson was guilty of 'trigger-happy irresponsibility," and added:

"Never before in recent history has there been demonstrated such high-level international military irresponsibility. The Pentagon's and the President's awkward attempts to cover up this grandstanding political play only goes to prove how irresponsible the announcement was."

Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, the Democratic leader, promptly responded as follows:

"No President of the United States for political gain would ever do, or ever in history has done, anything to jeopardize the lives of our troops. The gentleman's statement . . .is untrue."

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, Republican leader in the House, then got into the debate. He pointed out that, at a White House briefing early Tuesday evening — before the President spoke to the nation — the members of Congress from both parties who attended were cautioned against any disclosure of the coming attack lest Russian or Red Chinese planes be able to intercept the U. S. aircraft.

Mr. Halleck added that all those in attendance at the White House briefing were told specifically that no announcement would be made "until the planes were over the target." He declared that the President's statement was being broadcast before the American planes were over the target.

Now of what avail are all these tit-for-tat charges? There could perhaps be a constructive result — if both Democrats and Republicans, recognizing the futility of such a debate, stopped accusing each other of military irresponsibility and began putting their minds on the really important issues of the national campaign.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The old man was dying. He was doing it the right way — slowly, painlessly and consciously. The I.V. jars hung over his bed, dripping into tubes which, somehow, had found a few veins not collapsed. The Old Man had asked the nurse—the starchy one with the blue b.b. eyes and the automatic smile—to take them out, that they were useless. He knew he was going.

"No," she said, singing the words as though injecting cheer into dreadness, "we must try hard to get well, mustn't we?" The Old Man watched her from the wrinkled sheet. Middle-aged and single, he thought. Can't stand a man because she can't stand herself.

"Please get me two more pillows," he said, and the cheeks flapped like loose sneakers because they had taken his teeth away. The nurse thought about it. She tried to think of a medical reason why he couldn't have the pillows, but she couldn't. At last she got two and fluffed them up, and lifted the old head and placed them behind him.

He tried to reach a bony hand to rub his chin, but his wrists had been strapped to the bed so that he wouldn't break the I.V. needles. "I need a shave," he said. "What day is it?" Tuesday evening, she said. "Well," he said, shaking his head with resignation, "I must look like Santa Claus."

She sat on the edge of the bed to listen for a moment. He was a bright old codger. Sometimes, in the past two weeks, he had come up with some cute ideas. He told her that he had been born in this old house. She nodded, and said she knew. He had told her before.

"Well," he said, "I'm 87 and I never would have dreamed that the place would outlast me." He looked around at the faded wallpaper, the walnut washstand, and the morris chair which had burst its seams. "We never know, do we?" she said. He nodded emphatically.

"I came here an innocent babe," he said softly. "I leave laden with crimes." The nurse said she wouldn't say that. The Old Man smiled. "You wouldn't know," he said. "In my time, I think I broke all the commandments. Now I make a journey to the great perhaps." He grinned, and his face seemed to fall apart. "'Either there is a God, or there is no God. There are no other alternatives young lady. And I will be punished, or I will float off into silent darkness. One or the other."

Personally, she said, she believed in God. "So do I," he said brightly, and the old head came up off the pillow. "So do I." The head went back. "But that doesn't make it so." He thought a moment. "Looking back, I would say that I had a successful life and an unhappy one." He saw the frown. "'You don't think they go together?" The nurse shrugged.

"I made a lot of money," the Old Man said, "and I had a lot of women and wine in my time." He shook his head from side to side. "None of it was worth a tinker's dam." The nurse regarded him closely. He appeared to be rambling a little, and this might precede a comatose state.

"Add it up," he said slyly. "When I got rich, I emptied other men's pockets; when I made love to the ladies, I was yanking them off their little pedestals; when I emptied bottles, I was filling my head with crazy dreams." She smoothed the skirt, and decided to get up and go back to work.

"The doctor will be here soon," she said. The Old Man smiled. "He isn't going to do me any good and you know it. I'm going, and I'm glad. I never told this to anybody before, but my life practically started off on the wrong foot. I was 10 years old, miss. Ten. I was washing in that basin over there one morning and there was a knock on my bedroom door. I opened it and a policeman was standing outside. He said my mother and father had been killed in the family carriage, at a railroad crossing."

The nurse shook her head in sympathy. "Do you know what that does to a 10-year-old?" the Old Man said. "Do you realize that the guts turn to jelly and the mind freezes? I never got over it. It was the God-awful moment of my life. When I grew up, I used to leave doors open, so that people wouldn't knock. I couldn't stand it."

"Well," she said cheerfully, "you had your fun." He nodded slowly. "I suppose," he said. "But most of it was at the expense of others. I tell you, miss, I'm sagging with sin. That is exactly why I would like to know for certain if there is a hereafter. If there is, I'm going to be punished. The worst would be to have to live it all over again."

It was morning when he awakened. He knew he had been dreaming. It took time to reassemble his mind. Then he jumped up, and went to the washstand, shivering. The house was cold. He looked at his rumpled black hair, the boyish face, and he thought how good it was to be 10 years old.

Then he thought about the dream, and the childish face was troubled. How could he have dreamt he was a dying old man? How could it have been so real? The room was cold and he hurried to the washstand, and broke the film of ice in the water. He was trying to forget the bad dream. Then he heard a knock on the door.

In the room, the nurse packed her things. The doctor was writing on a pad. "When?" he said. She thought a moment. "About an hour ago, doctor. He just sighed, and I hurried over, but the Old Man was gone . . ."

THE REAL 'PAPER TIGER'

It is still a mystery why hopelessly outclassed North Viet Nam chose to take on the U. S. Navy.

Of the many explanations that have been offered, one is that North Viet Nam incited the blow against itself at this time in order to forestall a later series of sustained attacks on its hitherto privileged territory.

There have been rumblings from both the United States and South Viet Nam about carrying the war across the border into the north. The thinking is that North Viet Nam hoped to arouse world fears of the beginnings of World War III and thus force the United States into an international conference before it could carry out any military plans.

If this theory has plausibility, it suggests that North Viet Nam can place only limited reliance on the backing of Red China, and that it is Red China which is the real "paper tiger," afraid of any serious confrontation with its enemies. For war in and against North Viet Nam would give China no alternative but humiliation or involvement in war with the United States.

Whatever the explanation, it is difficult to see what the Communists have gained from this episode. They have not won world sympathy. The United States has made it clear it will not be intimidated. North Viet Nam has lost many ships and much of its naval support facilities.

As for a conference, President Johnson has stated that if all the participants in the 1954 Geneva Conference—which established the nations of North and South Viet Nam out of old French Indochina—lived up to their agreements, there would be no need for U. S. military presence in Southeast Asia, no need for a new international conference.

Now after the PT boat attacks, if a meeting is what the Communists want, it will be at our leisure.

Nearly 27 years ago, the U. S. gunboat Panay was shelled and sunk by the Japanese on the Yangtze River in China. There was not, and could not be, any retaliation from a virtually unarmed America. There was not, and could not be, any moral pressure put on militaristic Japan by the puny League of Nations, which the United States had chosen not to join.

One wonders what course history might have taken had the United States been strong enough to reply in kind to this instance of unprovoked aggression, as well as others that occurred in the '30s, or if the League had been the strong, respected body which its heir, the United Nations is today.

But it is not difficult to imagine what tomorrow's history would be like had the United States not responded with measured force to the actions of the North Vietnamese.

"Aggression unchallenged is aggression unleashed," said the President.

That is the lesson we learned from the Panay. That is the lesson it is to be hoped the Communists learned in the Gulf of Tonkin.

STOCKS ARE SKITTISH

Once again the stock market disproves the tedious doctrine that capitalism thrives on war. In three days of trading after the first ominous news from the Tonkin Gulf, the Dow-Jones industrial averages lost nearly 17 points.

The threat of further involvement on the part of American military forces in the Vietnamese affair precipitated the sharpest break in the market since the assassination of John F. Kennedy. The bearish prospects, however, are even greater during the present crisis than at that time. Experience proves that stocks do not do well when general conflagration looms.

The review of some past history will bear this out. The invasion of South Korea by Communists in 1950 gave the market a terrible shock. Values shrank more than five per cent in few days. The Cuban crisis of more recent memory produced the same reaction. Stocks sold off badly with the first announcement from the Whate House. Nor did they recover their forward momentum until Premier Khrushchev began dismantling Russian missile bases on that island.

Stock prices on today's market are even more vulnerable, primarily because they are at a higher level. For example, a five per cent decline currently would mean a loss of over 40 points on the averages. Until, therefore, some kind of settlement eases the Southeast Asian problem, stock prices are likely to be skittish. Nothing much else can be expected.

YOU WORK FOR WHAT YOU GET

This columnist was brought up in New England by a grandmother who had almost pathological hatred of waste and always insisted that nobody ever really got anything for free. I remember her telling me about her honeymoon in the White Mountains of New Hampshire, when she and my grandfather were coming close to using up the money they had budgeted for the trip. They ate walnuts and drank brook water on the last day of the honeymoon, and thoroughly enjoyed it, at least in retrospect.

Since I am a prisoner of my own early conditioning, I am always skeptical of mass movements that seek to get things by political means. Probably because of attitudes that were ingrained in me by the time I was ten years old, I can only see vast disillusionment coming to the Negro leaders who hope, by demonstrating in the streets, to see all their economic grievances removed within twenty-four hours. Most of the present Communist Chinese leaders are in their 60's and must soon give way to younger men. The internal jockeying for positions among prospective successors is undoubtedly causing great ferment in top ruling circles.

A STURDY CLICHE asserts that totalitarian societies now and then seek foreign adventures to distract their depressed peoples from the stresses and strains of life at home.

In view of at least one American official, it is unlikely that such consideratalons alone would drive Peking to mix more heavily now in the Vitenamese conflict.

As he sees it, distraction from economic distress was more necessary two years ago than it is today. Furthermore, he believes such an effort could be achieved more easily and more safely by huffing and puffing against the Chinese nationalists on Formosa — or some other standard target.

The Communist assaults on our destroyers in the Gulf of Tonkin are seen in high quarters here as altogether too fool-hardy and risky to have been undertaken for such a purpose as distraction. This assumes, of course, that Peking was exerting maximum influence upon the North Vietnamese to launch the attacks.

IF THE CHINESE DID PLAY A KEY ROLE in spurring the attacks, U. S. government officials are as puzzled about their motives as about any which North Vietnamese leader Ho Chi Minh has had.

In a kind of desperation, authorities in Washington seem inevitably to come back to the notion that the Reds, whether the dominent influence was Hanoi or Peking, were bent on testing us and expected to find us soft.

Politicians on Both Sides Make Mountains of Hills

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Politicians in both parties, unfortunately, make mountains out of holehills and exaggerate the importance of certain occurrences which, if there were no political campaign going on, would hardly attract any attention.

When the Democrats, including high officials of the Administration, charged Sen. Goldwater with being "trigger-happy," they didn't have any real basis for that characterization. And the Republicans have just struck back with an accusation against President Johnson which is equally baseless.

The Democrats derived their twisted meaning out of a comment made by Sen. Goldwater to the effect that the commander of NATO forces should be given more discretion in handling tactical weapons in case of attack. From this proposal, which military men have long been discussing, came the charge that the Arizona Senator was "trigger-happy."

Now the shoe is presumably on the other foot. Republicans have made speeches in the House of Representatives accusing President Johnson of carelessly notifying the enemy of an impending attack, and this, it is claimed, amounts to "trigger-happy irresponsibility."

There is an understandable explanation, however, of what Mr. Johnson did, just as there is an understandable explanation of what Sen. Goldwater said in discussing his theory of military defense abroad. But today the debate has taken on the aspect of a major political issue, with the erroneous implications that either candidate is likely to perform his duties in an irresponsible way.

The tirade against the President started after he made his address last Tuesday night over the nation's radio and television networks disclosing the "positive reply" being made to attacks by North Vietnamese vessels against American ships. As he spoke, he revealed that the "reply is being given" and that "air action is now in execution."

Rep. Ed Forman of Texas, Republican, was the first to point out two days later that the enemy had had at least one and one-half hour's notice because, according to the Pentagon summary of the attack there had been this lapse of time after the President spoke before the planes hit their first target. The State Department and the Pentagon immediaely offered the explanation that the President had been assured, when he went on the air, that the American planes were near enough to be detected by enemy radar.

This would normally have disposed of the issue, but within the last 24 hours the UPI sent out a dispatch from its correspondent abaod the aircraft carrier Ticonderoga, quoting Rear Adm. Robert B. Moore, commander of the American task force which attacked North Vietnam last Wednesday, as saying:

"I don't believe they were on the radar when the President started speaking."

The Admiral added that he didin't think advance notice could have been of any importance anyway, since the attacking U. S. force was so far superior to its opposition.

Rep. Foreman, however, charged in the House that Mr. Johnson was guilty of 'trigger-happy irresponsibility," and added:

"Never before in recent history has there been demonstrated such high-level international military irresponsibility. The Pentagon's and the President's awkward attempts to cover up this grandstanding political play only goes to prove how irresponsible the announcement was."

Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma, the Democratic leader, promptly responded as follows:

"No President of the United States for political gain would ever do, or ever in history has done, anything to jeopardize the lives of our troops. The gentleman's statement . . .is untrue."

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, Republican leader in the House, then got into the debate. He pointed out that, at a White House briefing early Tuesday evening — before the President spoke to the nation — the members of Congress from both parties who attended were cautioned against any disclosure of the coming attack lest Russian or Red Chinese planes be able to intercept the U. S. aircraft.

Mr. Halleck added that all those in attendance at the White House briefing were told specifically that no announcement would be made "until the planes were over the target." He declared that the President's statement was being broadcast before the American planes were over the target.

Now of what avail are all these tit-for-tat charges? There could perhaps be a constructive result — if both Democrats and Republicans, recognizing the futility of such a debate, stopped accusing each other of military irresponsibility and began putting their minds on the really important issues of the national campaign.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The old man was dying. He was doing it the right way — slowly, painlessly and consciously. The I.V. jars hung over his bed, dripping into tubes which, somehow, had found a few veins not collapsed. The Old Man had asked the nurse—the starchy one with the blue b.b. eyes and the automatic smile—to take them out, that they were useless. He knew he was going.

"No," she said, singing the words as though injecting cheer into dreadness, "we must try hard to get well, mustn't we?" The Old Man watched her from the wrinkled sheet. Middle-aged and single, he thought. Can't stand a man because she can't stand herself.

"Please get me two more pillows," he said, and the cheeks flapped like loose sneakers because they had taken his teeth away. The nurse thought about it. She tried to think of a medical reason why he couldn't have the pillows, but she couldn't. At last she got two and fluffed them up, and lifted the old head and placed them behind him.

He tried to reach a bony hand to rub his chin, but his wrists had been strapped to the bed so that he wouldn't break the I.V. needles. "I need a shave," he said. "What day is it?" Tuesday evening, she said. "Well," he said, shaking his head with resignation, "I must look like Santa Claus."

She sat on the edge of the bed to listen for a moment. He was a bright old codger. Sometimes, in the past two weeks, he had come up with some cute ideas. He told her that he had been born in this old house. She nodded, and said she knew. He had told her before.

"Well," he said, "I'm 87 and I never would have dreamed that the place would outlast me." He looked around at the faded wallpaper, the walnut washstand, and the morris chair which had burst its seams. "We never know, do we?" she said. He nodded emphatically.

"I came here an innocent babe," he said softly. "I leave laden with crimes." The nurse said she wouldn't say that. The Old Man smiled. "You wouldn't know," he said. "In my time, I think I broke all the commandments. Now I make a journey to the great perhaps." He grinned, and his face seemed to fall apart. "Either there is a God, or there is no God. There are no other alternatives young lady. And I will be punished, or I will float off into silent darkness. One or the other."

Personally, she said, she believed in God. "So do I," he said brightly, and the old head came up off the pillow. "So do I." The head went back. "But that doesn't make it so." He thought a moment. "Looking back, I would say that I had a successful life and an unhappy one." He saw the frown. "You don't think they go together?" The nurse shrugged.

"I made a lot of money," the Old Man said, "and I had a lot of women and wine in my time." He shook his head from side to side. "None of it was worth a tinker's dam." The nurse regarded him closely. He appeared to be rambling a little, and this might precede a comatose state.

"Add it up," he said slyly. "When I got rich, I emptied other men's pockets; when I made love to the ladies, I was yanking them off their little pedestals; when I emptied bottles, I was filling my head with crazy dreams." She smoothed the skirt, and decided to get up and go back to work.

"The doctor will be here soon," she said. The Old Man smiled. "He isn't going to do me any good and you know it. I'm going, and I'm glad. I never told this to anybody before, but my life practically started off on the wrong foot. I was 10 years old, miss. Ten. I was washing in that basin over there one morning and there was a knock on my bedroom door. I opened it and a policeman was standing outside. He said my mother and father had been killed in the family carriage, at a railroad crossing."

The nurse shook her head in sympathy. "Do you know what that does to a 10-year-old?" the Old Man said. "Do you realize that the guts turn to jelly and the mind freezes? I never got over it. It was the God-awful moment of my life. When I grew up, I used to leave doors open, so that people wouldn't knock. I couldn't stand it."

"Well," she said cheerfully, "you had your fun." He nodded slowly. "I suppose," he said. "But most of it was at the expense of others. I tell you, miss, I'm sagging with sin. That is exactly why I would like to know for certain if there is a hereafter. If there is, I'm going to be punished. The worst would be to have to live it all over again."

It was morning when he awakened. He knew he had been dreaming. It took time to reassemble his mind. Then he jumped up, and went to the washstand, shivering. The house was cold. He looked at his rumpled black hair, the boyish face, and he thought how good it was to be 10 years old.

Then he thought about the dream, and the childish face was troubled. How could he have dreamt he was a dying old man? How could it have been so real? The room was cold and he hurried to the washstand, and broke the film of ice in the water. He was trying to forget the bad dream. Then he heard a knock on the door.

In the room, the nurse packed her things. The doctor was writing on a pad. "When?" he said. She thought a moment. "About an hour ago, doctor. He just sighed, and I hurried over, but the Old Man was gone . . ."

Wild Statements Are Often Just Usual Campaign Oratory

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the marvels of politics is the way politicians can adjust to situations.

Take this Republican unity meeting today at Hershey, Pa. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential nominee, sent out the invitations to Republican governors and gubernatorial nominees.

And the host is Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Just a few weeks ago, Scranton was doing his best to keep the presidential nomination away from Goldwater. He went about the country saying Goldwater should be rejected, that "we need in the White House a leader who thinks clearly, who doesn't shoot from the hip."

For another illustration of how a politician can rise above strong words, look at Goldwater himself.

"Having opposed civil rights until this year, let him make an issue of it." I'll just repeat back to him the thousands of words he has spoken.

"Lyndon Johnson is the biggest faker in the United States. He's the phoniest individual that ever came around."

Before the month was out, Goldwater and Johnson sat down in the White House and talked about the civil rights issue, how to keep from inflaming racial passions.

Goldwater told newsmen the atmosphere at the meeting was good, "we're good friends. We're old political friends."

One of the classic examples of a politician sidestepping a heat-of-the campaign remark came in February 1941, when Wendell L. Willkie was questioned by a senate committee.

Willkie had run against Franklin D. Roosevelt for president the year before and had declared that, "On the basis of Roosevelt's past performance with pledges to the people, you may expect that we will be at war by April 1941, if he is elected."

Willkie was asked at the committee hearing, "Do you still agree that might be the case?" He replied:

"It might be. It was a bit of campaign oratory."

To cap this discussion of political flexibility, there is a story that former Rep. Brooks Hays of Arkansas tells.

A congressman's friend told him, "Jim, I've just come back from your district and Bill Jones is going to run against you."

"Well, I'm not surprised," the congressman said. "He is a dirty skunk and there is no good in him."

"And furthermore," the friend said, "Charlie Smith is going to help him run."

"They're two of a kind," the congressman reacted. "Scoundrels, both of them."

Then the friend broke down and admitted he had been teasing. He had made up the whole story, that, in fact, Bill and Charlie were both strong for the congressman's re-election.

Reproachfully, the congressman told his caller:

"Now look what you've done. You've made me say ugly things about two of the finest, sweetest characters who ever lived."

Kingston Library Serves Residents Of Entire County

A recent study of the registered users of the Kingston City Library shows that 28.9 per cent of all adult and young adult users are not residents of the City of Kingston.

This study, according to Don Sager, the library director, is just one phase of a series of studies being made to determine how the library can best meet the needs of the community it serves.

According to these results, Sager noted, the Kingston City Library serves people in just about every corner of Ulster County, and even a small percentage of people outside the county.

Sager added that the study of registered borrowers does not include those persons using the library's reference and periodical colections or requesting information by phone.

At the present time any adult who is not a resident of the City of Kingston, or who does not own property in Kingston, can use the library by paying a $2 per year fee.

Kingston is in a peculiar situation, Sager noted, because according to 1964 statistics it is one the few cities of its size which does not actually have a public library. The Kingston City Library is an association library. This means that it actually belongs to an association of members. It is managed by a Board of Trustees elected by these members.

The city grants the library $29,000 a year, and in return the library has been able to offer free library service to the city.

Ulster County is also in an unusual position, Sager added, because it does not have any county library. Well over half of the counties in the United States have libraries. Many people, Sager said, are under the mistaken impression that the Kingston City Library is a county library. Statistics from the study of the library show, he noted, that the library seems to have assumed that position, but it does not receive county funds.

Almost every community in Ulster County has at least some people who are registered at the Kingston City Library. This is probably due to the size of the library's collection, its hours, location, and its services.

The library, Sager noted, welcomes this usage. However, it is hard pressed to meet those needs.

The studies show that the largest category of persons which use the library are students. Any student who attends one of the schools in the Kingston Consolidated School District can use the library without charge. Yet 34 per cent of those students who are registered are not residents of Kingston. The library receives no tax support for these students. The parents of these students compound the problem by using their child's card at the library.

These are just some of many facts which the studies have shown so far, Sager noted.

Paltz Fire Razes Old Stone House, Ohioville Road

Fire destroyed an old two-story stone house Tuesday on the North Ohioville Road near New Paltz. Four fire companies responded to the alarm.

While New Paltz fire fighters were battling that blaze, Gardiner volunteers who had been summoned to stand by for them, were called to another blaze which leveled an outbuilding on Rifton Road.

Fire Chief Peter Savago, New Paltz, said the first blaze was in the home of Joseph Ungerland. He said that Clintondale, Tillson and Rifton also responded with the latter two companies bringing in water supplies, but the home was a total loss. It was unoccupied at the time of the fire. Chief Savago said the fire might have started in the area of the furnace.

Gardiner and New Paltz volunteers responded to the second call. Savago said a grass fire ignited and destroyed an outbuilding in the rear of the Louis Pucino property.

New Paltz returned to service about 2 p. m. after about 2½ hours of firefighting.

Trial Progresses; Man Charged in Slaying of Couple

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The prosecution summoned witnesses today in the trial of Herbert L. Shockey, 30, an ex-convict, charged with the slaying of an Upstate New York couple.

A jury of nine women and three men was selected Tuesday after more than 30 prospective jurors had been eliminated because they said they would not return a death penalty.

Under Arizona law, juries in first-degree murder cases impose a penalty of death or life imprisonment if they return a verdict of guilty.

Shockey is accused of the slaying of Mr. and Mrs. John Bertella, who were shot and stabbed to death Feb. 23 at the base of the Superstition Mountains, about 40 miles east of Phoenix.

Washout to Close Section of Erie Canal for 9 Days

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Washout damage at Lock 9 will keep a 26-mile section of the Erie Canal closed for about nine days, the State Public Works Department reports.

The department sent divers to inspect the bottom of Lock 9 Tuesday and reported later that the damage was under the dam.

Engineers estimated that the lock would be reopened on Aug. 21. The section closed to traffic is between Lock 7 in Schenectady County and Lock 11 at Amsterdam. It was closed Monday after discovery of a leak.

While repairs are under way, the department said, one-way traffic will be enforced on the bridge by which Route 103 crosses Lock 9, also in Schenectady County. Repair equipment will be installed on one side of the bridge.

New Cures Given For Curing Corns

NEW YORK (AP) — Painful corns disappear with injections of a spongy plastic between the corn and the bone underneath, reports Dr. Irwin Acker of Greensboro, N.C.

He told the annual meeting of the American Podiatry Association Tuesday, "The plastic acts as a mattress or shock absorber that takes pressure off the afflicted area."

He said he successfully treated six corn sufferers with silicone-rubber materials used in plastic surgery. He said pain stops the first day and the corn disappears after a few days.

Food Stamp Bill Is Sent to President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has stamped its final approval on the food stamp bill and sent it to President Johnson for his signature.

Final congressional action on the measure came Tuesday when the House accepted the Senate version, in which only minor changes had been made.

The bill expands and makes permanent a pilot program now in operation in 43 counties. Under the program, needy families get $10 worth of food stamps for $6 in cash. The stamps can be spent at grocery stores for almost any food item.

The plan is expected to cost $25 million the first year, $75 million the next, $100 million the third year and $200 million for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1967.

Miss California Is 'The American Beauty'

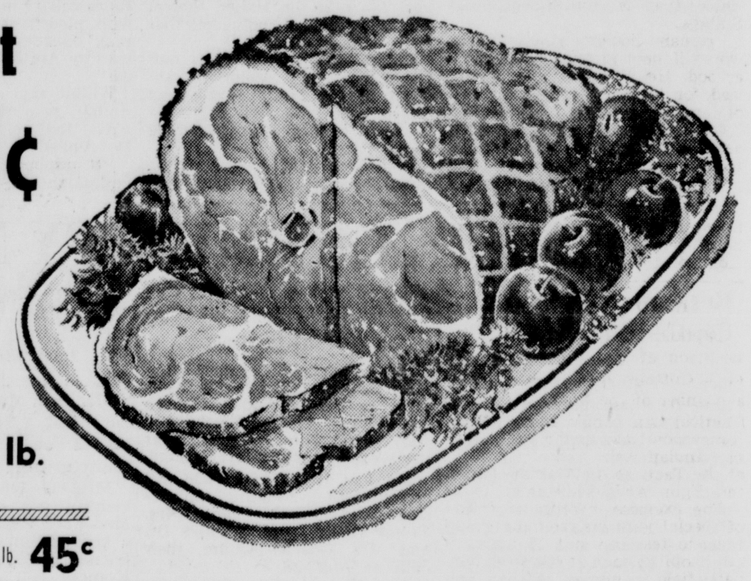

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) Miss California, 18-year-old Linda Ann Taylor, was named "The American Beauty" Tuesday night at the International Beauty Congress.

The statuesque beauty from San Diego will compete with contestants of 46 other nations for the title of "Miss International Beauty," who will be crowned Friday afternoon.

Miss Taylor, a brown-eyed, brown-haired outdoors type, was chosen over 14 other semifinalists.

Israeli Officer Submits Critique of U. S. Marines

By BEM PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once upon a time, a U.S. Marine Corps squad was supposed to consist of 16 men and a publicity sergeant.

This was, of course, sour grapes from Army types.

President Harry S. Truman once accused the Marines of possessing a "propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's."

Truman couldn't have done worse if he had criticized motherhood. He subsequently apologized for his "unfortunate choice of language."

In brief, it usually is about as safe to criticize Marines as it is to lift beagles by their ears.

Independent Critique

Now, practically for the first time in living memory, there has been an independent critique of the Marines which has been published recently although in Hebrew.

It is addressed to the question: Are the Marines really as good as they say they are?

While it is a natural question, it is one that would never occur to a Marine.

The critique was written by a lieutenant colonel named Shaked — first name unavailable — and appeared as a two-part series in the magazine "Ma'Arakhoth," official publication of the Israeli general staff.

Strictly Impartial

With fine impartiality, Lt. Col. Shaked, who was one of seven Israeli officers who spent a year observing the Marines, found 14 things to the Marines' credit and 14 which he considered were on the debit side.

In general, Shaked found that the high self-esteem with which the Marines customarily regard themselves was justified.

In passing, it might be noted that there is an affinity between the Israeli armed forces and the Marines which goes back over 15 years and may come as a surprise even to Shaked.

Long-time Secret

One of the best-kept secrets of those years is the fact that a few Marine Reservists helped train some of the Israeli commandos shortly after the nation was formed in 1948.

Anyhow, Shaked really found only two things he classed as really major faults. One involved officers and the other, night operations.

By Israeli standards, Shaked said, Marine officers were "too orthodox;" they preferred "the safe and easy course of doing everything by the book as taught at Marine Corps schools."

Don't Take Risks

He added that the Marine officers were "unwilling to risk daring and unorthodox solutions."

Shaked also found that Marine junior officers were too young and inexperienced in relation to their noncommissioned officers. He noted that only 25 per cent of the Marine's officers came up from the ranks whereas all officers in the Israeli army had served at least a year as an enlisted man.

The lieutenant colonel was critical of what he said was a lack of emphasis on operations at night and during bad weather. It is at these times, he said, that surprise attacks could be improvised and carried out.

These criticisms aside, Shaked characterized the Marines as a unique, outstanding outfit "without a parallel among the best armies in the world."

Shaked concluded that the Israeli armed forces could learn a great deal from the Marines.

Set Dairymen Meet

The Board of Directors of Eastern Milk Producers meeting at Syracuse on August 6, developed preliminary plans to sponsor a mass meeting of milkshed dairymen at Morris, N. Y. on August 29.

According to President Howard Merrill, Walton, speakers of Statet and National importance will address dairymen from all parts of the milkshed. Inquiries have been made of Eastern Milk Producers from dairymen throughout the milkshed as to what the organization is doing in the way of price relief.

Eastern's four program has been developed and will be reported at the meeting. The Association is heretofore calling this meeting to firm up the attitude of all producers in this respect. The meeting is one of the large milk producing areas of New York State that is also badly affected by the drought. It is anticipated that action may be developed at this large meeting that might well lead toward the preservation of the family size farm.

Israeli Officer Submits Critique of U. S. Marines

By BEM PRICE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once upon a time, a U.S. Marine Corps squad was supposed to consist of 16 men and a publicity sergeant.

This was, of course, sour grapes from Army types.

President Harry S. Truman once accused the Marines of possessing a "propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's."

Truman couldn't have done worse if he had criticized motherhood. He subsequently apologized for his "unfortunate choice of language."

In brief, it usually is about as safe to criticize Marines as it is to lift beagles by their ears.

Independent Critique

Now, practically for the first time in living memory, there has been an independent critique of the Marines which has been published recently although in Hebrew.

It is addressed to the question: Are the Marines really as good as they say they are?

While it is a natural question, it is one that would never occur to a Marine.

The critique was written by a lieutenant colonel named Shaked — first name unavailable — and appeared as a two-part series in the magazine "Ma'Arakhoth," official publication of the Israeli general staff.

Strictly Impartial

With fine impartiality, Lt. Col. Shaked, who was one of seven Israeli officers who spent a year observing the Marines, found 14 things to the Marines' credit and 14 which he considered were on the debit side.

In general, Shaked found that the high self-esteem with which the Marines customarily regard themselves was justified.

In passing, it might be noted that there is an affinity between the Israeli armed forces and the Marines which goes back over 15 years and may come as a surprise even to Shaked.

Long-time Secret

One of the best-kept secrets of those years is the fact that a few Marine Reservists helped train some of the Israeli commandos shortly after the nation was formed in 1948.

Anyhow, Shaked really found only two things he classed as really major faults. One involved officers and the other, night operations.

By Israeli standards, Shaked said, Marine officers were "too orthodox;" they preferred "the safe and easy course of doing everything by the book as taught at Marine Corps schools."

Don't Take Risks

He added that the Marine officers were "unwilling to risk daring and unorthodox solutions."

Shaked also found that Marine junior officers were too young and inexperienced in relation to their noncommissioned officers. He noted that only 25 per cent of the Marine's officers came up from the ranks whereas all officers in the Israeli army had served at least a year as an enlisted man.

The lieutenant colonel was critical of what he said was a lack of emphasis on operations at night and during bad weather. It is at these times, he said, that surprise attacks could be improvised and carried out.

These criticisms aside, Shaked characterized the Marines as a unique, outstanding outfit "without a parallel among the best armies in the world."

Shaked concluded that the Israeli armed forces could learn a great deal from the Marines.

In Strategy Force

Captain Thomas L. McNierney, son of Mrs. Rose Rafferty of 6 Cottage Row, Kingston is a member of the U. S. Air Force Tactical Air Command (TAC) forces now taking part in Exercise Indian River being conduted at the Tactical Air Warfare Center, Eglin AFB, Valparaiso, Fla.

The exercise involves a series of special joint air-ground operations to test concepts of tactical air mobility and firepower for battlefield support of ground troops.

Captain McNierney is a pilot. He recently was selected for assignment to the Tactical Air Warfare Center to asist in staging the exercise which will continue into early September.

His wife, Virginia, is the daughter of Mrs. Delia Lewis of Olive Bridge.

Set Dairymen Meet

The Board of Directors of Eastern Milk Producers meeting at Syracuse on August 6, developed preliminary plans to sponsor a mass meeting of milkshed dairymen at Morris, N. Y. on August 29.

According to President Howard Merrill, Walton, speakers of Statet and National importance will address dairymen from all parts of the milkshed. Inquiries have been made of Eastern Milk Producers from dairymen throughout the milkshed as to what the organization is doing in the way of price relief.

Eastern's four program has been developed and will be reported at the meeting. The Association is heretofore calling this meeting to firm up the attitude of all producers in this respect. The meeting is one of the large milk producing areas of New York State that is also badly affected by the drought. It is anticipated that action may be developed at this large meeting that might well lead toward the preservation of the family size farm.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Political rally, Hollywood style—

"You are cordially invited to join us at a barbecue honoring Miss Luci Baines Johnson and United States Senator Birch Bayh, no solicitation of funds." The telegram was signed: Young Citizens for Johnson Committee — co-chairmen: Natalie Wood, Steve McQueen; entertainment chairman, Vic Damone.

Cool to Fotogs

So I went. The scene of the barbecue was a sportswear maker's estate in the heart of Beverly Hills.

Arriving at the same time were Warren Beatty and Leslie Caron, who were perhaps expecting a smoke-filled room. They were startled to find photographers snapping them, and they promptly turned around and left.

The big backyard was festive with tables placed around the Roman pool, in the middle of which was a fern-covered float with LBJ spelled out in daisies. A rope barrier was strung around the pool, perhaps out of politicians' wariness of total immersion.

The real action was on the tennis court, where the youthful crowd sipped beer or soft drinks, munched on ribs, chicken and cole slaw, and strained for glimpses of the most-famous Democrats. Luci Baines obliged them by meeting the guests at each table. Perky in a white dress, her dark hair shielding one eye in what was once known as Veronica Lake style, she netted a blistered palm for her trouble.

The genial chairmen received visitors at a table. McQueen said he was strong for President Johnson but wouldn't be able to campaign much "because I'm representing our country in the European road races."

Many Turned Away

Miss Wood said she was proud to be on the steering committee of the Young Democrats for Johnson and, in show biz style, was counting the house. They hoped for 400 for the barbecue, had to turn away many after the 1,100-capacity was reached. Cost for the young Demos: $5 a head.

Senator Bayh, D-Ind., at 36, fitted into the young assemblage with no difficulty. He said the rally was one of 17 across the country "to get the teens,' 20s and 30s onto the Johnson team." He is helping to spearhead the drive, but he added his duties do not include learning the Watusi.

Luci Baines displayed her Watusi style in a duet with McQueen.

Union Scores Use Of Peace Corps In Mental Wards

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Assignment of domestic peace corps workers to mental hospitals will create unemployment among regular workers, a union official says.

Alfred Wurf, executive director of Council 50 of the AFL-CIO Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, made that charge in reference to the anti-poverty bill that received final congressional approval Tuesday.

Wurf called for elimination of a section in the bill "whereby domestic peace corpsmen will be assigned to work in mental hospitals."

In a telegram to President Johnson and New York Sens. Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating, Wurf said:

"We feel that this section will create involuntary scabs who threaten the job security and salary-improvement program of our union in these hospitals."

Wurf said he would call on Johnson to seek further revision by Congress before signing the measure, approved by the Senate yesterday.

Johnson has said the measure was designed to provide work for idle young people and help in removing low-income families from welfare rolls.

Wurf also said the union might picket mental hospitals to demonstrate its protest.

Bondsmen Demand Police Chief Resign

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Five bail bondsmen picketed the chief of police Tuesday with signs demanding his resignation.

But Chief C. I. Robb announced his retirement the day before, so why the demonstration?

"Well," explained one, who with the others is mad because they aren't allowed offices alongside six other bondsmen in the jail, "we had the signs painted before the retirement and we thought we might just as well use them."

Foresee '64 Crop Second Largest If Drought Curbed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department predicts this year's crop production will be the second largest on record, providing threats of drought in some areas do not increase and spread during the remainder of the growing season.

On the basis of conditions existing Aug. 1, the department said Tuesday, the total crop volume was projected at 111 per cent of the 1957-59 average compared with last year's record 112 per cent. By comparison, production in 1961 and 1962 was 107 per cent of the 1957-59 average.

The indicated yield per acre and production, respectively of important crops by New York State include:

Dry beans—1,440 pounds per acre and production, 1,368,000 hundredweight; apples (production only) 26,000,000; bushels; and potatoes, (fall crop), Long Island, 260 hundredweight per acre and 7,618,000 in production; and Upstate, 230 hundredweight per acre and 9,890,000 in production.

14th Church Burned

CANTON, Miss. (AP) — Civil rights workers report the 14th burning of a Negro church in the state since the Mississippi "summer project" began in June.

A spokesman for the Council of Federated Organizations said the Mount Pleasant church in nearby Gluckstadt had burned Monday night. It was used as a "freedom school."

BOND ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, ADOPTED JULY 28TH, 1964, AUTHORIZING THE PURCHASE OF A STREET SWEEPER FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS OF SAID CITY, STATING THE ESTIMATED MAXIMUM COST THEREOF IS $14,600, APPROPRIATING SAID AMOUNT THEREFOR AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $14,600 SERIAL BONDS OF THE CITY TO FINANCE SAID APPROPRIATION.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council) AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. The City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, New York, is hereby authorized to purchase a street sweeper for the use of the Department of Public Works of said City. The estimated maximum cost of said specific object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto and the financing thereof, is $14,600 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor. The plan of financing includes the issuance of $14,600 serial bonds of the City and the levy of a tax upon all the taxable real property in the City to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds as the same shall become due and payable.

Section 2. Serial bonds of the City of Kingston in the principal amount of $14,600 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, to finance said appropriation.

Section 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and declared:-

(a) The period of probable usefulness of said specific object or purpose for which the serial bonds authoized by this resolution are to be issued, within the limitations of §11.00 a. 29 of said Local Finance Law, is five (5) years.

(b) Current funds are not required by said Law to be provided as a down payment prior to the issuance of the serial bonds authorized pursuant to this resolution, or, any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, pursuant to the provisions of Section 107.00 d. 5 of said Law.

(c) The maturity of the serial bonds authorized pursuant to this resolution shall not exceed five (5) years.

Section 4. Each of the bonds authorized by this ordinance and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds, shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by §52.00 of the Local Finance Law and said bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, shall be general obligations of the City of Kingston, payable as to both principal and interest by a general tax upon all the taxable real property within the City without limitation of rate or amount. The faith and credit of the City are hereby irrevocably pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds and provision shall be made annually in the budget of the City by appropriation for (a) the amortization and redemption of the bonds to mature in such year and (b) the payment of interest to be due and payable in such year.

Section 5 Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and of said Local Finance Law, and pursuant to the provisions of §30.00 relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of $50.00 and §§56.00 to 60.00 of said Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the bonds hereby authorized and of any bond anticipation notes authorized and issued in anticipation of said bonds and the renewals thereof, are hereby delegated to the City Treasurer, chief fiscal officer of the City.

Section 6. It is further stated that the validity of the bonds authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if:-

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such ordinance, are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

Mishap Fatal to Child

CHITTENANGO, N.Y. (AP)—Headed for home after a shopping trip, Mrs. Woodson McAllister and her son, Mark, 5, stepped from a curb to cross a street Tuesday. Seconds later, police say, mother and son were hit by a truck and pinned against a parked automobile.

Mark was killed. Mrs. McAllister, 39, suffered multiple cuts and bruises. She was taken to Crouse Irving Hospital, Syracuse, where she was reported in fair condition.

The truck driver was not held.

BOND ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, ADOPTED AUGUST 4TH, 1964, AUTHORIZING THE RESURFACING OF CERTAIN PUBLIC STREETS, IN SAID CITY, STATING THE ESTIMATED TOTAL COST THEREOF IS $16,937, APPROPRIATING SAID AMOUNT THEREFOR AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $16,937 SERIAL BONDS, OF SAID CITY, TO FINANCE SAID APPROPRIATION.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council), AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. The City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, New York, is hereby authorized to resurface the following public streets in said City of Kingston, using a pavement described as penetration process with single surface treatment, including curbs, gutters, drainage, landscaping, grading and improving the right of way and improvements in connection therewith: (a) Lincoln Street-Clifton to East Chester, at an estimated maximum cost of $1,194; (b) Donovan Place, at an estimated maximum cost of $375; (c) Klingsburg Avenue, at an estimated maximum cost of $3,044; (d) Pettit Avenue, at an estimated maximum cost of $3,820; (e) Lounsberry Place-Grandview to Mountain View Avenue, at an estimated maximum cost of $5,366; (f) Dewitt Street-Railroad Bridge to end, at an estimated maximum cost of $1,214; (g) Gilead Street, at an estimated maximum cost of $700; and (h) South Prospect Street, at an estimated maximum cost of $1,224. The estimated total cost of resurfacing all of said streets, being all the items of a single specific object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto and the financing thereof, is $16,937 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor. The plan of financing includes the issuance of $16,937 serial bonds to finance said appropriation and the levy of a tax upon all the taxable real property in said City to pay the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon.

Section 2. Pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, serial bonds in the principal amount of $16,937, of the City of Kingston, are hereby authorized to be issued to finance the cost of said items of said specific object or purpose.

Section 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and stated:

(a) The period of probable usefulness of each item of said specific object or purpose for which the bonds authorized by this ordinance are to be issued within the limitations of Section 11.00 a. 20. (a) of said Local Finance Law, is five (5) years.

(b) Current funds are not required by said Law to be provided as a down payment prior to the issuance of the bonds herein authorized or of any notes in anticipation of the sale of said bonds, pursuant to the provisions of Section 107.00 d. 5. of said Local Finance Law.

(c) The proposed maturity of the bonds authorized by this ordinance will not exceed five (5) years.

Section 4. Each of the serial bonds authorized by this ordinance and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by §52.00 of said Local Finance Law and said serial bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds shall be general obligations of the City of Kingston, payable as to both principal and interest by general tax upon all the taxable real property within the City without limitation of rate or amount. The faith and credit of the City are hereby irrevocably pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds and provision shall be made annually in the budgets of the City by appropriation for (a) the amortization and redemption of the bonds to mature in such year and (b) the payment of interest to be due and payable in such year.

Section 5. Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and pursuant to Section 30.00 relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and §50.00 and §§56.00 to 60.00 of said Local Finance Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to authorizing bond anticipation notes and prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the serial bonds authorized by this ordinance and of any notes authorized and issued in anticipation of said bonds, are hereby delegated to the City Treasurer, the chief fiscal officer of the City.

Section 6. The validity of the bonds authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of the sale of said bonds, may be contested only if:

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such ordinance, are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

Section 1. The City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, New York, is hereby authorized to reconstruct and resurface the following public streets in said City of Kingston, using flexible pavements other than sand and gravel, water bound macadam or penetration process with single surface theatment or with penetration macadam or plant mix bottom course and heavy duty bituminous concrete wearing surface, including curbs, gutters, drainage, landscaping, grading and improving the rights of way and improvements in connection therewith: (a) Gross Street, at an estimated maximum cost of $7,200; (b) Taylor Street, at an estimated maximum cost of $7,425; (c) Flatbush Avenue-Albany to Railroad, at an estimated maximum cost of $4,065; (d) Derrenbacher Street, at an estimated maximum cost of $3,102; (e) North Street-Delaware to East Strand, at an estimated maximum cost of $7,415; (f) New Street, at an estimated maximum cost of $1,831; (g) Second Avenue-Delaware to Moore at an estimated maximum cost of $6,068; (h) West Chestnut-Melvin Drive to Broadway at an estimated maximum cost of $5,958 and (i) Russell Street, at an estimated maximum cost of $658. The estimated total cost of reconstructing and resurfacing all of said streets, being all the items of a single specific object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto and the financing thereof, is $43,722 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor. The plan of financing includes the issuance of $2,200 capital notes to provide the down payment required by law and $41,500 serial bonds to finance the balance of said appropriation and the levy of a tax upon all the taxable real property in said City to pay the principal of said notes and bonds and the interest thereon.

Section 2. Pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, capital notes in the principal amount of $2,200 and serial bonds in the principal amount of $41,500, of the City of Kingston, are hereby authorized to be issued to finance the cost of said items of such specific object or purpose.

Section 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and stated:

(a) The period of probable usefulness of each item of said specific object or purpose for which the bonds authorized by this ordinance are to be issued within the limitations of Section 11.00 a. 20 (b) of said Local Finance Law, is ten (10) years.

(b) Current funds are required by said Law to be provided as a down payment prior to the issuance of the bonds herein authorized or of any notes in anticipation of the sale of said bonds and such current funds will be made available from the proceeds of the capital notes hereinabove authorized to be issued. The City Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to set aside said moneys provided by said proceeds and to apply the same solely to the said specific object or purpose described in Section 1 hereof.

(c) The proposed maturity of the bonds authorized by this ordinance will exceed five (5) years.

Section 4. Each of the notes and bonds authorized by this ordinance and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds, shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by §52.00 of said Local Finance Law and said notes and bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, shall be general obligations of the City of Kingston, payable as to both principal and interest by general tax upon all the taxable real property within the City without limitation of rate or amount. The faith and credit of the City are hereby irrevocably pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said notes and bonds and provision shall be made annually in the budgets of the City by appropriation for (a) the amortization and redemption of the notes and bonds to mature in such year and (b) the payment of interest to be due payable in such year.

Section 5. Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and of said Local Finance Law, and pursuant to the provisions of Section 30.00 relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of §50.00 and §§56.00 to 60.00 of said Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the notes and bonds, are hereby delegated to the City Treasurer, the chief fiscal officer of the City.

Section 6. It is further stated that the validity of the notes and bonds authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if:

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such ordinance, are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication,

(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

Approved by the Mayor the 5th day of August, 1964.

JOHN J. SCHWENK,
Mayor

The Ordinance published herewith has been adopted on the 28th day of July, 1964, and the validity of the obligations authorized by such ordinance may be hereafter contested only if such obligations were authorized for an object or purpose for which the City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, New York, is not authorized to expend money or if the provisions of law which should have been complied with as of the date of publication of this notice were not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the publication of this notice, or such obligations were authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

WALTER S. FOSTER,
City Clerk

BOND ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, ADOPTED JULY 28TH, 1964, AUTHORIZING THE PURCHASE OF A STREET SWEEPER FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS OF SAID CITY, STATING THE ESTIMATED MAXIMUM COST THEREOF IS $14,600, APPROPRIATING SAID AMOUNT THEREFOR AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $14,600 SERIAL BONDS OF THE CITY TO FINANCE SAID APPROPRIATION.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council) AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. The City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, New York, is hereby authorized to purchase a street sweeper for the use of the Department of Public Works of said City. The estimated maximum cost of said specific object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto and the financing thereof, is $14,600 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor. The plan of financing includes the issuance of $14,600 serial bonds of the City and the levy of a tax upon all the taxable real property in the City to pay the principal of and interest on said bonds as the same shall become due and payable.

Section 2. Serial bonds of the City of Kingston in the principal amount of $14,600 are hereby authorized to be issued pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, to finance said appropriation.

Section 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and declared:-

(a) The period of probable usefulness of said specific object or purpose for which the serial bonds authoized by this resolution are to be issued, within the limitations of §11.00 a. 29 of said Local Finance Law, is five (5) years.

(b) Current funds are not required by said Law to be provided as a down payment prior to the issuance of the serial bonds authorized pursuant to this resolution, or, any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, pursuant to the provisions of Section 107.00 d. 5 of said Law.

(c) The maturity of the serial bonds authorized pursuant to this resolution shall not exceed five (5) years.

Section 4. Each of the bonds authorized by this ordinance and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds, shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by §52.00 of the Local Finance Law and said bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, shall be general obligations of the City of Kingston, payable as to both principal and interest by a general tax upon all the taxable real property within the City without limitation of rate or amount. The faith and credit of the City are hereby irrevocably pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds and provision shall be made annually in the budget of the City by appropriation for (a) the amortization and redemption of the bonds to mature in such year and (b) the payment of interest to be due and payable in such year.

Section 5. Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and of said Local Finance Law, and pursuant to the provisions of §30.00 relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and of §50.00 and §§56.00 to 60.00 of said Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the bonds hereby authorized and of any bond anticipation notes authorized and issued in anticipation of said bonds and the renewals thereof, are hereby delegated to the City Treasurer, chief fiscal officer of the City.

Section 6. It is further stated that the validity of the bonds authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds, may be contested only if:-

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such ordinance, are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

(c) such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the constitution.

Mishap Fatal to Child

CHITTENANGO, N.Y. (AP)—Headed for home after a shopping trip, Mrs. Woodson McAllister and her son, Mark, 5, stepped from a curb to cross a street Tuesday. Seconds later, police say, mother and son were hit by a truck and pinned against a parked automobile.

Mark was killed. Mrs. McAllister, 39, suffered multiple cuts and bruises. She was taken to Crouse Irving Hospital, Syracuse, where she was reported in fair condition.

The truck driver was not held.

BOND ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, NEW YORK, ADOPTED AUGUST 4TH, 1964, AUTHORIZING THE RESURFACING OF CERTAIN PUBLIC STREETS IN SAID CITY, STATING THE ESTIMATED TOTAL COST THEREOF IS $16,937, APPROPRIATING SAID AMOUNT THEREFOR AND AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $16,937 SERIAL BONDS OF SAID CITY, TO FINANCE SAID APPROPRIATION.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COMMON COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF KINGSTON, IN THE COUNTY OF ULSTER, NEW YORK (by the favorable vote of not less than two-thirds of all the members of said Council), AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. The City of Kingston, in the County of Ulster, New York, is hereby authorized to resurface the following public streets in said City of Kingston, using a pavement described as penetration process with single surface treatment, including curbs, gutters, drainage, landscaping, grading and improving the right of way and improvements in connection therewith: (a) Lincoln Street-Clifton to East Chester, at an estimated maximum cost of $1,194; (b) Donovan Place, at an estimated maximum cost of $375; (c) Klingsburg Avenue, at an estimated maximum cost of $3,044; (d) Pettit Avenue, at an estimated maximum cost of $3,820; (e) Lounsberry Place-Grandview to Mountain View Avenue, at an estimated maximum cost of $5,366; (f) Dewitt Street-Railroad Bridge to end, at an estimated maximum cost of $1,214; (g) Gilead Street, at an estimated maximum cost of $700; and (h) South Prospect Street, at an estimated maximum cost of $1,224. The estimated total cost of resurfacing all of said streets, being all the items of a single specific object or purpose, including preliminary costs and costs incidental thereto and the financing thereof, is $16,937 and the said amount is hereby appropriated therefor. The plan of financing includes the issuance of $16,937 serial bonds to finance said appropriation and the levy of a tax upon all the taxable real property in said City to pay the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon.

Section 2. Pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, constituting Chapter 33-a of the Consolidated Laws of the State of New York, serial bonds in the principal amount of $16,937, of the City of Kingston, are hereby authorized to be issued to finance the cost of said items of said specific object or purpose.

Section 3. The following additional matters are hereby determined and stated:

(a) The period of probable usefulness of each item of said specific object or purpose for which the bonds authorized by this ordinance are to be issued within the limitations of Section 11.00 a. 20 (a) of said Local Finance Law, is five (5) years.

(b) Current funds are not required by said Law to be provided as a down payment prior to the issuance of the bonds herein authorized or of any notes in anticipation of the sale of said bonds, pursuant to the provisions of Section 107.00 d. 5. of said Local Finance Law.

(c) The proposed maturity of the bonds authorized by this ordinance will not exceed five (5) years.

Section 4. Each of the serial bonds authorized by this ordinance and any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds shall contain the recital of validity prescribed by §52.00 of said Local Finance Law and said serial bonds and any notes issued in anticipation of said bonds shall be general obligations of the City of Kingston, payable as to both principal and interest by general tax upon all the taxable real property within the City without limitation of rate or amount. The faith and credit of the City are hereby irrevocably pledged to the punctual payment of the principal of and interest on said bonds and provision shall be made annually in the budgets of the City by appropriation for (a) the amortization and redemption of the bonds to mature in such year and (b) the payment of interest to be due and payable in such year.

Section 5. Subject to the provisions of this ordinance and pursuant to Section 30.00 relative to the authorization of the issuance of bond anticipation notes and §50.00 and §§56.00 to 60.00 of said Local Finance Law, the powers and duties of the Common Council relative to authorizing bond anticipation notes and prescribing the terms, form and contents and as to the sale and issuance of the serial bonds authorized by this ordinance and of any notes authorized and issued in anticipation of said bonds, are hereby delegated to the City Treasurer, the chief fiscal officer of the City.

Section 6. The validity of the bonds authorized by this ordinance, and of any notes issued in anticipation of the sale of said bonds, may be contested only if:

(a) such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which the City is not authorized to expend money, or

(b) the provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of the publication of such ordinance, are not substantially complied with,

and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity, is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

Shawangunk Fire Almost All Out, Authorities Say

Ulster County's worst forest fire in years, which blackened more than 1,000 acres of woodland on the Shawangunk Mountains since Saturday, was reported "out" on the Lake Minnewaska property side, and "contained" in the Ellenville area.

Kenneth B. Phillips, president of Lake Minnewaska Mt. House Inc., reported shortly before noon the fire that has ravaged the area on the Minnewaska property sector of the mountains, was out, and the fire on the Ellenville side was reportedly contained at that hour.

Phillips said bull dozers were being brought in the forest area near Ellenville in an effort to knock down smoldering trees and extinguish underground fires that have plagued hundreds of volunteer firemen from 47 area volunteer fire companies.

At 11:35 a.m., an observer at the High Point Fire Tower, told The Freeman, "the situation looks very good at this moment. There is little smoke coming up and a heavy rain during the night cooled off. The fire at this hour is contained between the tower on High Mountain and Lake Minnewaska. Bull dozers are being used to dig trenches along the ridge. The fire is not traveling at this hour and for the moment the fire is definitely under control, but the wind probably will soon dry out the woodlands.

Controlled Last Night

The fire was under control last night, but it broke out again and gave firemen further trouble. Conservation Department planes operated again yesterday and water-bombed the worst areas where the fire raged. The plane were not used today, it was reported.

Winfred Snyder, Ulster County fire co-ordinator, said he was at the fire scene canteen until about 9 p. m. Tuesday. He reported two distinct fires were in progress at that time, one heading toward High Point, the other—a smaller one—was burning toward the Decker farm.

Doused by Rain

A downpour of rain before dawn today, helped considerably in drenching the flames that burned out 1,000 acres of scrub oak and pine.

Forest Ranger Arthur Walsh, who has been in charge of fire-fighting operations since the fire broke out Saturday, reported no buildings had been hit by the fire between Ellenville and New Paltz.

Late yesterday and last night, firemen were hampered in the work as the wind carried burning embers across fire lines and started new fires.

Suspect Arson

Some authorities suspect the fires had been set and investigation was requested by Conservation department officials. It was reported that on Saturday the fire broke out in seven different areas, and Sunday afternoon there were three independent fires raging in the valley sections.

Mutual Aid reported some fire companies returned to their stations, after the rainfall cooled off the flames.

Salvation Army units from New York City under Brigadier John Hudson and Brigadier Henderson moved into the fire area with food and equipment to help fire fighting units. A canteen also was set up by the Kerhonkson Fire Company Auxiliary under Mrs. Eleanor Burger, president.

Reports from Putnam County today stated that a forest fire which burned over 400 acres on Bull Hill south of Fishkill, was definitely under control, and firemen were trying to extinguish under ground fires that were burning along roots in the dry ground.

Samsonville

SAMSONVILLE — The ham dinner served at the Palentown Schoolhouse Saturday was reported to be a success. The proceeds will be used for the up keep of the cemetery.

Mrs. Chester Quick is reported to be ill.

Mrs. Mary Batty spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barringer.

WSCS held its monthly meeting in the church hall and made final plans for the booth they will have at the Ulster County Fair in Kingston Aug. 19 and 20.

There wil lbe a chicken barbecue in the Samsonville Church Hall Saturday starting 4 p. m. There will be a bake sale also. Proceeds will be used to buy a new organ for the church.

Miss Lori Jane Barringer spent Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Kelder and family.

To Move Business

Nathan and Reva Hoffman, of 154 Fair Street, who until recently operated an aquarium business at that address, said today they have purchased property at 20 Franklin Street. Hoffman said they would soon open a place there and conduct a wholesale and retail aquarium, marine fish and supplies business in the near future.

Short Circuit Call

Firemen were called at 12:57 p. m. today to the home of Dr. Paul G. Hoveman, 51 Johnston Avenue, where a short circuit overheated a combination radio and record player recessed in a wall. A unit from Wiltwyck Station, with Cap. Harry L. Sills in charge answered the call, and the set was removed outside.

ROBERT SUDA

Local Man Named To Engineer Post In IBM Division

The promotion of Robert Suda of 326 Washington Avenue to development engineer in special systems programming at Kingston, has been announced by IBM's Data Systems Division.

Mr. Suda joined IBM at Poughkeepsie in July, 1955, as a junior engineer in diagnostic programming and transferred to Kingston in early 1956. One year later, he was named a methods programmer. He was promoted to staff engineer in 1960, also in diagnostic programming, and to project engineer in 1961, a post he has held until his present position.

He is a member of the Association for Cumputing Machinery and Eta Kappa Nu, electrical engineering honorary fraternity. He received a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn.

Ochab Elected To Lead Poland, Is Veteran Red

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Veteran Communist Edward Ochab was unanimously elected today to succeed the late Aleksander Zawadzki as Poland's chief of state.

The Polish Parliament awarded the largely ceremonial post of State Council President to the 58-year-old Ochab within minutes after First Secretary Wladyslaw Gomulka announced that he was the choice of the ruling Communist party.

Ochab was born in Krakow, Poland.

Ochab was temporary first secretary of the Polish party for a few turbulent months in 1956 and instrumental in installing Gomulka as the permanent party chief. After that he took over the Agriculture Ministry and led Poland's rollback from collective to private farming. He is close to Gomulka and, like Gomulka, today a public supporter of Khrushchev.

Ochab spent World War II in the Soviet Union.

Red China Says Soviet Cautious Regarding U. S.

SAIGON (AP) — Communist China accused the Soviet Union Tuesday of being too cautious in denouncing the United States for its recent reprisal attack on North Vietnamese patrol boat bases.

Shortly after Peking radio broadcast the rap at the Kremlin, U.S. Ambassador Maxwell Taylor told a news conference in Saigon the United States has adequate military resources to repel any Communist attack on South Viet Nam.

The official New China News Agency complained that statements by Soviet officials "did not refer to extending support to the just struggle of the North Viet Nam against U.S. aggression."

Red China also said the Soviet Union's two leading newspapers, Pravda and Izvestia, were publishing American statements on Viet Nam without comment, even though the Communist regime in North Viet Nam had said the statements were "fabricated lies."

Lightning Causes Fire in PE Garage

Lighting reportedly alerted Port Ewen firemen this morning and they were at the firehouse when a fire call was received about 8:15 a. m.

A department spokesman said a bolt touched off the fire siren and firemen responded. Moments later a call was received reporting lightning had started fire in a private garage at 169 West Stout Street.

Fire fighters sped to the scene and extinguisehd the flames that caused extensive damage to the garage and contents. Deputy Chief Michael Lane was in command.

$50 for 2nd Offense

A driver, charged with speeding as a second offender, was fined $50 in city court today, and four others, who admitted traffic violations, paid $45 in fines. Bartholemew Gaudioso, 40, of Pine Bush, paid the $50, and fined $15 each on charges of speeding, were George Nagy Jr., 19, of RD 1, Box 218, East Kingston, and Theodore Humphrey, 22, of 9 East Pierpont Street. Also charged with speeding, and fined $10 was James H. Scism Jr., 19, of 14 North Street. Charles Bassett, 21, of 108 Gage Street, charged with driving a vehicle with a "modified exhaust system," was fined $5.

Death Takes Ian L. Fleming, Author, Newspaperman

CANTERBURY, England (AP) — Ian Lancaster Fleming, creator of the fictional secret agent James Bond, died today from a heart attack. He was 56.

A newspaperman who turned author, Fleming was one of the world's biggest money-making writers. In addition to his numerous books, he also collected large sums from two movies, "Dr. No," and "From Russia With Love." A third film, "Goldfinger" has just been completed.

Fleming died at the Kent and Canterbury Hospital.

Fleming's books sold millions of copies around the world.

Bond fans included many famous persons, the late President John F. Kennedy among them. Allen Dulles, former director of the U.S. Central Inte ligence Agency, also listed himself as an avid follower of Fleming's fictional agent.

Like his hero, Fleming was a lean, upper-class Englishman with considerable charm and a flare for food, cars and travel.

In 1952, Fleming married Anne Geraldine, the former Lady Rothermere. As Lady Rothermere, her marriage to the British newspaper owner, Lord Rothermere, was dissolved in 1952.

Fleming's brother, Peter Fleming, also in an author.

Ian Fleming attended Eton College, Sandhurst, the British West Point, and the Universities of Munich and Geneva.

During World War II, from 1939 to 1945, he was personal assistant to the director of British naval intelligence.

His first job in journalism was with the British news agency Reuters.

Wakefield Among Area Artists to Exhibit Aug. 28

One of the distinguished area artists whose work will be on exhibit at the Ellenville Reformed Church art show Aug. 28 and 29 is Manville B. Wakefield of Grahamsville.

Wakefield, a native of Newburgh, has been art instructor at the Tri-Valley School for nine years. He received his masters degree in art education from Pratt Institute in 1958.

The painter's art credits include prizes at such shows as the Ford Motor Exhibit, the Monticello Art Show and the Capitol Assembly Gallery in Albany. He was recently named Sullivan County Historian. He is listed in "Who's Who in America" and "Who's Who in American Education."

Roy D. Parker of Middletown will be another exhibitor. He made his first sketch at the age of 65 and since then has won 22 prizes and sold 51 pictures. He is represented in the permanent collections of five museums and in the private collections of former President Eisenhower and Governor William Scranton.

Also at the show will be paintings by Miss Shirley Bancroft of Liberty-Loomis Hospital. A youthful 22 years of age, Miss Bancroft is confined to a wheelchair by the crippling effects of poliomyelitis.

Another well-known exhibitor will be watercolorist Edwin L. Oman of Cragsmoor and New York City. His work is of the Hudson Valley and the Shawangunk-Catskill mountains. He has exhibited in the Chicago Art Institute, Stehdahl Galleries in Los Angeles, the Penthouse Gallery in San Francisco and the Four Arts Society in Palm Beach, Fla. His paintings are included in the collections of Bernard Gimbel, Hermione Gingold, Joseph Morganthaler and Lauritz Melchior.

The art show, sponsored by the church couples club will take place from 7 to 10 p. m., Aug 28 and 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Aug. 29.

Bugs Ironed Out Of Gemini Crafts; 2 Flights Slated

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Top space officials said today only unforeseen problems would keep two Gemini flights from being made this year.

Charles W. Mathews, Gemini program director, indicated all the bugs have been ironed out of the spacecraft and they will be ready for shipping to Cape Kennedy, Fla., before the end of August.

"I will be completely honest," he said, "the situation is very tight but we still plan the unmanned flight before October and the manned mission in December.

"I can say we are not going to accelerate activity so the crew's safety is endangered.

"We are not going to stick our heads in the sand and rush blindly along just to meet a schedule, and by the same token, we are not going to doggedly maintain we can meet the schedule when we know we can't."

Gemini is about one year behind the schedule originally announced in 1962. In May 1963 a top level meeting set new schedules after a hard look at the program.

The present schedule calls for the first flight to be unmanned — it originally was set to be the first manned flight — and to be made in the third quarter of 1964, which includes July, August and September.

These are the only dates officially released by the manned spacecraft center, and these are the times Mathews and Dr. Robert Gilruth, manned spacecraft center director, reiterated.

"We have not changed the schedule from the one originally announced," said Dr. Gilruth. "We are sticking with that timetable."

"The GT3 capsule (for the manned flight of Maj. Virgil Grissom and Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young) will already have been delivered at the cape when the unmanned mission is made," Mathews said.

"The big problem is cleaning the launching pad and getting it ready for the December flight."

Cape Kennedy officials indicated it would take about 31 days to clear the pad and erect the Titan II launch vehicle.

Says Snake Bite Death Is Untrue

A report widely circulated in the Kingston area that a child was bitten several times by a copperhead in the parking lot of a local department store and eventually died was denied by both Hi-Lo Department Store management and Town of Esopus Constable Frank Bartroff Jr., of Port Ewen.

Bartroff, who handles the traffic at the Hi-Lo and Pantry Markets parking lot, said he also had heard the report and added there was no truth to the story.

The story was well fabricated and mentioned that the child was taken to Kingston Hospital for treatment.

Robert M. Schnitzer, hospital administrator said no such incident occurred and that the last two cases treated for snake bite at the hospital were some two months ago without a fatality, and both were fully covered by the press.

Ulster County Coroner Henry S. Hartley also denied any knewledge of such an incident.

As the story circulated the child was described as a five-year-old girl and in other stories as a two-year-old boy.

Ulster County Sheriff's Department also reported there was no such incident.

Phoenicia

PHOENICIA — Saturday, at the 8 a. m. Mass the following children will receive First Holy Communion in St. Francis de Sales Church: John Barringer, Brenda Billadeau, Roland Billadeau, William Burgess, Robert Cintron, David Gossoo, Vincent Grant, Michael Giuliano, Antonio Fontaines, Garnet Frusen, Rhoda Hall, Lance Hoffman, Louisa Hynes, Michael Johnson, Andrew LaMarca, Joanne Monteleone ,Stephanie Minervini, Jo Anne Muller, Mary Pomeroy, Sandra Rider, John Sheehan, Bruce Straub, Charles Stroh and Lisa Valentine.

After Mass they will be guests of the parish at the Hotel Phoenicia. Sisters of St. Ursula instructed the children. Music at the Mass will be presented by the Sisters.

Saturday evening the annual candlelight procession will take place on the convent grounds. Everyone is welcome and are asked to join in the congregational singing. The procession will start at 8 p. m.

The Ladies Sodality will sponsor another trip to Canada. A Pine Hill bus will leave St. Francis de Sales Church Sunday, Sept. 27 at 10 a. m., stopping at Woodstock and Saugerties. The bus will return Thursday, Oct. 1. The trip includes three nights lodging and tours. Those attending will bring birth certificate or passport. Deposit for reservations may be sent to Mrs. Vincent Somerville, Chichester.

Prison Building Cost Put at $1,300,000

Warden Edward M. Fay of Green Haven prison has confirmed that the state will build a new cell block containing accommodations for 200 prisoners at the institution in the Town of Beekman.

The project will cost $1,300,000 and will raise the prison's capacity to 2,216 men.

Warden Fay said work is expected to be completed by next fall. He stated that an additional 25 to 30 security officers will be needed at that time.

The new cell block will be a separate two-story brick building in the southwest section of the prison. There are now eight cell blocks, each a three-story building.

Bids on construction, sanitary, heating and electric work for the new building were to be opened today by the State Department of Public Works in Albany.

Why We Say--

FORTY DAYS: Quarantine comes from the Latin word "quaranta" meaning forty. Its present meaning of a time restriction during a disease came about in Italy at the time of the black plague. Ships were then forced to stay in the harbor forty days until it was certain that the disease was over.

GEORGE H. UNDERHILL

CH Administrator To Retire After 45 Years Service

George H. Underhill, vice president of engineering in Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, will retire Sept. 1 after almost 45 years of service with the local utility.

Mr. Underhill, who resides at Clover Hill Road, Poughkeepsie, graduated from Pratt Institute in 1919 and the following year joined Central Hudson as a Junior Electrical Engineer.

Between 1920 and 1930 he served in various engineering posts and was responsible for the inventory, appraisal, unification and standardization of several independent electric generating and distribution systems which were being merged with the Central Hudson System.

During the thirties, he conceived, designed and supervised the installation and initial operation of one of the earliest utility ultra-high frequency mobile radio systems in the nation. In the forties, he developed a national coordination plan which is still used by the Federal Communications Commission for allocating radio frequencies.

As a consultant, Mr. Underhill also designed, installed and tested the mobile radio systems of the Poughkeepsie City Police Department and the Dutchess County Sheriff's Office.

Mr. Underhill was named Deputy Chief Engineer in 1949, given added responsibility for the Planning Division in 1955 and he was appointed Vice President-Engineering in 1961.

A licensed professional engineer he is the author of several technical articles and manuals and was a recipient in 1931 of the James H. McGraw National Award for the best engineering paper submitted from the utility industry.

In 1940 he was granted a U. S. Patent for a multiplex telemetering system. In 1961 he was made a Fellow of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers ". . . for contributions to the development of common neutral primary distribution aerial cable system."

He is a member of the National Society of Professional Engineers, the Atomic Industrial Forum and the Atomic Technical Committee of Empire State Atomic - Developments Associates, Inc.

One Assault Charge Withdrawn, Two Left

One of three third degree assault charges lodged recently against John J. Ferris, 33, of 141 St. James Street, was withdrawn in city court today, and hearing on the others was put over to Aug. 20.

One of the other charges was lodged by Gloria Miltner, of 149 West O'Reilly Street, after the Monday call, and the third followed when Sgt. Garvin Fisher noted that a warrant dating back to Nov. 30, 1961, was held at police headquarters. Thomas Carpino, of 673 Broadway, was listed as complainant.

Ferris is under $100 bail pending his Aug. 20 appearance before Judge Joseph D. Saccoman.

Joseph Harris, 44, of 77 Hasbrouck Avenue, charged with failure to pay a $25 fine after being sentenced for driving without a license, was sentenced to five days in jail.

Card of Thanks

Shawangunk Fire Almost All Out, Authorities Say

Ulster County's worst forest fire in years, which blackened more than 1,000 acres of woodland on the Shawangunk Mountains since Saturday, was reported "out" on the Lake Minnewaska property side, and "contained" in the Ellenville area.

Kenneth B. Phillips, president of Lake Minnewaska Mt. House Inc., reported shortly before noon the fire that has ravaged the area on the Minnewaska property sector of the mountains, was out, and the fire on the Ellenville side was reportedly contained at that hour.

Phillips said bull dozers were being brought in the forest area near Ellenville in an effort to knock down smoldering trees and extinguish underground fires that have plagued hundreds of volunteer firemen from 47 area volunteer fire companies.

At 11:35 a.m., an observer at the High Point Fire Tower, told The Freeman, "the situation looks very good at this moment. There is little smoke coming up and a heavy rain during the night cooled off. The fire at this hour is contained between the tower on High Mountain and Lake Minnewaska. Bull dozers are being used to dig trenches along the ridge. The fire is not traveling at this hour and for the moment the fire is definitely under control, but the wind probably will soon dry out the woodlands.

Controlled Last Night

The fire was under control last night, but it broke out again and gave firemen further trouble.

Conservation Department planes operated again yesterday and water-bombed the worst areas where the fire raged. The plane were not used today, it was reported.

Winfred Snyder, Ulster County fire co-ordinator, said he was at the fire scene canteen until about 9 p. m. Tuesday. He reported two distinct fires were in progress at that time, one heading toward High Point, the other—a smaller one—was burning toward the Decker farm.

Doused by Rain

A downpour of rain before dawn today, helped considerably in drenching the flames that burned out 1,000 acres of scrub oak and pine.

Forest Ranger Arthur Walsh, who has been in charge of fire-fighting operations since the fire broke out Saturday, reported no buildings had been hit by the fire between Ellenville and New Paltz.

Late yesterday and last night, firemen were hampered in the work as the wind carried burning embers across fire lines and started new fires.

Suspect Arson

Some authorities suspect the fires had been set and investigation was requested by Conservation department officials. It was reported that on Saturday the fire broke out in seven different areas, and Sunday afternoon there were three independent fires raging in the valley sections.

Mutual Aid reported some fire companies returned to their stations, after the rainfall cooled off the flames.

Salvation Army units from New York City under Brigadier John Hudson and Brigadier Henderson moved into the fire area with food and equipment to help fire fighting units. A canteen also was set up by the Kerhonkson Fire Company Auxiliary under Mrs. Eleanor Burger, president.

Reports from Putnam County today stated that a forest fire which burned over 400 acres on Bull Hill south of Fishkill, was definitely under control, and firemen were trying to extinguish under ground fires that were burning along roots in the dry ground.

Samsonville

SAMSONVILLE — The ham dinner served at the Palentown Schoolhouse Saturday was reported to be a success. The proceeds will be used for the up keep of the cemetery.

Mrs. Chester Quick is reported to be ill.

Mrs. Mary Batty spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barringer.

WSCS held its monthly meeting in the church hall and made final plans for the booth they will have at the Ulster County Fair in Kingston Aug. 19 and 20.

There wil lbe a chicken barbecue in the Samsonville Church Hall Saturday starting 4 p. m. There will be a bake sale also. Proceeds will be used to buy a new organ for the church.

Miss Lori Jane Barringer spent Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Kelder and family.

To Move Business

Nathan and Reva Hoffman, of 154 Fair Street, who until recently operated an aquarium business at that address, said today they have purchased property at 20 Franklin Street. Hoffman said they would soon open a place there and conduct a wholesale and retail aquarium, marine fish and supplies business in the near future.

Short Circuit Call

Firemen were called at 12:57 p. m. today to the home of Dr. Paul G. Hoveman, 51 Johnston Avenue, where a short circuit overheated a combination radio and record player recessed in a wall. A unit from Wiltwyck Station, with Cap. Harry L. Sills in charge answered the call, and the set was removed outside.

ROBERT SUDA

Local Man Named To Engineer Post In IBM Division

The promotion of Robert Suda of 326 Washington Avenue to development engineer in special systems programming at Kingston, has been announced by IBM's Data Systems Division.

Mr. Suda joined IBM at Poughkeepsie in July, 1955, as a junior engineer in diagnostic programming and transferred to Kingston in early 1956. One year later, he was named a methods programmer. He was promoted to staff engineer in 1960, also in diagnostic programming, and to project engineer in 1961, a post he has held until his present position.

He is a member of the Association for Cumputing Machinery and Eta Kappa Nu, electrical engineering honorary fraternity. He received a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn.

Ochab Elected To Lead Poland, Is Veteran Red

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Veteran Communist Edward Ochab was unanimously elected today to succeed the late Aleksander Zawadzki as Poland's chief of state.

The Polish Parliament awarded the largely ceremonial post of State Council President to the 58-year-old Ochab within minutes after First Secretary Wladyslaw Gomulka announced that he was the choice of the ruling Communist party.

Ochab was born in Krakow, Poland.

Ochab was temporary first secretary of the Polish party for a few turbulent months in 1956 and instrumental in installing Gomulka as the permanent party chief. After that he took over the Agriculture Ministry and led Poland's rollback from collective to private farming. He is close to Gomulka and, like Gomulka, today a public supporter of Khrushchev.

Ochab spent World War II in the Soviet Union.

Red China Says Soviet Cautious Regarding U. S.

SAIGON (AP) — Communist China accused the Soviet Union Tuesday of being too cautious in denouncing the United States for its recent reprisal attack on North Vietnamese patrol boat bases.

Shortly after Peking radio broadcast the rap at the Kremlin, U.S. Ambassador Maxwell Taylor told a news conference in Saigon the United States has adequate military resources to repel any Communist attack on South Viet Nam.

The official New China News Agency complained that statements by Soviet officials "did not refer to extending support to the just struggle of the North Viet Nam against U.S. aggression."

Red China also said the Soviet Union's two leading newspapers, Pravda and Izvestia, were publishing American statements on Viet Nam without comment, even though the Communist regime in North Viet Nam had said the statements were "fabricated lies."

Lightning Causes Fire in PE Garage

Lighting reportedly alerted Port Ewen firemen this morning and they were at the firehouse when a fire call was received about 8:15 a. m.

A department spokesman said a bolt touched off the fire siren and firemen responded. Moments later a call was received reporting lightning had started fire in a private garage at 169 West Stout Street.

Fire fighters sped to the scene and extinguisehd the flames that caused extensive damage to the garage and contents. Deputy Chief Michael Lane was in command.

$50 for 2nd Offense

A driver, charged with speeding as a second offender, was fined $50 in city court today, and four others, who admitted traffic violations, paid $45 in fines. Bartholemew Gaudioso, 40, of Pine Bush, paid the $50, and fined $15 each on charges of speeding, were George Nagy Jr., 19, of RD 1, Box 218, East Kingston, and Theodore Humphrey, 22, of 9 East Pierpont Street. Also charged with speeding, and fined $10 was James H. Scism Jr., 19, of 14 North Street. Charles Bassett, 21, of 108 Gage Street, charged with driving a vehicle with a "modified exhaust system," was fined $5.

Death Takes Ian L. Fleming, Author, Newspaperman

CANTERBURY, England (AP) — Ian Lancaster Fleming, creator of the fictional secret agent James Bond, died today from a heart attack. He was 56.

A newspaperman who turned author, Fleming was one of the world's biggest money-making writers. In addition to his numerous books, he also collected large sums from two movies, "Dr. No," and "From Russia With Love." A third film, "Goldfinger" has just been completed.

Fleming died at the Kent and Canterbury Hospital.

Fleming's books sold millions of copies around the world.

Bond fans included many famous persons, the late President John F. Kennedy among them. Allen Dulles, former director of the U.S. Central Inte ligence Agency, also listed himself as an avid follower of Fleming's fictional agent.

Like his hero, Fleming was a lean, upper-class Englishman with considerable charm and a flare for food, cars and travel.

In 1952, Fleming married Anne Geraldine, the former Lady Rothermere. As Lady Rothermere, her marriage to the British newspaper owner, Lord Rothermere, was dissolved in 1952.

Fleming's brother, Peter Fleming, also in an author.

Ian Fleming attended Eton College, Sandhurst, the British West Point, and the Universities of Munich and Geneva.

During World War II, from 1939 to 1945, he was personal assistant to the director of British naval intelligence.

His first job in journalism was with the British news agency Reuters.

Wakefield Among Area Artists to Exhibit Aug. 28

One of the distinguished area artists whose work will be on exhibit at the Ellenville Reformed Church art show Aug. 28 and 29 is Manville B. Wakefield of Grahamsville.

Wakefield, a native of Newburgh, has been art instructor at the Tri-Valley School for nine years. He received his masters degree in art education from Pratt Institute in 1958.

The painter's art credits include prizes at such shows as the Ford Motor Exhibit, the Monticello Art Show and the Capitol Assembly Gallery in Albany. He was recently named Sullivan County Historian. He is listed in "Who's Who in America" and "Who's Who in American Education."

Roy D. Parker of Middletown will be another exhibitor. He made his first sketch at the age of 65 and since then has won 22 prizes and sold 51 pictures. He is represented in the permanent collections of five museums and in the private collections of former President Eisenhower and Governor William Scranton.

Also at the show will be paintings by Miss Shirley Bancroft of Liberty-Loomis Hospital. A youthful 22 years of age, Miss Bancroft is confined to a wheelchair by the crippling effects of poliomyelitis.

Another well-known exhibitor will be watercolorist Edwin L. Oman of Cragsmoor and New York City. His work is of the Hudson Valley and the Shawangunk-Catskill mountains. He has exhibited in the Chicago Art Institute, Stehdahl Galleries in Los Angeles, the Penthouse Gallery in San Francisco and the Four Arts Society in Palm Beach, Fla. His paintings are included in the collections of Bernard Gimbel, Hermione Gingold, Joseph Morganthaler and Lauritz Melchior.

The art show, sponsored by the church couples club will take place from 7 to 10 p. m., Aug 28 and 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Aug. 29.

Bugs Ironed Out Of Gemini Crafts; 2 Flights Slated

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Top space officials said today only unforeseen problems would keep two Gemini flights from being made this year.

Charles W. Mathews, Gemini program director, indicated all the bugs have been ironed out of the spacecraft and they will be ready for shipping to Cape Kennedy, Fla., before the end of August.

"I will be completely honest," he said, "the situation is very tight but we still plan the unmanned flight before October and the manned mission in December.

"I can say we are not going to accelerate activity so the crew's safety is endangered.

"We are not going to stick our heads in the sand and rush blindly along just to meet a schedule, and by the same token, we are not going to doggedly maintain we can meet the schedule when we know we can't."

Gemini is about one year behind the schedule originally announced in 1962. In May 1963 a top level meeting set new schedules after a hard look at the program.

The present schedule calls for the first flight to be unmanned — it originally was set to be the first manned flight — and to be made in the third quarter of 1964, which includes July, August and September.

These are the only dates officially released by the manned spacecraft center, and these are the times Mathews and Dr. Robert Gilruth, manned spacecraft center director, reiterated.

"We have not changed the schedule from the one originally announced," said Dr. Gilruth. "We are sticking with that timetable."

"The GT3 capsule (for the manned flight of Maj. Virgil Grissom and Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young) will already have been delivered at the cape when the unmanned mission is made," Mathews said.

"The big problem is cleaning the launching pad and getting it ready for the December flight."

Cape Kennedy officials indicated it would take about 31 days to clear the pad and erect the Titan II launch vehicle.

Says Snake Bite Death Is Untrue

A report widely circulated in the Kingston area that a child was bitten several times by a copperhead in the parking lot of a local department store and eventually died was denied by both Hi-Lo Department Store management and Town of Esopus Constable Frank Bartroff Jr., of Port Ewen.

Bartroff, who handles the traffic at the Hi-Lo and Pantry Markets parking lot, said he also had heard the report and added there was no truth to the story.

The story was well fabricated and mentioned that the child was taken to Kingston Hospital for treatment.

Robert M. Schnitzer, hospital administrator said no such incident occurred and that the last two cases treated for snake bite at the hospital were some two months ago without a fatality, and both were fully covered by the press.

Ulster County Coroner Henry S. Hartley also denied any knewledge of such an incident.

As the story circulated the child was described as a five-year-old girl and in other stories as a two-year-old boy.

Ulster County Sheriff's Department also reported there was no such incident.

Phoenicia

PHOENICIA — Saturday, at the 8 a. m. Mass the following children will receive First Holy Communion in St. Francis de Sales Church: John Barringer, Brenda Billadeau, Roland Billadeau, William Burgess, Robert Cintron, David Gossoo, Vincent Grant, Michael Giuliano, Antonio Fontaines, Garnet Frusen, Rhoda Hall, Lance Hoffman, Louisa Hynes, Michael Johnson, Andrew LaMarca, Joanne Monteleone, Stephanie Minervini, Jo Anne Muller, Mary Pomeroy, Sandra Rider, John Sheehan, Bruce Straub, Charles Stroh and Lisa Valentine.

After Mass they will be guests of the parish at the Hotel Phoenicia. Sisters of St. Ursula instructed the children. Music at the Mass will be presented by the Sisters.

Saturday evening the annual candlelight procession will take place on the convent grounds. Everyone is welcome and are asked to join in the congregational singing. The procession will start at 8 p. m.

The Ladies Sodality will sponsor another trip to Canada. A Pine Hill bus will leave St. Francis de Sales Church Sunday, Sept. 27 at 10 a. m., stopping at Woodstock and Saugerties. The bus will return Thursday, Oct. 1. The trip includes three nights lodging and tours. Those attending will bring birth certificate or passport. Deposit for reservations may be sent to Mrs. Vincent Somerville, Chichester.

Prison Building Cost Put at $1,300,000

Warden Edward M. Fay of Green Haven prison has confirmed that the state will build a new cell block containing accommodations for 200 prisoners at the institution in the Town of Beekman.

The project will cost $1,300,000 and will raise the prison's capacity to 2,216 men.

Warden Fay said work is expected to be completed by next fall. He stated that an additional 25 to 30 security officers will be needed at that time.

The new cell block will be a separate two-story brick building in the southwest section of the prison. There are now eight cell blocks, each a three-story building.

Bids on construction, sanitary, heating and electric work for the new building were to be opened today by the State Department of Public Works in Albany.

Why We Say--

FORTY DAYS: Quarantine comes from the Latin word "quaranta" meaning forty. Its present meaning of a time restriction during a disease came about in Italy at the time of the black plague. Ships were then forced to stay in the harbor forty days until it was certain that the disease was over.

GEORGE H. UNDERHILL

CH Administrator To Retire After 45 Years Service

George H. Underhill, vice president of engineering in Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, will retire Sept. 1 after almost 45 years of service with the local utility.

Mr. Underhill, who resides at Clover Hill Road, Poughkeepsie, graduated from Pratt Institute in 1919 and the following year joined Central Hudson as a Junior Electrical Engineer.

Between 1920 and 1930 he served in various engineering posts and was responsible for the inventory, appraisal, unification and standardization of several independent electric generating and distribution systems which were being merged with the Central Hudson System.

During the thirties, he conceived, designed and supervised the installation and initial operation of one of the earliest utility ultra-high frequency mobile radio systems in the nation. In the forties, he developed a national coordination plan which is still used by the Federal Communications Commission for allocating radio frequencies.

As a consultant, Mr. Underhill also designed, installed and tested the mobile radio systems of the Poughkeepsie City Police Department and the Dutchess County Sheriff's Office.

Mr. Underhill was named Deputy Chief Engineer in 1949, given added responsibility for the Planning Division in 1955 and he was appointed Vice President-Engineering in 1961.

A licensed professional engineer he is the author of several technical articles and manuals and was a recipient in 1931 of the James H. McGraw National Award for the best engineering paper submitted from the utility industry.

In 1940 he was granted a U. S. Patent for a multiplex telemetering system. In 1961 he was made a Fellow of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers ". . . for contributions to the development of common neutral primary distribution aerial cable system."

He is a member of the National Society of Professional Engineers, the Atomic Industrial Forum and the Atomic Technical Committee of Empire State Atomic Developments Associates, Inc.

One Assault Charge Withdrawn, Two Left

One of three third degree assault charges lodged recently against John J. Ferris, 33, of 141 St. James Street, was withdrawn in city court today, and hearing on the others was put over to Aug. 20.

Joseph S. Castle, of 266 Albany Avenue, one of two persons to lodge charges against Ferris after a reported disturbance early Monday at the Ja-Mar, 151 Hasbrouck Avenue, withdrew the charge.

One of the other charges was lodged by Gloria Miltner, of 149 West O'Reilly Street, after the Monday call, and the third followed when Sgt. Garvin Fisher noted that a warrant dating back to Nov. 30, 1961, was held at police headquarters. Thomas Carpino, of 673 Broadway, was listed as complainant.

Ferris is under $100 bail pending his Aug. 20 appearance before Judge Joseph D. Saccoman.

Joseph Harris, 44, of 77 Hasbrouck Avenue, charged with failure to pay a $25 fine after being sentenced for driving without a license, was sentenced to five days in jail.

Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith Avenue, thence to St. Joseph's Church where a solemn high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul at 10 o'clock. The Rev. James V. Keating was celebrant, the Rev. George J. Hein, deacon and the Rev. John Woolsey, subdeacon. Responses to the Mass were sung by Mrs. Robert Bartz assisted at the organ by Mrs. Frank Rafferty. During the repose in the funeral home many relatives and hundreds of friends called to pay their respects and numerous floral pieces and spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards were received. The Rev. Edward I. Farrelly called and said the prayers for the dead. The Rev. Frank L. Gollnick John J. Cashin, Harry E. Schirick, Mayor John J. Schwenk, members of the Zoning Board, Kingston Water Board and former students of the Cashin School of Dancing called to pay their respects. Officers and members of the Kingston, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company called in a body on Monday evening and attended the Mass, acting as an honorary escort. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father Keating gave the final blessing. Bearers were Louis Varga, Kenneth Radel Carl Janasiewicz, Harry Short, Charles Diers and Otto Short.

Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Hillary (Hilda) Auchmoody, who passed away August 12, 1950, 14 years ago.

Sunshine passes, shadows fall,
Love's remembrance outlasts all.
And though the years be many or few,
They are filled with remembrance of you.

Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Lillie A. Burt, who passed away Aug. 12, 1952.

Twelve years have passed
Since she was called Home.
If all the world belonged to us
We would give it years
Just to see her happy face
And hold her hand once more.

Q—Do animals dream?

A—It is probably that most of the higher mammals dream. Sleeping dogs, cats, apes and horses make sounds and movements similar to those of sleeping human beings, and it is reasonable to believe they are dreaming.

Ten Pointers For Success.—

1. Be yourself. Cultivate desirable qualities.
2. Be alert. Look for opportunities to express yourself.
3. Be positive. Determine your goal and the route to it.
4. Be systematic. Take one step at a time.
5. Be persistant. Hold your course.
6. Be a worker. Work your brain more than your body.
7. Be a student. Know your job.
8. Be fair. Treat the other man as you would be treated.
9. Be temperate. Avoid excess in anything.
10. Be confident. Have faith that cannot be weakened.

YMCA Day Camp Attendance Will Set New Record

Kingston YMCA Day Camp located in Shokan at the foot of Ticetonyk Mountain is shattering all attendance records during the first six weeks of the 1964 season. There are still two weeks to go and the average will be over 150, according to Y secretary, Louis H. Schafer.

The sixth week, from August 3 to 7 was the banner week with 190 boys and girls in attendance. Camp has been developed to handle large groups and with more expansion and added facilities that are now being anticipated by the Camp Committee, the Y Day Camp will be able to handle close to 200 campers each week. Also the weather has been most ideal with sunshine daily. Day Camp attendance started off with a large registration as follows: First week there were 156; second week 149; third week 148; fourth week, 156; fifth week 160.

The daily program at camp is conducted and supervised by four adult program directors and 16 counselors. There are many choices of activities for all campers, regardless of age, starting at 10 a. m. and continuing until 4 p. m. The buses return at 4:15 with each camper answering to roll call before entering the bus.

There are also many types of craft taught at various levels. During rest periods and rainy weather there are movies. Sometimes these are shown daily.

The camp council ring with a large 15-foot Indian tepee in the main clearing is the assembly spot following noon-day luncheon. The council is used for Indian stories and the teaching of Indian lore.

The outpost is new at camp this season. It is on the far side of the camp property and consists of a large clearing, making a big flat circle with tents in the middle. There are paths leading to the post that is lined with stones on either side. There is also an open area for games. This is a most popular spot and is a new activity in camp.

The YMCA is a member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

Warning Sounded Against Painters With Fast Pitch

The Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce today warned homeowners against itinerant house painters who offer to paint homes, barns and other buildings at unrealistically low prices.

Albert Kurdt, manager of the Chamber, said thousands of homeowners are victimized each summer by fly-by-night operators whose extravagant promises concerning the quality of their paints and workmanship fail to materialize in the finished job.

According to the National Better Business Bureau, with which the Chamber is affiliated through membership, a recent issue of the Virginia Department of Agriculture Bulletin sets forth these guidelines for homeowners.

Talk first with a reputable paint dealer and tell him of your needs. He will be able to offer suggestions that should prove helpful when planning the painting job with a contractor.

Deal with a contractor known locally. A reputable painter will specify in writing exactly what he will do and what paint he will use (trade name, color, etc.). This is your best safeguard and may be your only recourse if the job is not satisfactory.

When in doubt about a painter ask him for a 30-day credit arrangement. Virtually all reliable contractors will agree to this. If your painter does not, it's a good bet he may not be available if trouble arises after the job is completed.

Be at home when the painting is done, and check to see that it conforms with your contract.

Remember that you get what you pay for. Cheap paint or an inferior job will cost you more in the long run.

In releasing this statement today Kurdt also issued another warning about signing any agreements or contracts without being absolutely sure it is understood what is involved.

Warning Sounded Against Painters With Fast Pitch

The Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce today warned homeowners against itinerant house painters who offer to paint homes, barns and other buildings at unrealistically low prices.

Albert Kurdt, manager of the Chamber, said thousands of homeowners are victimized each summer by fly-by-night operators whose extravagant promises concerning the quality of their paints and workmanship fail to materialize in the finished job.

According to the National Better Business Bureau, with which the Chamber is affiliated through membership, a recent issue of the Virginia Department of Agriculture Bulletin sets forth these guidelines for homeowners.

Talk first with a reputable paint dealer and tell him of your needs. He will be able to offer suggestions that should prove helpful when planning the painting job with a contractor.

Deal with a contractor known locally. A reputable painter will specify in writing exactly what he will do and what paint he will use (trade name, color, etc.). This is your best safeguard and may be your only recourse if the job is not satisfactory.

When in doubt about a painter ask him for a 30-day credit arrangement. Virtually all reliable contractors will agree to this. If your painter does not, it's a good bet he may not be available if trouble arises after the job is completed.

Be at home when the painting is done, and check to see that it conforms with your contract.

Remember that you get what you pay for. Cheap paint or an inferior job will cost you more in the long run.

In releasing this statement today Kurdt also issued another warning about signing any agreements or contracts without being absolutely sure it is understood what is involved.

YMCA Day Camp Attendance Will Set New Record

Kingston YMCA Day Camp located in Shokan at the foot of Ticetonyk Mountain is shattering all attendance records during the first six weeks of the 1964 season. There are still two weeks to go and the average will be over 150, according to Y secretary, Louis H. Schafer.

The sixth week, from August 3 to 7 was the banner week with 190 boys and girls in attendance. Camp has been developed to handle large groups and with more expansion and added facilities that are now being anticipated by the Camp Committee, the Y Day Camp will be able to handle close to 200 campers each week. Also the weather has been most ideal with sunshine daily. Day Camp attendance started off with a large registration as follows: First week there were 156; second week 149; third week 148; fourth week, 156; fifth week 160.

The daily program at camp is conducted and supervised by four adult program directors and 16 counselors. There are many choices of activities for all campers, regardless of age, starting at 10 a. m. and continuing until 4 p. m. The buses return at 4:15 with each camper answering to roll call before entering the bus.

There are also many types of craft taught at various levels. During rest periods and rainy weather there are movies. Sometimes these are shown daily.

The camp council ring with a large 15-foot Indian tepee in the main clearing is the assembly spot following noon-day luncheon. The council is used for Indian stories and the teaching of Indian lore.

The outpost is new at camp this season. It is on the far side of the camp property and consists of a large clearing, making a big flat circle with tents in the middle. There are paths leading to the post that is lined with stones on either side. There is also an open area for games. This is a most popular spot and is a new activity in camp.

The YMCA is a member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

Methodist Church Annual Fair Will Be Held Saturday

Saturday, August 15, at 9:30 a. m. the annual summer fair of Overlook Methodist Church will open to the public at the church and parsonage grounds. The fair, after many months of preparation, promises to be an exciting event. The many attractive booths will offer a wide variety of articles that will catch the eye and interest of those who come to see the work that has been done by the women and young people of the church.

The food table, always the first department to be "sold out" will place a lot of emphasis upon homemade bread and pastries. But in addition to the oven treats you will find jams and jellies, pickles and relishes, salads, and candy for those who have a sweet tooth.

For those who appreciate items made by hand there will be a veritable treasure in such things as candles, trays, bookends, carving boards, aprons, pillow covers, a great variety of toys, Christmas gift tags, and numerous other articles.

Of course no fair would be complete without a novelty booth, and the fair has one as well as a rummage section and a furniture corner. Here you are likely to run across that piece for which you have been searching for years.

A brand new booth is a special feature this year. Collectors and hobby enthusiasts will be delighted to find that such things as stamps, coins, postcards, matchbook covers, sea shells, and salt and pepper sets will be offered for sale. You may also find a piece or two of sporting equipment that you might need.

If you wish you had a "green thumb" but do not, you will be pleased to know that there is a booth just for you. Flowers and plants, fresh vegetables, dried arrangements, vases and flower stands will be there to make your day colorful and your house brighter.

Anyone who likes to read or listen to records will find something to satisfy their needs in the book and record booth. In the past the records have proven to be a most popular feature at the fair.

Another booth that does very well each year is the jewelry booth. Rings, bracelets, pins, and necklaces will be found, as well as many other interesting and attractive pieces.

There also will be a baby sitting service arranged for your convenience. If you wish to have a bite to eat you will find a "sidewalk cafe" ready to take your order. There is even a "fortune teller" who will, we hope, have some good fortunes for you.

Italian Films At Art League

Friday, Aug. 14, the Woodstock Artists Association presents at the Woodstock Art Gallery, an evening of Italian films taken by Clifford West. These films are a series of three called "Treasures of Tuscany."

The first is "Michelangelo, the Medici Chapel". In this film the artist closely examines the sculpture. The camera follows the line and massing of the figures as well as pointing out the relationship of the group.

The second film is centered around the Renaissance Basilica of San Lorenza in Florence. The film examines in detail the architecture, the work of Brunelleschi, two bronze-paneled pulpits by Donnatello and the sacristy designed and decorated by the two artists.

The third is a documentary of the Florentine Workshop of the Pietro Dure which was set up in 1588 and is still operating today. The purpose of the Workshop was to create an infinite variety of objects ranging from whole floors, to altars, tables and tiny sculptures in marble and semi-precious stones.

Films are accompanied by narration and appropriate music by Collegium and the Baroque Trio of the University of Michigan School of Music, and the O.I.P. Choir conducted by Phillip Steinhaus Organist and Choirmaster of St. John's Church, Washington, D. C.

Mr. West will also be present to add to the commentary. While in Woodstock, Mr. West has shown marked interest in the art activities and plans to make a documentary film of Arnold Blanch at the Art Students League.

Jan Gorbaty Was Soloist Saturday At Maverick Hall

Saturday night the distinguished pianist, Jan Gorbaty, was heard in an interesting and sensitively played program in the Maverick Concert Hall in Woodstock. Gorbaty's program ranged from Bach to Prokofief, and in between were works by Hummel, Schimmerling, Albeniz and Chopin.

Of special interest to the Woodstock audience was the Suite in Three Styles for Piano, Op. 39, by the composer, teacher and musicologist, H. A. Schimmerling, who is a Woodstock resident. The work was prepared, between 1950 and 1955 as a study in styles for students. The opening Capriccio is in the most contemporary idiom, the lovely, lyrical Nocturne noticeably reflects the style of Debussy, while the concluding Fugue returns of course, to the spirit of the earlier Baroque period. In spite of this 'regression' as the composer puts it, the work is a compelling and successfully unified piece which Mr. Gorbaty played extremely well. An appreciative audience called both composer and pianist back for several bows.

The Rondo, Op. 11, by J. N. Hummel is a sprightly work which Mr. Gorbaty executed easily, and the Asturias of Albeniz remains a favorite. One must question, however, the opening of the program with so difficult and basically unpianistic a work as the J. S. Bach (Busoni) Organ Toccata, Adagio and Fugue in C Major. Owing perhaps to initial nervousness, somewhat excessive speed, and the unmet requirement for a very special piano to achieve the particular effects envisioned by Mr. Gorbaty, his playing of this work fell short of his expressed aim to recreate the sounds of the organ. Even without the blurred wrong notes one feels that this work is primarily a piece for organ, uniquely designed to display its special technique, in spite of the excellent Busoni piano transcription.

Following the intermission Gorbaty excelled in the performance of the Chopin Sonata, Op. 35, and other works by this composer. His playing was noteworthy for the differentiation of mood and tone between and within the movements of the Sonata: the opening movement was truly "Grave", the Scherzo was sprightly, and the Marche Funebre was majestically somber. The Finale was worthy of the rest. Gorbaty's playing of the Caise, Op. 18, The Mazurka, Op. 6, No. 1, and the Mazurka Op. 63, No. 2, expressed warmth, fine techniques and genuine musicianship. In these works, and the several Chopin encores which he played for an enthusiastically applauding audience, he demonstrated again for this listener that Chopin remains one of the most satisfying of all composers for the piano, utilizing the full possibilities of the instrument for expressing musical poetry and technical brilliance within the framework of consummate musicianship.

Mr. Gorbaty closed his program with the Tocata, Op. 11 by Prokofief. This technically demanding work provided a desirable percussive contrast to the more lyrical works previously heard. One expects to hear often of Gorbaty, who studied with Leopold Muenzer in Poland, and later in Vienna. He is soon to tour London, Amsterdam, Berlin and other European cities, and will be heard in a concert at Carnegie Hall in November.

For those accustomed to attending concerts in metropolitan areas the simplicity and peace of the Maverick setting is especially appealing. Instead of thundering sounds from buses, trucks, and airplanes, one hears only the chirping of crickets punctuating the silences, but never competing with the music. A concert in Maverick Hall is a memorable experience. — NATALIA RAIGORODSKY.

Fire Company Fund Drive Opens Saturday

The drive by Woodstock Fire Company No. 1 for funds needed to purchase a tank truck will begin Saturday, August 15. The company hopes the people of the fire district will contribute generously as in the past. The truck is badly needed in locations where there is a limited supply of water.

The firemen say that at times when fighting a fire it is very discouraging to have their efforts come to naught for the want of just a little more water. The addition of a tank truck to the other equipment of the company will insure this extra supply of water.

To Hold Exhibit Of Printmakers

The 10 printmakers Helen Gerardia, Karen Hannaford, Rosella Hartman, Jeanette Kohn, Lillian Lent, John McClellan, Barbara Neustadt, Mel Silverman, Carol Summers, Robert Shuler, and Arthur Zaidenberg are represented in museums and galleries in this country and abroad.

The Woodstock Artists Association presents this exhibition to show the increasing interest in printmaking and the great variation of techniques developed by the individual artist. The opening party is held in the Gallery Garden from 4 to 6. The exhibition will remain through August 25. The Gallery is open Friday afternoon and evening, Saturday morning, afternoon and evening and Sunday, Monday and Tuesday afternoons.

Play-Reading Group Discusses Original Play

Under the direction of Bob Denning, the Play-Reading Group will read and discuss an original play—a political satire — by Saugerties Playwright Paul Miller Monday evening.

Members are also reading, each for himself, Sartre's play "No Exit" in preparation for an evening's discussion under the direction of Doris Taczydlowski, talented and versatile Woodstocker, who has had extensive and with the Glen Head Playacting experience in colleges of Long Island. She has also directed plays, in college and at Oyster Bay High School.

The Play-Reading Group has had lively and enjoyable sessions since its initiation early this summer by the Performing Arts of Woodstock. It meets regularly on the first and third Mondays of the month. Currently, through the kindness of the Misses Elsie and Harriet Goddard, its meetings are held in the Goddard Studio at 56 Glasco Turnpike. Anyone interested in play reading and discussion is cordially invited to attend.

Sale of Blind-Made Goods on Monday

The Albany Association of the Blind's annual Woodstock Sale of blind-made products will be held Monday, August 17, on the Lutheran Church lawn. Mrs. Iven Freer is serving as general chairman.

Local church committees are staffing the sale.

Christian Science Sermon on 'Soul'

Continuing a series of Bible Lessons on names which belong to God, the subject at Christian Sience services on Sunday will be "Soul."

The Bible readings will include this verse from Psa.ms: "Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness."

In Woodstock, Sunday Services are held at 11 a.m.

Choice of Gotham For GOP Parley Opens Speculation

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Informed sources say a desire for more publicity prompted the Republican State Committee to decide on New York City as the site of the Sept. 1 GOP state convention to nominate a U.S. Senate candidate.

While no formal announcement had been made, party leaders originally planned to hold the convention in Albany.

But a spokesman for the GOP State Committee said Tuesday the 300 - member committee would convene in New York as a convention. It is expected to renominate Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester.

Keating has not announced whether he will seek a new term, but GOP leaders are assuming that he will run.

The official reasons for the New York City choice, the spokesman said, included an opportunity for the committee members to visit the World's Fair.

Other sources reported, however, that the Manhattan site (main ballroom, Hotel Roosevelt) had been chosen to obtain more publicity for the convention in New York City, where the Republican nominee will face his biggest challenge in the election.

Spacemen in Desert

RENO, Nev. (AP) — America's third crop of space travelers, sticking close to the ground this week, headed into the western Nevada desert today to sweat it out among the wildlife and sagebrush.

They'll be 30 miles from civilization, with only two quarts of water and a survival kit until Friday. If the astronauts wish to eat, they'll have to forage food from plants and animals.

Rain Helps Put Out Rose Mountain Fire

OLD FORGE, N. Y. (AP)— More than 150 fire-fighters, aided considerably by a heavy rainstorm overnight, today quelled a forest fire that burned several acres of timber land on Rose Mountain.

The mountain is part of the 90,000 acre preserve of the exclusive Adirondack League Club, where Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton vacationed last month.

Estimates of the acreage burned ranged today from 6 to 15.

A lack of roads to the rugged timber land area, about 13 miles southeast of Old Forge, hampered fire-fighting efforts.

After making little headway by using pack pumps, the firefighters began pumping water from the lake through more than a mile of hose to the fire.

A spokesman at nearby Bisby Lodge said the fire broke out late Tuesday on the top of Rose Mountain, also known as Bisby Mountain, and spread down the slopes.

Lot of State Conventions

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The recent Democratic state convention was familiar to state Treasurer Emerson Beauchamp — he was first named a delegate at age 12. That was in 1911.

Methodist Church Annual Fair Will Be Held Saturday

Saturday, August 15, at 9:30 a. m. the annual summer fair of Overlook Methodist Church will open to the public at the church and parsonage grounds. The fair, after many months of preparation, promises to be an exciting event. The many attractive booths will offer a wide variety of articles that will catch the eye and interest of those who come to see the work that has been done by the women and young people of the church.

The food table, always the first department to be "sold out" will place a lot of emphasis upon homemade bread and pastries. But in addition to the oven treats you will find jams and jellies, pickles and relishes, salads, and candy for those who have a sweet tooth.

For those who appreciate items made by hand there will be a veritable treasure in such things as candles, trays, bookends, carving boards, aprons, pillow covers, a great variety of toys, Christmas gift tags, and numerous other articles.

Of course no fair would be complete without a novelty booth, and the fair has one as well as a rummage section and a furniture corner. Here you are likely to run across that piece for which you have been searching for years.

A brand new booth is a special feature this year. Collectors and hobby enthusiasts will be delighted to find that such things as stamps, coins, postcards, matchbook covers, sea shells, and salt and pepper sets will be offered for sale. You may also find a piece or two of sporting equipment that you might need.

If you wish you had a "green thumb" but do not, you will be pleased to know that there is a booth just for you. Flowers and plants, fresh vegetables, dried arrangements, vases and flower stands will be there to make your day colorful and your house brighter.

Anyone who likes to read or listen to records will find something to satisfy their needs in the book and record booth. In the past the records have proven to be a most popular feature at the fair.

Another booth that does very well each year is the jewelry booth. Rings, bracelets, pins, and necklaces will be found, as well as many other interesting and attractive pieces.

There also will be a baby sitting service arranged for your convenience. If you wish to have a bite to eat you will find a "sidewalk cafe" ready to take your order. There is even a "fortune teller" who will, we hope, have some good fortunes for you.

Italian Films At Art League

Friday, Aug. 14, the Woodstock Artists Association presents at the Woodstock Art Gallery, an evening of Italian films taken by Clifford West. These films are a series of three called "Treasures of Tuscany."

The first is "Michelangelo, the Medici Chapel". In this film the artist closely examines the sculpture. The camera follows the line and massing of the figures as well as pointing out the relationship of the group.

The second film is centered around the Renaissance Basilica of San Lorenza in Florence. The film examines in detail the architecture, the work of Brunelleschi, two bronze-paneled pulpits by Donnatello and the sacristy designed and decorated by the two artists.

The third is a documentary of the Florentine Workshop of the Pietro Dure which was set up in 1588 and is still operating today. The purpose of the Workshop was to create an infinite variety of objects ranging from whole floors, to altars, tables and tiny sculptures in marble and semi-precious stones.

Films are accompanied by narration and appropriate music by Collegium and the Baroque Trio of the University of Michigan School of Music, and the O.I.P. Choir conducted by Phillip Steinhaus Organist and Choirmaster of St. John's Church, Washington, D. C.

Mr. West will also be present to add to the commentary. While in Woodstock, Mr. West has shown marked interest in the art activities and plans to make a documentary film of Arnold Blanch at the Art Students League.

Jan Gorbaty Was Soloist Saturday At Maverick Hall

Saturday night the distinguished pianist, Jan Gorbaty, was heard in an interesting and sensitively played program in the Maverick Concert Hall in Woodstock. Gorbaty's program ranged from Bach to Prokofief, and in between were works by Hummel, Schimmerling, Albeniz and Chopin.

Of special interest to the Woodstock audience was the Suite in Three Styles for Piano, Op. 39, by the composer, teacher and musicologist, H. A. Schimmerling, who is a Woodstock resident. The work was prepared, between 1950 and 1955 as a study in styles for students. The opening Capriccio is in the most contemporary idiom, the lovely, lyrical Nocturne noticeably reflects the style of Debussy, while the concluding Fugue returns of course, to the spirit of the earlier Baroque period. In spite of this 'regression' as the composer puts it, the work is a compelling and successfully unified piece which Mr. Gorbaty played extremely well. An appreciative audience called both composer and pianist back for several bows.

The Rondo, Op. 11, by J. N. Hummel is a sprightly work which Mr. Gorbaty executed easily, and the Asturias of Albeniz remains a favorite. One must question, however, the opening of the program with so difficult and basically unpianistic a work as the J. S. Bach (Busoni) Organ Toccata, Adagio and Fugue in C Major. Owing perhaps to initial nervousness, somewhat excessive speed, and the unmet requirement for a very special piano to achieve the particular effects envisioned by Mr. Gorbaty, his playing of this work fell short of his expressed aim to recreate the sounds of the organ. Even without the blurred wrong notes one feels that this work is primarily a piece for organ, uniquely designed to display its special technique, in spite of the excellent Busoni piano transcription.

Following the intermission Gorbaty excelled in the performance of the Chopin Sonata, Op. 35, and other works by this composer. His playing was noteworthy for the differentiation of mood and tone between and within the movements of the Sonata: the opening movement was truly "Grave", the Scherzo was sprightly, and the Marche Funebre was majestically somber. The Finale was worthy of the rest. Gorbaty's playing of the Calse, Op. 18, The Mazurka, Op. 6, No. 1, and the Mazurka Op. 63, No. 2, expressed warmth, fine techniques and genuine musicianship. In these works, and the several Chopin encores which he played for an enthusiastically applauding audience, he demonstrated again for this listener that Chopin remains one of the most satisfying of all composers for the piano, utilizing the full possibilities of the instrument for expressing musical poetry and technical brilliance within the framework of consummate musicianship.

Mr. Gorbaty closed his program with the Tocata, Op. 11 by Prokofief. This technically demanding work provided a desirable percussive contrast to the more lyrical works previously heard. One expects to hear often of Gorbaty, who studied with Leopold Muenzer in Poland, and later in Vienna. He is soon to tour London, Amsterdam, Berlin and other European cities, and will be heard in a concert at Carnegie Hall in November.

For those accustomed to attending concerts in metropolitan areas the simplicity and peace of the Maverick setting is especially appealing. Instead of thundering sounds from buses, trucks, and airplanes, one hears only the chirping of crickets punctuating the silences, but never competing with the music. A concert in Maverick Hall is a memorable experience. — NATALIA RAIGORODSKY.

Fire Company Fund Drive Opens Saturday

The drive by Woodstock Fire Company No. 1 for funds needed to purchase a tank truck will begin Saturday, August 15. The company hopes the people of the fire district will contribute generously as in the past. The truck is badly needed in locations where there is a limited supply of water.

The firemen say that at times when fighting a fire it is very discouraging to have their efforts come to naught for the want of just a little more water. The addition of a tank truck to the other equipment of the company will insure this extra supply of water.

To Hold Exhibit Of Printmakers

The 10 printmakers Helen Gerardia, Karen Hannaford, Roselia Hartman, Jeanette Kohn, Lillian Lent, John McClellan, Barbara Neustadt, Mel Silverman, Carol Summers, Robert Shuler, and Arthur Zaidenberg are represented in museums and galleries in this country and abroad.

The Woodstock Artists Association presents this exhibition to show the increasing interest in printmaking and the great variation of techniques developed by the individual artist. The opening party is held in the Gallery Garden from 4 to 6. The exhibition will remain through August 25. The Gallery is open Friday afternoon and evening, Saturday morning, afternoon and evening and Sunday, Monday and Tuesday afternoons.

Play-Reading Group Discusses Original Play

Under the direction of Bob Denning, the Play-Reading Group will read and discuss an original play—a political satire — by Saugerties Playwright Paul Miller Monday evening.

Members are also reading, each for himself, Sartre's play "No Exit" in preparation for an evening's discussion under the direction of Doris Taczydlowski, talented and versatile Woodstocker, who has had extensive and with the Glen Head Playacting experience in colleges of Long Island. She has also directed plays, in college and at Oyster Bay High School.

The Play-Reading Group has had lively and enjoyable sessions since its initiation early this summer by the Performing Arts of Woodstock. It meets regularly on the first and third Mondays of the month. Currently, through the kindness of the Misses Elsie and Harriet Goddard, its meetings are held in the Goddard Studio at 56 Glasco Turnpike. Anyone interested in play reading and discussion is cordially invited to attend.

Sale of Blind-Made Goods on Monday

The Albany Association of the Blind's annual Woodstock Sale of blind-made products will be held Monday, August 17, on the Lutheran Church lawn. Mrs. Iven Freer is serving as general chairman.

Local church committees are staffing the sale.

Christian Science Sermon on 'Soul'

Continuing a series of Bible Lessons on names which belong to God, the subject at Christian Sience services on Sunday will be "Soul."

The Bible readings will include this verse from Psa.ms: "Give unto the Lord the glory due unto his name; worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness."

In Woodstock, Sunday Services are held at 11 a.m.

Choice of Gotham For GOP Parley Opens Speculation

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Informed sources say a desire for more publicity prompted the Republican State Committee to decide on New York City as the site of the Sept. 1 GOP state convention to nominate a U.S. Senate candidate.

While no formal announcement had been made, party leaders originally planned to hold the convention in Albany.

But a spokesman for the GOP State Committee said Tuesday the 300 - member committee would convene in New York as a convention. It is expected to renominate Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester.

Keating has not announced whether he will seek a new term, but GOP leaders are assuming that he will run.

The official reasons for the New York City choice, the spokesman said, included an opportunity for the committee members to visit the World's Fair.

Other sources reported, however, that the Manhattan site (main ballroom, Hotel Roosevelt) had been chosen to obtain more publicity for the convention in New York City, where the Republican nominee will face his biggest challenge in the election.

Spacemen in Desert

RENO, Nev. (AP) — America's third crop of space travelers, sticking close to the ground this week, headed into the western Nevada desert today to sweat it out among the wildlife and sagebrush.

They'll be 30 miles from civilization, with only two quarts of water and a survival kit until Friday. If the astronauts wish to eat, they'll have to forage food from plants and animals.

Rain Helps Put Out Rose Mountain Fire

OLD FORGE, N. Y. (AP)— More than 150 fire-fighters, aided considerably by a heavy rainstorm overnight, today quelled a forest fire that burned several acres of timber land on Rose Mountain.

The mountain is part of the 90,000 acre preserve of the exclusive Adirondack League Club, where Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton vacationed last month.

Estimates of the acreage burned ranged today from 6 to 15.

A lack of roads to the rugged timber land area, about 13 miles southeast of Old Forge, hampered fire-fighting efforts.

After making little headway by using pack pumps, the fire-fighters began pumping water from the lake through more than a mile of hose to the fire.

A spokesman at nearby Bisby Lodge said the fire broke out late Tuesday on the top of Rose Mountain, also known as Bisby Mountain, and spread down the slopes.

Lot of State Conventions

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The recent Democratic state convention was familiar to state Treasurer Emerson Beauchamp — he was first named a delegate at age 12. That was in 1911.

Assassinations All Failed

Sukarno Government Allows No Meaningful Opposition

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Troops with unsheathed bayonets took up positions along a busy Jakarta street. Sirens sounded and eight motorcycle police, four armored cars and nine jeeps filled with guards swept past.

In the center of the convoy was the long, black limousine carrying the president of Indonesia.

An American woman tourist looked on slightly wide-eyed, then put down her orange soda and said:

"Tell me, just how popular is this President Sukarno?"

The question is a difficult one.

At 63 Sukarno, lifetime president of this island country, has survived five assassination attempts since 1957. The bristling escort is routine when he moves through this city of three million.

After an attempt on his life in May 1962, Sukarno formed the Tjakarabirawa regiment, an elite guard of more than 2,000 men whose sole task is to protect him. This red-bereted guard is tough.

Like all leaders, Sukarno is the possible target of an assassin, but there is no evidence to suggest the heavy security indicates unrest that could lead to revolts or that it is even a sign of widespread unpopularity.

No Opposition

While there are those who oppose Sukarno and the so-called guided democracy that gives him almost unrestricted powers, there is no significant open opposition. Any criticism of Sukarno is voiced guardedly and then only to persons in whom the critics have complete trust. Some who have been more forthright are no longer in this country, or are in jail.

No newspaper attacks the president personally. The government-run radio hails his policies in words and music.

Listening to nearby Radio Malaysia is forbidden. Books critical of Sukarno have been burned or barred. Some American publications are banned.

Parties Shy Too

Indonesia's 10 legal political parties, ranging from Communist to nationalist to religious, may bicker among themselves but they never assail the president or his actions.

The Parliament is appointed. The last elections were held in 1955.

By utilizing fully his shrewd sense of balance and timing, Sukarno has been able to play off the country's major strengths against each other and has come out on top.

He is the only president Indonesia has had since independence was declared in 1945.

Outwardly and officially, then, the answer to the lady's question is that Sukarno is popular. For all those voices abroad who denounce him as a demagogue or dictator, an expansionist and aggressor, there are Indonesians here who speak of him in terms of near worship.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 12, the 225th day of 1964, there are 141 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1676, King Philip, one of the greatest Indian chiefs, who created the first real organized resistance to white settlers, was trapped and shot to death near Turner's Falls, Mass. The long war he had waged taught the colonies the value of unity.

On this date

In 1891, American poet, editor and diplomat James Russell Lowell died.

In 1898, United States forces entered the Philippines city of Manila.

In 1914, Great Britain declared war on Austria-Hungary.

In 1941 President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill met at sea to draft the Atlantic Charter.

In 1944, Allied forces liberated Florence, Italy.

Ten years ago...The Interstate Commerce Commission approved reorganization for the Long Island Railroad, ending a five and one-half year bankruptcy of the commuter line.

Five years ago...The foreign ministers of the Organization of American States met in Santiago, Chile, to consider tensions in the Caribbean area.

One year ago...President John F. Kennedy offered a revised tax cut proposal, suggesting two - step reductions starting January 1, 1964.

Conservationists Protest Move to Add Ski Trails

By ARSENE C. DAVIGNON
Associated Press Writer

ADAMS, Mass. (AP) —Peaceful, old Mt. Greylock, gracefully dominating the Berkshires in Northwestern Massachusetts, is the farthest thing in geology from a volcano, but people are erupting all around it.

The latest europtions are taking place in Berkshire County Court in Pittsfield where five conservationists are suing the Mt. Greylock Tramway Authority and the Mt. Greylock Reservation Commission.

The suit alleges the authority is planning to exceed its mandate by its proposal to build not only a tramway on the 3,490 foot mountain, but also ski trails and lifts, a huge resort at the top and a huge restaurant - bardance hall at the base.

The commission, established in 1898 to preserve the mountain, is charged with violating its public trust by surrendering nearly half — 4,000 acres — of the reservation to the authority.

The conservationists, headed by William Tague, say commercial exploitation of the mountain threatens what is a unique biological refuge for plants and birds not found elsewhere in Massachusetts. Greylock's altitude give it a Canadian climate. Other opponents fear for the quiet beauty of the state's highest peak.

Many merchants in Adams and the business interests in other area communities are in favor of expected tourism. Many ski buffs are, not surprisingly, also in favor.

The plan was given added life when Joseph Dragone, authority executive director found backers. They are the New York investment firm of Allen & Co. and the Willamette Construction Co. of Portland, Ore.

When the Willamette Company revealed its development plans it spurred the re-organization of the Mt. Greylock Protective Association earlier this year. The present suit is brought by five association members, headed by Tague, a resident of Lanesboro, a town at the base of the mountain.

Taxes Can Be Cut By Dept. Safety, Williams States

Safety in operation and maintenance of Ulster County's official departments, particularly the highway department, can help defray the amount of moneys to be raised by taxes in the new fiscal year budget.

This was revealed today when Supervisor Peter Williams, (R-Saugerties, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, announced that a check for $2,851, representing return on high safety insurance rating, has been presented to the county by the Hartford Fire Insurance Company.

Supervisor Williams said that through the insurance plan, the "fine work of the departments of the county government, particularly the highway department, is paying off not only in the form of praise and awards but also in cash savings for the residents of Ulster County."

For several years, Williams said, the County Highway Department and the county itself, have been awarded the Accident Control Engineering Award by the New York State Insurance Fund, and the award was given this year.

Tangible Benefit

However, he said, "an even more tangible benefit" was derived from the safety record through the $2,851 check presented to the county by the Hartford Company through its local agency, the Allan L. Hanstein Insurance Company of Kingston. Williams, who is also chairman of the Board of Supervisor's Committee on Insurance, told The Freeman that the monetary return was due largely to the extremely good safety record of the highway department and the almost complete absence of claims against the county due to the involvement of highway department vehicles in accidents. Williams further revealed that the lack of any mal-practice suits against either the Ulster County Tumor Clinic or the Infirmary resulted in an additional saving in insurance costs.

Retrospective Plan

Chairman Williams explained that the county is operating under a retrospective rating plan which was started in 1962 and under this plan substaintial returns to the County can be gained through good safety records since the insurance rates are based on the County's record. He said that the almost three thousand dollar return to the County was based on a one year period from October 1962 to October 1963 and during this entire period the entire amount of loss incurred by the County due to accidents by vehicles under the direction of the County Highway Department was less than two thousand dollars. Williams added that the money returned by the Hartford Insurance Company will be turned over to the Ulster County treasurer for use in reducing the amount to be raised by taxes in the 1965 county budget. He said that indications are that under the present insurance plan and the continued good safety record the county can expect even better returns for the present one year period which ends in October of this year.

Reporters Must Sit With Court Spectators

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Judge Allen B. Hannay of U.S. District Court has issued an order prohibiting reporters from sitting at the press table in his courtroom.

The press table is located inside a swinging gate which separates the spectator seats from the attorneys' tables, the jury box and the judge' bench.

Hannay said Tuesday reporters would be allowed to sit with spectators, but they would not be permitted to go past the swinging gae.

Asked why he was imposing such an order, Hannay said an item about him recently contained incorrect reporting.

The item stated, he said, that grand jury witnesses had been hidden in his private chambers and whisked across a hall to the jury room.

The U.S. dollar is worth about $1.07 in Canada.

County Sheepmen Host State Meet At 4-H Camp Site

Ulster County Sheep and Wool Growers Association were hosts Aug. 2 for the Eastern New York State Sheep and Wool Growers Association at the organization's fifth annual picnic on the grounds of the County 4-H camp near New Paltz.

A number of distinguished sheep breeders throughout the state were present, including Benjamin English, president of the Empire Sheep Cooperation and Joseph Huth from the State Sheep and Wool Growers.

A barbecued lamb supper was prepared by Daniel Tricarico, Fred Holmes and Fred Spongia.

After the dinner a sheep blocking and carding demonstration was conducted by Woody Brower. Sheep were exhibited by Brower, Holmes and Victor Wynkoop.

Considering Release Of Assassination Text

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren Commission, meeting in secret to consider how it will release the text of its Kennedy assassination report, considered a plan whereby contracts would be signed between the government and some information media.

These media would be supplied the text of the report somewhat in advance of other media on condition they "observe security" — not publish the report before the specified release date and then publish it in full.

The commission's chief counsel, J. Lee Rankin, briefed newsmen after the secret session Tuesday. The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, is nearing the end of its long investigation into the assassination last Nov. 22 of President John F. Kennedy.

There have been reports that certain paperback book companies have had negotiations with the commission. So, a reporter asked: "How can a government commission, engaged on such a project of grave national import, engage in contractual negotiations with private concerns?"

Said Rankin: "You will have to take this up with Mr. George Reedy at the White House."

Reedy is the White House press secretary.

Rankin's response was the same when asked if the report shouldn't be released to everyone simultaneously, perhaps three or four days in advance, so everyone would get a chance to read the thick document before writing about it.

At the White House, Reedy told a newsman: "As far as the White House is concerned, no plans have been made for the release of the report. We will give consideration to this matter at an appropriate time."

In Rochester, N.Y., Paul Miller, president of The Associated Press and president of the Gannett Newspapers, said when asked for comment: "The Associated Press is opposed and will continue to be opposed to anything other than simultaneous release of the report to all."

Treasurer Urges Tax Payment Before Sept 1.

Fred H. DuBois, County Treasurer advises taxpayers in the towns of Ulster County that the town tax collectors warrants for collection of 1964 taxes expires Sept. 1. After that date, the tax rolls will be submitted to the Ulster County treasurer's office.

Any unpaid taxes for the current year should be paid to the collector before that date in order to avoid extra penalities. Penalty for taxes paid during August is 4 per cent. After the tax is returned to the county treasurer's office, a 5 per cent penalty is charged, plus an additional penalty of interest at the rate of 10 per cent per annum figured from Feb. 1, 1964, to date of payment.

Heat Is Reduced In Dutchess Lab By New Machinery

Two high capacity air conditioners became operational in the laboratory wing of Northern Dutchess Hospital during the most recent heat wave. Walter F. Wheeler, superintendent of plant and grounds, said a large new exhaust fan was also installed in the machine room to help cool the motors of the new equipment.

McCarney's air conditioning service had the installation contract.

Paul Alessi, Hudson has joined the maintenance staff at Northern Dutchess Hospital. He had previously been employed for 14 years doing similar work at Rip Van Winkle Clinic which is suspending operations.

mean an immediate return to the proven policy of peace through strength which was the hallmark of the Eisenhower years."

He added:

Pick Own Cabinet

"Every president, if he's worth his salt, will pick his own Cabinet. He must pick his own associates for the top echelon of government. However, I can assure you that I would not appoint anyone to the offices of secretary of state, or secretary of defense or other critical national security posts until I have first discussed my plans for those appointments with Gen. Eisenhower, Dick Nixon and other experienced leaders seasoned in world affairs."

Goldwater offered a string of pledges to the 38 Republicans, Eisenhower and Nixon among them, he summoned here to talk about party unity.

The senator had a preview unity talk Tuesday with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Talk 90 Minutes

He said they met for about 90 minutes to discuss the party, campaign issues and "the normal things good Republicans talk about."

Goldwater said he had not discussed the role Rockefeller might play in his campaign.

The governor has said he will support the ticket, but campaign only in New York.

Goldwater told the summit conference he and vice-presidential nominee William E. Miller would stand behind the GOP platform's "solemn pledge for full implementation" of the new civil rights law.

man of the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, he said, has "requested representatives from the city government, and the Uptown Economic Sub-Committee, to attend a meeting to be scheduled with a nationally known retailer to discuss the possibilities of the development of commercial land with the city's urban renewal projects."

Sears Roebuck officials were due to be contacted today to fix a date next week for a meeting.

On Alert Over Turkey

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council went on a standby alert today after issuing an appeal aimed at stopping Turkey's jet flights over Cyprus and averting attacks by Greek Cypriots on the island's Turkish Minority.

Council President Sivert A. Nielsen of Norway made the appeal Tuesday night after another emergency council session to deal with a complaint by Cyprus that Turkey violated the ceasefire by an air attack Monday on the village of Polis.

Greeks Want

without consulting Greece. Turkey responded with four days of air attacks on Greek Cypriot territory.

Athens radio said the Greek Cypriots broke an agreement in failing to get Greece's approval of the military campaign.

It said Greek Premier George Papandreou sent a cable to Makarios saying: "I express my deepest sorrow because we have agreed differently and you have acted differently."

Greek Cypriot Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou flew to Athens Tuesday and met with Papandreou according to Athens radio. Later, the Greek government issued a communique pledging full support to Greek Cypriots in case of another Turkish attack.

Athens Decision

"In view of the barbaric Turkish bombing of the noncombatant population, the Athens government decided in an extraordinary session to throw its full weight in support of Cyprus," Athens radio said.

The broadcast said the Greek government deferred a decision to send its air force into action against the Turkish jets until the U.N. Security Council in New York considered the crisis.

After angry exchanges between the Greek Cypriot and Turkish delegates Tuesday night, the council appealed to all nations to end flights over Cyprus. Two Turkish fighters flew a reconnaissance mission over the northwest coast earlier in the day.

Makarios said he expected his appeals for military aid to be successful. Cyprus has asked for help from the Soviet Union, the United Arab Republic, Yugoslavia and Syria, but the response has been mainly words of support.

In Ankara, Turkish air commanders said their planes would continue reconnaissance flights and were ready to deal out heavier blows if the Greek Cypriots renew attacks on coastal villages.

The civil war began last December when the Makarios government tried to end the legislative veto of the Turkish Cypriot minority.

Earn Token Votes

At Tuskegee, Ala., where Negroes outnumber white voters, two Negro candidates won their way into runoffs against white incumbents in the voting for seats on the city council.

But three white men were elected outright to the city council. Negroes in these races received only a token vote despite the fact members of their race cast about 200 more votes than the whites.

A predominantly white parents group announced plans to boycott New York City public schools "on Sept. 14 unless there are drastic changes in the board of education plans." This referred to a plan designed to erase segregation caused by neighborhood patterns.

Negroes peacefully desegregated seven restaurants in St. Petersburg, Fla., under protection of federal court injunctions. They were turned away at two others.

Elsewhere, the Saigon government claimed today that its forces killed 42 guerrillas in the Mekong Delta province of Dinh Truong, 30 miles south of Saigon Monday and Tuesday. It said 16 government troops were killed.

About 20 miles southeast of Saigon early today, the Viet Cong reportedly captured eight government soldiers at an outpost in Go Cong Province.

RALPH H. STEWART

Phone Engineer Named Division Leader of Chest

The Pacemaker Division chairman for the 1965 Ulster County Community Chest Campaign is Ralph H. Stewart, it was announced today by Joseph J. Benjamin, general campaign chairman.

Covers Five Sections

The Pacemaker Division is composed of five sections — industry, leadership gifts, attorneys, dentists, and physicians. With almost 500 accounts the Pacemaker quota this fall will be in excess of $100,000.

Stewart is a plant engineer for the New York Telephone Company. He is a graduate of Kingston High and the Moran Spencerian School of Business.

Key in 1964 Drive

Last year Stewart was industrial section manager for the Pacemaker Division. His section raised nearly $65,000 or 98 per cent of quota, the best quota performance of any of the 19 sections in the campaign.

According to campaign Chairman Benjamin, "We are confident that under Stewart's leadership the Pacemaker Division will attain and exceed quota in this fall's campaign. His abilities as a campaigner have been aptly demonstrated and we are grateful indeed that he has agreed to head this key division."

In his statement Stewart explained that he was offering time and effort to the Chest Campaign because of the 12 agencies affiliated with and dependent upon the Chest.

"I firmly believe," says Stewart, "that these agencies make our community or any community a place where we may live, work, and raise children in the true tradition of the American way. Because I am proud of our community, I feel compelled to do something, however small, to help it grow and prosper."

Hudson's Mayor Renews Warning On Use of Water

Mayor Samuel T. Wheeler of Hudson, said Tuesday that residents of that Columbia County city obviously have not adhered to his urgent appeal that they reduce their daily consumption of water to one third because of a shortage.

"As long as water is coming out of the faucet they see no crisis," the mayor reportedly said concerning the current water situation in Hudson and the general attitude of residents.

Mayor Wheeler noted that the city continues to use more than two million gallons a day, and again he issued a warning that the situation is critical.

"We must plainly cut down our consumption of water. Evidently there are many who are still not convinced that an emergency exists. If we are forced to shut the water off, and then only allow it on for two or three hours a day, people will realize the situation."

Officials said the pumping operations at Claverack Creek are continuing, but DPW Superintendent Munroe Tarbell noted the quality of the water is "not good" and indicated that pumping operations cannot continue there much longer.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market staged a mild rally early this afternoon. Trading was livelier than usual.

Gains of fractions to a point or so prevailed among most key stocks.

Jitters about the international situation seemed to be calming down, Wall Streeters said.

Brisk buying in Big Three motors accompanied fairly good gains.

Steels, rubbers, farm implements, aerospace issues, utilities and electrical equipments were mostly higher.

Some of the higher-priced issues tacked on 1 to 3 points.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 314.6 with industrials up 1.2, rails up .2 and utilities up .3.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.17 at 832.25.

Wilkinson Is Victor

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) —A lawyer-educator who spent 13 years as president of Brigham Young University won the Republican nomination today for U.S. senator from Utah.

The final count from the state's 1,222 precincts showed a record primary turnout, as Dr. Ernest L. Wilkinson polled 61,113 and his opponent, Rep. Sherman P. Lloyd, 59,454.

Republicans said Wilkinson's victory augured well for GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Lake Pend Oreille in northwest Idaho is said to have the world's largest rainbow trout, weighing up to 38 pounds.

Scout Council's Camp Tri-Mount Has Record Week

The fifth camping period was a real "record breaker" at Camp Tri-Mount, East Jewett. Owned and operated by the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, Camp Tri-Mount is presently set up for 170 boys a week, in six troop sites.

When some 198 Scouts showed up on Sunday, the camp staff, equal to the situation, simply erected 16 of the newly-returned Jamboree tents in one corner of the parade field. Presto—the camp now had seven sites, with the new village named "Pascack" after the Pascack District in North Bergen County Council from which Troop 80, the occupants of the new village, comes.

Crowded conditions or no, the fun still went on during the fifth week. Honor Patrol was the Wolf Patrol, Troop 70, from Highland. Members included: Kenneth Petery, James Petery, Anthony Tiberio, Richard Palermo, William Bramley, Gary Halstead, Yerby Lands, and Casper Davis.

Aqua Maneuvers were won by the Seneca Campsite, Troop 112 from Tenefly, N. J. Inspection winners were the Onondagas, Troop 141 from Catskill. The entire Troop 112 of Tenafly, N. J. went on the Hunter Fire Tower hike on Thursday.

At the awards campfire on Saturday night many merit badges and rank advancements were recognized, resulting from the week's activities. An hilarious staff skit was presented, with Provisional Scoutmaster Richard Nixdorf narrating the story of Abdul the BulBul Ameer while Scoutmaster Hall of Troop 112 acted out the part of Abdul, and ASM Richard Scism of Troop 12, Kingston, portrayed Ivan Skivitsky Skivar. A staff "chorus" provided background effects.

Eight Scouts were inducted into the Order of the Arrow by a staff team on Saturday night.

These boys were: Victor Hall, Troop 112, Tenafly; Vincent Daughorty, Troop 112, Tenafly; John Byrne, Troop 112, Tenafly; Robert Pelham, Troop 141, Catskill; David Jenkins, Troop 44, Catskill; Thomas Wesdorp, Troop 130, Saugerties; Sanford Whitman, Troop 17, Rosendale; and Joseph Roddy, Troop 17, Rosendale.

Saturday was the annual "Cub Day" at Camp Tri-Mount. Some 150 Cub Scouts, 50 leaders and 200 parents visited Camp Tri-Mount for an afternoon of fun and a tour of the Camp's facilities. Cub Day Chairman Robert Tremper, Roundtable Commissioner in the Onteora Trail District, termed it the most successful Cub Day in years. The afternoon ended with the traditional "green monster" (watermelon) hunt, and picnic supper in the pine grove.

Last week a contingent from the Scout Camp aided in fighting the High Peak fire on Mt. Windham. The following were on the detail: Staff members Douglas Eighmey, William Daum, George Loucks, John Mullaney, Anthony Zell; and Willard Cottrell and Peter Mezey of Troop 112 of Tenafly, N. J.; and Scoutmaster Hugh Schedler of Troop 80, Park Ridge, N. J.

Saturday, Oct. 24, annual oyster supper will be served in the church school room, servings will start at 5:30 p. m. and continue until all are served.

The public will be welcomed to all of these activities.

Hits Street Light

A driver maneuvering out of a parking place on Main Street near the Old Dutch Church Tuesday afternoon, police said, backed into, and cracked off a street light pole at its base. Officer Raymond Wells, who investigated, said the car was driven by Ralph Hopkins, 77, of 4831 East Colonial Drive, Orlando, Fla. In backing to pull from the curb, the report said, the car had apparently been turned "too short."

President Urges All To Register and Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Voting is the first duty of democracy," says President Johnson. And he wants every eligible American to register and vote this fall.

He made his appeal Tuesday at a White House meeting sponsored by the American Heritage Foundation. A bipartisan group of about 170 political, civic, business and government leaders attended.

Johnson said almost 35 per cent of the electorate failed to vote four years ago and almost 40 million eligible men and women are not registered to vote this year.

"We preach the virtues of democracy abroad," Johnson said. "We must practice its duties at home."

Car Is Tangled In Guide Wires, Driver Summoned

A 20-year-old Brooklyn motorist escaped injury at 12:05 a. m. today, but he was cited by State Police for failure to keep to the right after his car went out of control off Route 28 near Mt. Tremper.

Trooper W. E. Wiedemann of Kingston sub-station, said Robert A. Daniels, of Brooklyn, was driving west on the highway when his car failed to negotiate a right curve. The vehicle crossed the highway and went part way down an embankment before it tangled in guide wires.

Trooper John Turck, who investigated with Trooper John McMickle, issued the summons which is returnable at a later date in Town of Shandaken justice's court.

Bill About Meat From Aboard May Be Done

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill that would reduce meat imports has been sent to a Senate-House Conference Committee and backers of the measure fear it will stay right there and die quietly.

The measure which would cut meat imports by 30 per cent, had the backing of the livestock industry and was approved by the Senate on a 72-15 vote.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

Peace of Mind Can Be Most Important Dividend

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—"I bought Fruehauf Corp. at 23 and it is now selling at 33. I'm rather worried about it. Shall I sell and buy something else I am single, middle-aged woman with nobody who can help me."

A—Fruehauf is a stock which is very sensitive to changes in business conditions. It is not the type of issue that a person like yourself should hold and I see little likelihood of further big gains.

Your situation is rather a lonely one and I don't believe you should be subjected to continual worry about your investment. I would sell and buy Pacific Gas & Electric, a good public utility at around the same price level.

You would sacrifice something in yield, but I believe gain considerably in peace of mind.

Q—"I am 58 years old, have $1,000 in savings. I also have $14,000 in Southwest Gas, General Electric, Ford Motor, Hoover Company, C. R. Bard, Kentucky Utilities. Since I have a feeling of insecurity, I would appreciate your advice as to whether any of these stocks should be sold and proceeds added to savings." L. McA.

A — To paraphrase a very great man, if you feel insecure about stock holdings, I would sell down to the security level. You do have, in my opinion, too large a stock list in relation to your cash backlog.

Your stocks are all good. Ford Motor has not been acting as well technically as the others included in the Big Three and it is subject to fairly wide price fluctuations. I think for your purpose this stock might be sold.

I like Hoover but this appliance stock is also subject to cyclical variations in earnings, although the trend has been generally upward. Again, solely to build up your savings, I would sell Hoover.

The balance of your stocks are strong and growing, and I would retain them.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Humanities Institute

NEW PALTZ—Mrs. Harriet Cunningham, 12th grade English teacher at the New Paltz Central School was among those participating in the Institute on Man and Science at Rensselaerville recently.

The institute is supported by private contributions and public and private foundations and is chartered under the board of regents of the State of New York. Through dialogue and lectures, scientists and philosophers discussed the physical world and man's creative urge to express himself in all areas of science and the arts.

A course in humanities will be offered at New Paltz High School next year for a group of seniors beyond the scope of the conventional high school course.

Bowling League Meets

The Merchants League annual bowling meeting will be held Tuesday, Aug. 18, at 8 p. m. at the College Lanes, New Paltz. All members should attend.

Methodist Activities

NEW PALTZ—Worship services will be held at the New Paltz Methodist Church this Sunday 8:30 and 11 a. m.

Robert Fishel, senior at Garrett Seminary, Chicago, Ill., will be guest speaker at both services. Special music will be presented by Kenneth Baumgartner.

Mr. Fishel is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts and is presently working at the Bushwick Avenue Methodist Church for the Methodist Student Movement. While on the campus of Ohio State University he served as intern in the Wesley Foundation.

The Senior Youth Retreat will be held Aug. 26 and 27. All senior youth in grades 9 through 12 may participate. Those interested should notify the pastor, the Rev. Roy Allan Hassel as soon as possible.

Gotham Polio Case

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's first case of paralytic polio in two years has been reported by the Health Department.

A 10-year-old Brooklyn boy became ill while out of the city, the department said Tuesday. The boy had received both the Salk and Sabin vaccines.

Before the Salk vaccine, polio cases averaged 800 a year.

County Treasurer Speaks for Lions

Guest speaker at the Kingston Lions Club Tuesday luncheon was Fred H. DuBois, Ulster County Treasurer and member of the New Paltz Lions Club.

DuBois explained the duties of his office and stressed that all money expended is authorized through State statute and the Board of Supervisors.

He described such procedures as bank deposits, mortgage tax receipts, estates, sale of tax property and cash bail money.

Vice president Carl Pitcock stated that the monthly board of directors meeting will take place tonight at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Committee assignments will be announced.

Kennedy Sure

presence would help all Democrats running throughout the state.

On the other side, some see the selection of an outsider as a confession of weakness—that the party cannot find a qualified candidate within its own ranks.

Republicans — and Stratton—have pressed the argument that Kennedy would be "a carpetbagger" coming into the state to seek a powerful position without the necessary background and experience in New York affairs.

Wagner said Tuesday at a news conference that Kennedy would be vulnerable on the carpetbagging issue "but he would also bring many assets to a campaign in this state."

Keating May Run

Republicans are expected to renominate Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, although he has not announced formally he will run.

The Republican convention also will be held on Sept. 1.

Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman, Democratic former governor of New York, said in Washington that Kennedy would be the strongest senate candidate the Democrats could pick, and he hopes he will run.

Harriman said he had checked leading Democrats in the state organization and in private life and found that Kennedy is "thought of very highly."

Considering Release Of Assassination Text

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren Commission, meeting in secret to consider how it will release the text of its Kennedy assassination report, considered a plan whereby contracts would be signed between the government and some information media.

These media would be supplied the text of the report somewhat in advance of other media on condition they "observe security" — not publish the report before the specified release date and then publish it in full.

The commission's chief counsel, J. Lee Rankin, briefed newsmen after the secret session Tuesday. The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, is nearing the end of its long investigation into the assassination last Nov. 22 of President John F. Kennedy.

There have been reports that certain paperback book companies have had negotiations with the commission. So, a reporter asked: "How can a government commission, engaged on such a project of grave national import, engage in contractual negotiations with private concerns?"

Said Rankin: "You will have to take this up with Mr. George Reedy at the White House."

Reedy is the White House press secretary.

Rankin's response was the same when asked if the report shouldn't be released to everyone simultaneously, perhaps three or four days in advance, so everyone would get a chance to read the thick document before writing about it.

At the White House, Reedy told a newsman: "As far as the White House is concerned, no plans have been made for the release of the report. We will give consideration to this matter at an appropriate time."

In Rochester, N.Y., Paul Miller, president of The Associated Press and president of the Gannett Newspapers, said when asked for comment: "The Associated Press is opposed and will continue to be opposed to anything other than simultaneous release of the report to all."

Treasurer Urges Tax Payment Before Sept 1.

Fred H. DuBois, County Treasurer advises taxpayers in the towns of Ulster County that the town tax collectors warrants for collection of 1964 taxes expires Sept. 1. After that date, the tax rolls will be submitted to the Ulster County treasurer's office.

Any unpaid taxes for the current year should be paid to the collector before that date in order to avoid extra penalities. Penalty for taxes paid during August is 4 per cent. After the tax is returned to the county treasurer's office, a 5 per cent penalty is charged, plus an additional penalty of interest at the rate of 10 per cent per annum figured from Feb. 1, 1964, to date of payment.

Heat Is Reduced In Dutchess Lab By New Machinery

Two high capacity air conditioners became operational in the laboratory wing of Northern Dutchess Hospital during the most recent heat wave. Walter F. Wheeler, superintendent of plant and grounds, said a large new exhaust fan was also installed in the machine room to help cool the motors of the new equipment.

McCarney's air conditioning service had the installation contract.

Paul Alessi, Hudson has joined the maintenance staff at Northern Dutchess Hospital. He had previously been employed for 14 years doing similar work at Rip Van Winkle Clinic which is suspending operations.

He added:

"Every president, if he's worth his salt, will pick his own Cabinet. He must pick his own associates for the top echelon of government. However, I can assure you that I would not appoint anyone to the offices of secretary of state, or secretary of defense or other critical national security posts until I have first discussed my plans for those appointments with Gen. Eisenhower, Dick Nixon and other experienced leaders seasoned in world affairs."

Goldwater offered a string of pledges to the 38 Republicans, Eisenhower and Nixon among them, he summoned here to talk about party unity.

The senator had a preview unity talk Tuesday with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Talk 90 Minutes

He said they met for about 90 minutes to discuss the party, campaign issues and "the normal things good Republicans talk about."

Goldwater said he had not discussed the role Rockefeller might play in his campaign.

The governor has said he will support the ticket, but campaign only in New York.

Goldwater told the summit conference he and vice-presidential nominee William E. Miller would stand behind the GOP platform's "solemn pledge for full implementation" of the new civil rights law.

On Alert Over Turkey

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council went on a standby alert today after issuing an appeal aimed at stopping Turkey's jet flights over Cyprus and averting attacks by Greek Cypriots on the island's Turkish Minority.

Council President Sivert A. Nielsen of Norway made the appeal Tuesday night after another emergency council session to deal with a complaint by Cyprus that Turkey violated the ceasefire by an air attack Monday on the village of Polis.

Greeks Want

without consulting Greece. Turkey responded with four days of air attacks on Greek Cypriot territory.

Athens radio said the Greek Cypriots broke an agreement in failing to get Greece's approval of the military campaign.

It said Greek Premier George Papandreou sent a cable to Makarios saying: "I express my deepest sorrow because we have agreed differently and you have acted differently."

Greek Cypriot Foreign Minister Spyros Kyprianou flew to Athens Tuesday and met with Papandreou according to Athens radio. Later, the Greek government issued a communique pledging full support to Greek Cypriots in case of another Turkish attack.

Athens Decision

"In view of the barbaric Turkish bombing of the noncombatant population, the Athens government decided in an extraordinary session to throw its full weight in support of Cyprus," Athens radio said.

The broadcast said the Greek government deferred a decision to send its air force into action against the Turkish jets until the U.N. Security Council in New York considered the crisis.

After angry exchanges between the Greek Cypriot and Turkish delegates Tuesday night, the council appealed to all nations to end flights over Cyprus. Two Turkish fighters flew a reconnaissance mission over the northwest coast earlier in the day.

Makarios said he expected his appeals for military aid to be successful. Cyprus has asked for help from the Soviet Union, the United Arab Republic, Yugoslavia and Syria, but the response has been mainly words of support.

In Ankara, Turkish air commanders said their planes would continue reconnaissance flights and were ready to deal out heavier blows if the Greek Cypriots renew attacks on coastal villages.

The civil war began last December when the Makarios government tried to end the legislative veto of the Turkish Cypriot minority.

But three white men were elected outright to the city council. Negroes in these races received only a token vote despite the fact members of their race cast about 200 more votes than the whites.

A predominantly white parents group announced plans to boycott New York City public schools "on Sept. 14 unless there are drastic changes in the board of education plans." This referred to a plan designed to erase segregation caused by neighborhood patterns.

Negroes peacefully desegregated seven restaurants in St. Petersburg, Fla., under protection of federal court injunctions. They were turned away at two others.

About 20 miles southeast of Saigon early today, the Viet Cong reportedly captured eight government soldiers at an outpost in Go Cong Province.

RALPH H. STEWART

Phone Engineer Named Division Leader of Chest

The Pacemaker Division chairman for the 1965 Ulster County Community Chest Campaign is Ralph H. Stewart, it was announced today by Joseph J. Benjamin, general campaign chairman.

Covers Five Sections

The Pacemaker Division is composed of five sections — industry, leadership gifts, attorneys, dentists, and physicians. With almost 500 accounts the Pacemaker quota this fall will be in excess of $100,000.

Stewart is a plant engineer for the New York Telephone Company. He is a graduate of Kingston High and the Moran Spencerian School of Business.

Key in 1964 Drive

Last year Stewart was industrial section manager for the Pacemaker Division. His section raised nearly $65,000 or 98 per cent of quota, the best quota performance of any of the 19 sections in the campaign.

According to campaign Chairman Benjamin, "We are confident that under Stewart's leadership the Pacemaker Division will attain and exceed quota in this fall's campaign. His abilities as a campaigner have been aptly demonstrated and we are grateful indeed that he has agreed to head this key division."

In his statement Stewart explained that he was offering time and effort to the Chest Campaign because of the 12 agencies affiliated with and dependent upon the Chest.

"I firmly believe," says Stewart, "that these agencies make our community or any community a place where we may live, work, and raise children in the true tradition of the American way. Because I am proud of our community, I feel compelled to do something, however small, to help it grow and prosper."

Hudson's Mayor Renews Warning On Use of Water

Mayor Samuel T. Wheeler of Hudson, said Tuesday that residents of that Columbia County city obviously have not adhered to his urgent appeal that they reduce their daily consumption of water to one third because of a shortage.

"As long as water is coming out of the faucet they see no crisis," the mayor reportedly said concerning the current water situation in Hudson and the general attitude of residents.

Mayor Wheeler noted that the city continues to use more than two million gallons a day, and again he issued a warning that the situation is critical.

"We must plainly cut down our consumption of water. Evidently there are many who are still not convinced that an emergency exists. If we are forced to shut the water off, and then only allow it on for two or three hours a day, people will realize the situation."

Officials said the pumping operations at Claverack Creek are continuing, but DPW Superintendent Munroe Tarbell noted the quality of the water is "not good" and indicated that pumping operations cannot continue there much longer.

Steuben for RFK

BATH, N. Y. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was endorsed Tuesday night by the executive committee of the Steuben County Democrats Committee for the party's senatorial nomination in New York State.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market staged a mild rally early this afternoon. Trading was livelier than usual.

Gains of fractions to a point or so prevailed among most key stocks.

Jitters about the international situation seemed to be calming down, Wall Streeters said.

Brisk buying in Big Three motors accompanied fairly good gains.

Steels, rubbers, farm implements, aerospace issues, utilities and electrical equipments were mostly higher.

Copper stocks advanced decisively on further news of rising prices for the red metal.

Some of the higher-priced issues tacked on 1 to 3 points.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 314.6 with industrials up 1.2, rails up .2 and utilities up .3.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 4.17 at 832.25.

Wilkinson Is Victor

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) —A lawyer-educator who spent 13 years as president of Brigham Young University won the Republican nomination today for U.S. senator from Utah.

The final count from the state's 1,222 precincts showed a record primary turnout, as Dr. Ernest L. Wilkinson polled 61,113 and his opponent, Rep. Sherman P. Lloyd, 59,454.

Republicans said Wilkinson's victory augured well for GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

Lake Pend Oreille in northwest Idaho is said to have the world's largest rainbow trout, weighing up to 38 pounds.

Scout Council's Camp Tri-Mount Has Record Week

The fifth camping period was a real "record breaker" at Camp Tri-Mount, East Jewett. Owned and operated by the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America, Camp Tri-Mount is presently set up for 170 boys a week, in six troop sites.

When some 198 Scouts showed up on Sunday, the camp staff, equal to the situation, simply erected 16 of the newly-returned Jamboree tents in one corner of the parade field. Presto—the camp now had seven sites, with the new village named "Pascack" after the Pascack District in North Bergen County Council from which Troop 80, the occupants of the new village, comes.

Crowded conditions or no, the fun still went on during the fifth week. Honor Patrol was the Wolf Patrol, Troop 70, from Highland. Members included: Kenneth Petery, James Petery, Anthony Tiberio, Richard Palermo, William Bramley, Gary Halstead, Yerby Lands, and Casper Davis.

Aqua Maneuvers were won by the Seneca Campsite, Troop 112 from Tenefly, N. J. Inspection winners were the Onondagas, Troop 141 from Catskill. The entire Troop 112 of Tenafly, N. J. went on the Hunter Fire Tower hike on Thursday.

At the awards campfire on Saturday night many merit badges and rank advancements were recognized, resulting from the week's activities. An hilarious staff skit was presented, with Provisional Scoutmaster Richard Nixdorf narrating the story of Abdul the BulBul Ameer while Scoutmaster Hall of Troop 112 acted out the part of Abdul, and ASM Richard Scism of Troop 12, Kingston, portrayed Ivan Skivitsky Skivar. A staff "chorus" provided background effects.

Eight Scouts were inducted into the Order of the Arrow by a staff team on Saturday night.

These boys were: Victor Hall, Troop 112, Tenafly; Vincent Daughorty, Troop 112, Tenafly; John Byrne, Troop 112, Tenafly; Robert Pelham, Troop 141, Catskill; David Jenkins, Troop 44, Catskill; Thomas Wesdorp, Troop 130, Saugerties; Sanford Whitman, Troop 17, Rosendale; and Joseph Roddy, Troop 17, Rosendale.

Saturday was the annual "Cub Day" at Camp Tri-Mount. Some 150 Cub Scouts, 50 leaders and 200 parents visited Camp Tri-Mount for an afternoon of fun and a tour of the Camp's facilities. Cub Day Chairman Robert Tremper, Roundtable Commissioner in the Onteora Trail District, termed it the most successful Cub Day in years. The afternoon ended with the traditional "green monster" (watermelon) hunt, and picnic supper in the pine grove.

Last week a contingent from the Scout Camp aided in fighting the High Peak fire on Mt. Windham. The following were on the detail: Staff members Douglas Eighmey, William Daum, George Loucks, John Mullaney, Anthony Zell; and Willard Cottrell and Peter Mezey of Troop 112 of Tenafly, N. J.; and Scoutmaster Hugh Schedler of Troop 80, Park Ridge, N. J.

Olive Bridge

OLIVE BRIDGE — Saturday, Aug. 22, the annual chicken barbecue and fair will be served in the church school room, servings start at 5:30 p. m. Fair will be open at 10 a. m. on church lawn. There will be hand made quilts, rugs, aprons and many fancy and useful articles for sale.

Saturday, Oct. 24, annual oyster supper will be served in the church school room, servings will start at 5:30 p. m. and continue until all are served.

The public will be welcomed to all of these activities.

Hits Street Light

A driver maneuvering out of a parking place on Main Street near the Old Dutch Church Tuesday afternoon, police said, backed into, and cracked off a street light pole at its base. Officer Raymond Wells, who investigated, said the car was driven by Ralph Hopkins, 77, of 4831 East Colonial Drive, Orlando, Fla. In backing to pull from the curb, the report said, the car had apparently been turned "too short."

President Urges All To Register and Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Voting is the first duty of democracy," says President Johnson. And he wants every eligible American to register and vote this fall.

He made his appeal Tuesday at a White House meeting sponsored by the American Heritage Foundation. A bipartisan group of about 170 political, civic, business and government leaders attended.

Johnson said almost 35 per cent of the electorate failed to vote four years ago and almost 40 million eligible men and women are not registered to vote this year.

"We preach the virtues of democracy abroad," Johnson said. "We must practice its duties at home."

Car Is Tangled In Guide Wires, Driver Summoned

A 20-year-old Brooklyn motorist escaped injury at 12:05 a. m. today, but he was cited by State Police for failure to keep to the right after his car went out of control off Route 28 near Mt. Tremper.

Trooper W. E. Wiedemann of Kingston sub-station, said Robert A. Daniels, of Brooklyn, was driving west on the highway when his car failed to negotiate a right curve. The vehicle crossed the highway and went part way down an embankment before it tangled in guide wires.

Trooper John Turck, who investigated with Trooper John McMickle, issued the summons which is returnable at a later date in Town of Shandaken justice's court.

Bill About Meat From Aboard May Be Done

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill that would reduce meat imports has been sent to a Senate-House Conference Committee and backers of the measure fear it will stay right there and die quietly.

The measure which would cut meat imports by 30 per cent, had the backing of the livestock industry and was approved by the Senate on a 72-15 vote.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—"I bought Fruehauf Corp. at 23 and it is now selling at 33. I'm rather worried about it. Shall I sell and buy something else I am single, middle-aged woman with nobody who can help me."

A—Fruehauf is a stock which is very sensitive to changes in business conditions. It is not the type of issue that a person like yourself should hold and I see little likelihood of further big gains.

Your situation is rather a lonely one and I don't believe you should be subjected to continual worry about your investment. I would sell and buy Pacific Gas & Electric, a good public utility at around the same price level.

You would sacrifice something in yield, but I believe gain considerably in peace of mind.

Q—"I am 58 years old, have $1,000 in savings. I also have $14,000 in Southwest Gas, General Electric, Ford Motor, Hoover Company, C. R. Bard, Kentucky Utilities. Since I have a feeling of insecurity, I would appreciate your advice as to whether any of these stocks should be sold and proceeds added to savings." L. McA.

A — To paraphrase a very great man, if you feel insecure about stock holdings, I would sell down to the security level. You do have, in my opinion, too large a stock list in relation to your cash backlog.

Your stocks are all good. Ford Motor has not been acting as well technically as the others included in the Big Three and it is subject to fairly wide price fluctuations. I think for your purpose this stock might be sold.

I like Hoover but this appliance stock is also subject to cyclical variations in earnings, although the trend has been generally upward. Again, solely to build up your savings, I would sell Hoover.

The balance of your stocks are strong and growing, and I would retain them.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Humanities Institute

NEW PALTZ—Mrs. Harriet Cunningham, 12th grade English teacher at the New Paltz Central School was among those participating in the Institute on Man and Science at Rensselaerville recently.

The institute is supported by private contributions and public and private foundations and is chartered under the board of regents of the State of New York. Through dialogue and lectures, scientists and philosophers discussed the physical world and man's creative urge to express himself in all areas of science and the arts.

A course in humanities will be offered at New Paltz High School next year for a group of seniors beyond the scope of the conventional high school course.

Bowling League Meets

The Merchants League annual bowling meeting will be held Tuesday, Aug. 18, at 8 p. m. at the College Lanes, New Paltz. All members should attend.

Methodist Activities

NEW PALTZ—Worship services will be held at the New Paltz Methodist Church this Sunday 8:30 and 11 a. m.

Robert Fishel, senior at Garrett Seminary, Chicago, Ill., will be guest speaker at both services. Special music will be presented by Kenneth Baumgartner.

Mr. Fishel is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts and is presently working at the Bushwick Avenue Methodist Church for the Methodist Student Movement. While on the campus of Ohio State University he served as intern in the Wesley Foundation.

The Senior Youth Retreat will be held Aug. 26 and 27. All senior youth in grades 9 through 12 may participate. Those interested should notify the pastor, the Rev. Roy Allan Hassel as soon as possible.

Gotham Polio Case

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's first case of paralytic polio in two years has been reported by the Health Department.

A 10-year-old Brooklyn boy became ill while out of the city, the department said Tuesday. The boy had received both the Salk and Sabin vaccines.

Before the Salk vaccine, polio cases averaged 800 a year.

County Treasurer Speaks for Lions

Guest speaker at the Kingston Lions Club Tuesday luncheon was Fred H. DuBois, Ulster County Treasurer and member of the New Paltz Lions Club.

DuBois explained the duties of his office and stressed that all money expended is authorized through State statute and the Board of Supervisors.

He described such procedures as bank deposits, mortgage tax receipts, estates, sale of tax property and cash bail money.

Vice president Carl Pitcock stated that the monthly board of directors meeting will take place tonight at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Committee assignments will be announced.

Kennedy Sure

presence would help all Democrats running throughout the state.

On the other side, some see the selection of an outsider as a confession of weakness—that the party cannot find a qualified candidate within its own ranks.

Republicans — and Stratton—have pressed the argument that Kennedy would be "a carpetbagger" coming into the state to seek a powerful position without the necessary background and experience in New York affairs.

Wagner said Tuesday at a news conference that Kennedy would be vulnerable on the carpetbagging issue "but he would also bring many assets to a campaign in this state."

Keating May Run

Republicans are expected to renominate Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, although he has not announced formally he will run.

The Republican convention also will be held on Sept. 1.

Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman, Democratic former governor of New York, said in Washington that Kennedy would be the strongest senate candidate the Democrats could pick, and he hopes he will run.

Harriman said he had checked leading Democrats in the state organization and in private life and found that Kennedy is "thought of very highly."

Francis W. H. Adams, a leader in the reform wing of the Democratic party here and former city police commissioner, issued a statement opposing Kennedy and supporting Stratton for the nomination.

NEW YORK (AP) — The summer finds retailers fighting a see-saw battle to set record sales. Bankers, on the other hand, keep reporting that deposits are rising to successive highs.

But in July people bought more autos than in June. This pushed the vital sector of retail sales, durable goods, up by 2 per cent. This, says the Commerce Department in a preliminary guess, makes July the record month for sales in general.

Record Didn't Last

The department had said the same thing about June in its preliminary survey. But that record didn't hold for long. Later figures dropped June behind May, leaving the earlier month still the champ.

At the same time consumers were buying more cars and other goods, both hard and soft, they weren't neglecting their bank accounts.

The National Association of Mutual Savings Banks reports the nation's 507 mutual savings banks had a total of $46.5 billion deposits in July, compared with $42.7 billion a year earlier.

This made July the record month. But the banks also had another record. The rise in deposits last month was $275 million to top the previous high of a $158 million increase in July 1962. This summer's advance was more than twice that of July 1963, when deposit totals rose by $122 million.

People Saving Some

The association says that rising deposits have been almost continuous during the five months since the federal income tax cut took effect. The bankers say people apparently are saving up to half of the tax cut.

Steadily rising totals of personal income, from wages and salaries, interest, rent collections, as well as tax breaks, have been enough to keep both the banks and the stores reasonably happy.

The Commerce Department's latest estimates put retail sales in May at $21.8 billion, and in June at $21.7 billion. It's first guess for July is $21.9 billion. If that holds, the midsummer month will be the champ.

Economists watch the durable goods sector closely because that is the most volatile. The nondurables, such as food and clothing and gasoline, leave the consumer with less discretion. He spends nearly the same on these when personal incomes are leveling off as he does when they are rising.

But when the consumer buys the big-ticket items, the cars and appliances, it may be because he feels confident of being able to swing the payments, or feels flush and expansive. It's a clue to how long the present business expansion may last.

London's Report Says Train Bandit Escapes Prison

LONDON (AP) — A 32-year-old convict serving a 30-year term for his part in Britain's great train robbery escaped before dawn today from Birmingham Prison.

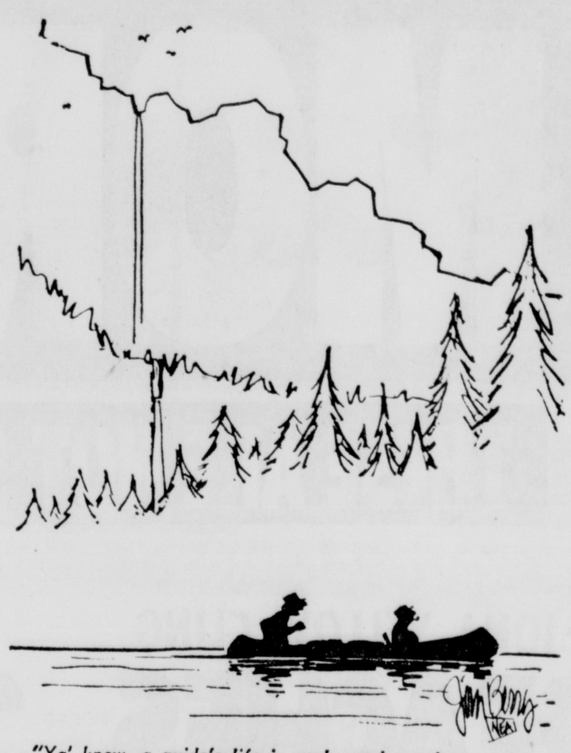

Scotland Yard posted men on all major roads surrounding London on the hunch that the escapee, Charles Frederick Wilson, would head for the capital.

Most of the $7,025,000 loot in the robbery just a year ago has not been recovered.

Prison officials said Wilson had help in breaking out. They said several men got inside, knocked out a night patrol officer and then scaled the prison wall with a rope ladder.

Odds Are Against Ready-Made Hit For Fall Season

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Should ABC's new comedy series, "No Time For Sergeants" prove to be anything like the movie of the same name, a better title for the television series would be "Jethro Clampett Joins the Army."

The business of adapting a popular film or book as a series has certain marked advantages. "Dr. Kildare" made its television debut as a pioneering doctor show with a bit of audience insurance because a lot of people knew and loved the old radio and movie "Kildare" shows.

"Sergeants" has the advantage of the popular hillbilly theme of an innocent country jake who naively outwits the sharp con men — at least that was the way it was in the movie, now visible around the channels in reruns.

Getting a television program onto the air is an expensive gamble with odds so high against a hit show that it is surprising so many people are willing to take the risk.

An even more delicate operation, however, is maintaining public interest in a series that has been around a few seasons and whose format is beginning to wear thin.

Thus at the beginning of each new television season we inevitably hear about changes in progress.

For instance, this season NBC will send "Dr. Kildare" to Rome, far from his usual hospital base, and Bill Dana's bellhop character will have a chance to leave his hotel occasionally.

"Rawhide," which has been driving that herd of cattle over the CBS plains for years, will spruce up with some big-name guest stars, while "Gunsmoke's" Marshal Dillon will have a new sidekick after all those years of relying on Chester for chuckles.

"Lassie" will lose her old adoring family and start life anew with an adoring forest ranger. "Mr. Novak" will encounter a new, pretty dean of girls at his high school, and Andy Griffith will be romantically interested in a new girl in town for the second or third time since the series started.

The association says that rising deposits have been almost continuous during the five months since the federal income tax cut took effect. The bankers say people apparently are saving up to half of the tax cut.

Steadily rising totals of personal income, from wages and salaries, interest, rent collections, as well as tax breaks, have been enough to keep both the banks and the stores reasonably happy.

The Commerce Department's latest estimates put retail sales in May at $21.8 billion, and in June at $21.7 billion. It's first guess for July is $21.9 billion. If that holds, the midsummer month will be the champ.

Economists watch the durable goods sector closely because that is the most volatile. The nondurables, such as food and clothing and gasoline, leave the consumer with less discretion. He spends nearly the same on these when personal incomes are leveling off as he does when they are rising.

But when the consumer buys the big-ticket items, the cars and appliances, it may be because he feels confident of being able to swing the payments, or feels flush and expansive. It's a clue to how long the present business expansion may last.

London's Report Says Train Bandit Escapes Prison

LONDON (AP) — A 32-year-old convict serving a 30-year term for his part in Britain's great train robbery escaped before dawn today from Birmingham Prison.

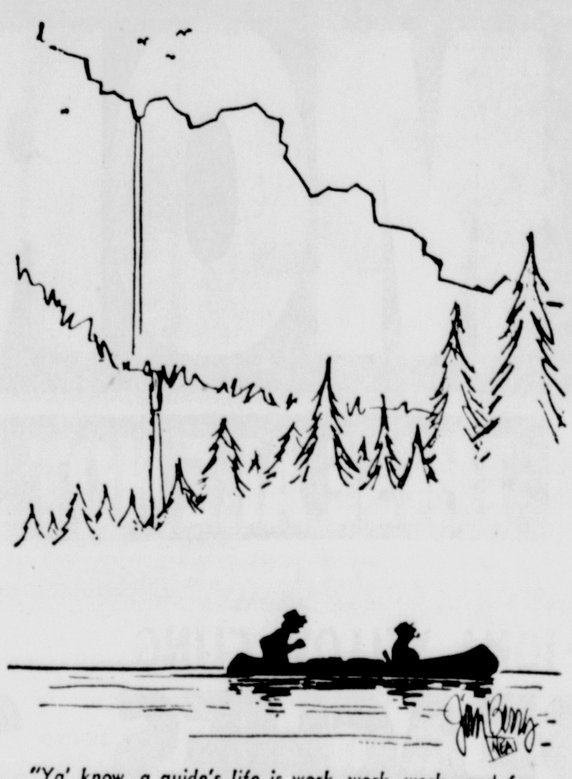

Scotland Yard posted men on all major roads surrounding London on the hunch that the escapee, Charles Frederick Wilson, would head for the capital.

Most of the $7,025,000 loot in the robbery just a year ago has not been recovered.

Prison officials said Wilson had help in breaking out. They said several men got inside, knocked out a night patrol officer and then scaled the prison wall with a rope ladder.

Odds Are Against Ready-Made Hit For Fall Season

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Should ABC's new comedy series, "No Time For Sergeants" prove to be anything like the movie of the same name, a better title for the television series would be "Jethro Clampett Joins the Army."

The business of adapting a popular film or book as a series has certain marked advantages. "Dr. Kildare" made its television debut as a pioneering doctor show with a bit of audience insurance because a lot of people knew and loved the old radio and movie "Kildare" shows.

"Sergeants" has the advantage of the popular hillbilly theme of an innocent country jake who naively outwits the sharp con men — at least that was the way it was in the movie, now visible around the channels in reruns.

Getting a television program onto the air is an expensive gamble with odds so high against a hit show that it is surprising so many people are willing to take the risk.

An even more delicate operation, however, is maintaining public interest in a series that has been around a few seasons and whose format is beginning to wear thin.

Thus at the beginning of each new television season we inevitably hear about changes in progress.

For instance, this season NBC will send "Dr. Kildare" to Rome, far from his usual hospital base, and Bill Dana's bellhop character will have a chance to leave his hotel occasionally.

"Rawhide," which has been driving that herd of cattle over the CBS plains for years, will spruce up with some big-name guest stars, while "Gunsmoke's" Marshal Dillon will have a new sidekick after all those years of relying on Chester for chuckles.

"Lassie" will lose her old adoring family and start life anew with an adoring forest ranger. "Mr. Novak" will encounter a new, pretty dean of girls at his high school, and Andy Griffith will be romantically interested in a new girl in town for the second or third time since the series started.

Ferraro Orchestra Will Play Saturday At Kingston Patrolmen's Show in Armory

Kingston Armory on Manor Avenue will be the scene Saturday night of the second annual dance and entertainment sponsored by the Kingston Patrolmen's Association.

Pete Ferraro and his orchestra will furnish dancing music for the occasion, which will start 9 p. m. Ferraro and his group have played for three consecutive Kingston Newspaper Guild Page One Balls, six New York State Pageants and numerous outstanding social functions in the county.

Four distinguished Broadway acts have also been signed for the event. Performers for the evening will include Bobby Carroll, billed as the "wizard of the banjo;" Tina and Coco, Flamenco dancers and Jerry Hartnett with his adult puppet show.

PETE FERRARO

Rod Rogers, comedian and star of stage, screen and TV will be master of ceremonies. He played Doc Myerbeer in "The Unsinkable Molly Brown."

Louis Sapp is general chairman of the evening. Tickets may be purchased from a member of the association.

Kingston School of Practical Nursing Will Have Commencement Exercises August 16

Honor students, Mrs. Elsie Kent, valedictorian, and Mrs. Valerie Ketcham Papp, salutatorian, will address the audience at the graduation exercises of the Kingston School of Practical Nursing, to be held Sunday, Aug. 16 2 p. m. in the George Washington School auditorium, it was announced today by Raphael Klein, director of adult education in the Kingston City Schools.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Dale B. Lake, president of Ulster County Community College. The invocation will be given by the Rev. C. O. Newton of the AME Methodist Church.

The occasion will mark the culmination of a year's intensive study in practical nursing theory and skills for the 17 graduates who will receive their diplomas. The program has been held under the auspices of the Kingston City Schools Consolidated, which has maintained classrooms at the Brigham School. The students also received practical application of classroom work at three cooperating hospitals, Kingston Hospital, Benedictine Hospital, and the Hudson River State Hospital in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Mrs. Kent, valedictorian, was born in New York City, where she attended elementary school, moving to Ulster Park at the age of 15 and graduating from Kingston High School. Mrs. Kent is married to G. Allen Kent and has four children, Karen, 15, Stephen, 13, Allan, 9, and Brian, 5. They reside at 50 Shufeldt Street in Kingston.

Mrs. Papp, salutatorian, was born in Riga, Latvia. She came to the United States via Germany where she spent the war years as a displaced person. She and her two children, Nicolette, 18, and Glenn, 9, have been residing in Woodstock for the past 7 years.

Featured on the program will be a solo by one of the graduates, Mrs. Charlotte Smith, who will be accompanied by Melvin Navy, pianist.

The audience will also be entertained by the Kingston Concert Band of the American Federation of Musicians, Local 215, under the direction of Marlin E Morrette. This has been made possible through the courtesy of a grant from the Performance Trust Fund.

Graduates of the class include:

Ruth Bennett, Althea Blatchly, Margaret Brown, Sylvia Conklin, Elisabeth Gersh, Sandra Goldfrank, Catherine Frisbie, Alice Johnson, Elsie Kent, Janice Langevin, Veronica Maloney, Valerie Papp, Claire Quenzer, Olive Sadler, Charlotte Smith, Mathilde Von Bradsky and Janet Young.

The graduation ceremony is open to the public.

Krips to Conduct N. Y. Philharmonic For Community Concerts on Sept. 23

John McCullough, president of the Community Concert Association, announced today that all subscribers of the local association will receive their membership cards for the forthcoming season within the next few days.

Subscribers who do not receive their memberships promptly are urged to contact Mrs. Louis Kegler, Mrs. Bernard Forst, or Mrs. Lloyd LeFever immediately.

Appearing at the Community Theatre Sept. 23 will be the world renowned New York Philharmonic Orchestra under the direction of Josef Krips.

Arranging a tour for a symphony orchestra is a Herculean task, and for as long as this task has been feasible the New York Philharmonic has been noted as a touring orchestra. Its coast-to-coast U. S. tours, its tours to Europe, the Near East, to Central and South America and to Japan have been interspersed with many journeys of lesser magnitude.

Masterpieces

Among the masterpieces introduced to American audiences by the Philharmonic have been Beethoven's first, eighth and ninth symphonies, Mendelssohn's third and fourth symphonies, Schumann's first and second symphonies, Berlioz' Symphonie Fantastique, Strauss' Death and Transfiguration and Ravel's Bolero. World premieres have included the Dvorak "New World" Symphony, Rachmaninoff's Piano Concerto No. 3 as well as Gershwin's Concerto in F.

Scores of noted soloists were first heard in the U. S. at Philharmonic concerts, and the extensive soloist roster includes the most renowned names of many music eras. Among them have been Casals, Kreisler, Rachmaninoff, Heifetz, Milstein, Stern, Tebaldi, Cliburn and Melchior.

Josef Krips, conductor and musical director of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, made his first appearances as guest conductor of the New York Philharmonic during the 1961-62 season, directing four weeks of subscription concerts. He returned for eight weeks in 1963-64, and will conduct ten weeks of concerts during the 1964-65 season while Leonard Bernstein is on sabbatical leave.

First Visit 1953

Mr. Krips made his first visit to the U. S. in 1953. He was immediately engaged for the following season as Music Director of both the Buffalo Philharmonic and the Cincinnati May Festival, for he was considered one of the foremost symphonic conductors of Europe.

"When top-rank conductors are discussed these days, the name of Krips undoubtedly belongs among them," wrote The Christian Science Monitor. Last of the great conductors of the so-called Viennese School in the tradition glorified by Gustav Mahler, Richard Strauss and Bruno Walter, Mr. Krips' 1963-64 activities climax two years during which he is conducting solidly around the calendar in virtually every important musical center of the world.

The program chosen by the conductor for the concert here include Symphony No. 6, Schubert; Tone Poem "Don Juan", Richard Strauss; Symphony No. 2, Brahms.

Garden Social Set For Thursday; Will Benefit JCC School

Mrs. Joseph Horowitz, chairman of the garden social and card party scheduled for Thursday afternoon at 12:30 on the Horowitz lawn, announced that some room is still available either in sun or shade for additional guests and game tables. Mrs. Jack Parnett and Mrs. Milton Ratner are taking reservations.

Working on the committee for the event, which will benefit the Jewish Community Center nursery school, are the Mmes. Jack Parnett, Harris Gally, Herbert Gertner, Jerimiah Sachs and Seymour Werbalowsky.

A special dessert buffet of homemade treats will be served during the afternoon. Last minute reservations also will be welcomed.

In case of rain, the program will be held indoors at Mrs. Horowitz's home on Sherry Lane.

Indian Show Tops Two-Week Program At Jewish Camp

The annual camp Indian show climaxed the end of a two-week program theme last Friday at the Jewish Community Center's Hurley Mountain campsite. Under the supervision of their counselors, each group, fully costumed in outfits made during their arts and crafts periods, demonstrated an Indian dance or dramatized an Indian legend.

The judging staff, composed of Camp Director Robert Kurland, Unit Leader Carol Spiegel and craft specialist Pamela Goldstein, awarded the following prizes: Leah Rappaport, most beautiful costume; Merle Katz, most original costume; Leslie Rosdol, most work done on costume; and Bruce Nussbaum, funniest costume.

Judged as best presentations were the "Chipmunks," under counselor Patricia Lipp and "Raindrops" under counselor Felice Wilpan.

Woodstock Is Professional This Week

BY DOROTHY A. NAREL

"Absence of a Cello" is a modern, fast-moving comedy about a creative, individualistic scientist and his bid for a $60,000 post with a large industrial firm.

This may sound rather mundane—don't be deceived. A great deal of superb comedy and acting keeps sparking across the stage during the three acts all executed by a well polished professional cast under the direction of James Hammerstein.

They include Fred Clark as the scientist. Clark returned from a London engagement as the star of "Never Too Late" to head this comedy scheduled to open at the Ambassador, West 49th and Broadway, September 21.

Ruth McDevitt, who will be remembered by many for her original Mom Peepers on the Mr. Peepers Show; Mala Powers, popular RKO starlet; Ruth White, leading Broadway and film star; Murray Hamilton, who has been featured in all the top TV shows, Broadway hits and leading films; Charles Grodin, featured player on "The Defenders," "The Nurses," and other outstanding TV hits; and Carol Byron, who starred with Robert Young in "Window on Main Street," round out the cast.

Hits at Conformity

The author Ira Wallach has a dozen or more books to his credit. "Absence of a Cello" was first published as a novel. Encouraged by producer Michael Ellis, Wallach translated his work into a play.

Wallach's story content involves an eminent scientist who finds himself over the threshold of bankruptcy. He sets aside his own dreams and applies for a fat-paying position with a leading corporation.

At this point, Wallach carefully wraps his story in thick, heavy sarcasm. He points well-aimed barbs at the "corporation man" and for "company man." He unmasks the life of hypocrisy led by these men and their mates and pokes fun at the personality measurement tests and inquiries upon which companies rely so heavily these days.

The play is filled with such delicious corporation bonbons as —". . . we like a thinking man as long as he thinks the way we do."

Wallach draws the frame into which a corporation man allegedly fits. He drives a black car, dresses appropriately for the tremendously important job of working "with a group," holds a joiner card to all the approved community service projects, works, lives and plays the "company" way, and is careful at all times to keep his creative self under wraps. There is a long list of do's and don'ts for the company man and his mate all of which adds up to a loud chorus of Tennessee Ernie Ford's "I Owe My Soul to the Company Store."

Fred Clark as the scientist leads the cast in establishing the focal point of creative man vs. corporation man. His easy, smooth characterization is in keeping with his professionalism. Murray Hamilton as Otis Clifton, interviewer for the company, has all the deplorable traits of this trade. He carries off his two-headed personality with flying colors.

Perry Littlewood, in the person of Charles Grodin, portrays successfully a college student who is "in on the know" of corporation interviews because "most seniors have been subjected to them."

Ruth White as the scientist's wife is the first to rebel against the Order of Company Conformists. Her portrayal as Celia Pilgrim is a theatre treat.

Mala Powers is cast as the young, beautiful widow who tries all to land the job for her brother, and Carol Byron is cast as the typical, sweet and lovable daughter who attends Radcliffe College.

The true darling of the play, who holds equal prominence with Fred Clark, is Ruth McDevitt in the role of Emma Littlewood, a senior citizen who lives next door, loves her martinis and racing forms but decides to masquerade as the scientist's mother in order to create a more homey atmosphere Wallach's lines for her are gems.

The cast carries the play from a mood of solution solving in the first act, to despair in the second, with glowing emancipation of the individual saved for the final act.

Everything is resolved neatly. The scientist gets a better job, the two-headed company monster is caught in his own trap and exposed to the light of truth, and the family ship is once more set out on a true course of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness!

"Absence of a Cello" may make some company men uncomfortable because it cuts a little too close to the truth. And if you have ever been subjected to these "personality and aptitude tests" you will know full well what the author is conveying in this area.

The play as a whole is fun-packed and shouldn't be missed. Consensus of opinion during intermission?—it is the best of the season!

"Cello" will be on stage through Sunday.

Empire State Iris Society

Iris at true bargain prices will keynote an Empire State Iris Society auction this Sunday, Aug. 16 at the home of Dr. Irwin A. Conroe, 42 Font Grove Road, Slingerlands. Bring your own picnic lunch for a noon get-together with society members and friends. At 2 p. m., with "Doc" Conroe as auctioneer, a fine variety of new iris introductions will appear on the block.

All area gardeners and flower lovers are cordially invited to attend, enjoy the picnic, and go home with two or three times their money's worth in beautiful blooms for next June's garden.

Entry Blank Deadline Listed Here For Ulster County Fair: August 15

Section managers and special committee members will make final plans Friday for receiving and displaying the entries for the Home Department of the Ulster County Fair.

Superintendent Mrs. William Powers has set the meeting for 1:30 p. m. in the Extension office, 220 Wall Street, Kingston, Friday, Aug. 14.

Entry blanks with the necessary fee can be mailed to Mrs. William Powers or left personally at the Home Extension office, 220 Wall Street, Kingston, from August 11-15.

August 15 is the deadline for receiving entries, the office will be open until 2 p. m. on Saturday, Aug. 15. Entries received after that date may not be accepted, due to lack of space.

Mrs. Powers points out that there is a wide variety of articles that can be entered including canned and baked goods, clothing-apparel, clothing with decorative stitchery; embroidered, crocheted, knitted, tatted, Swedish weaving and hair pin lace articles.

Also refinished furniture, needle point, hooked rugs and hooked pictures, aluminum, and hand painted trays; rugs, toys, stuffed animals, dolls, many classes for flower arrangements and special institution exhibits.

All residents of Ulster County are eligible to exhibit at this fair.

All articles entered must be in place at the pavilion ready for judging promptly at 9 a. m. Wednesday, Aug. 19.

Judging will take place, rain or shine.

CHILDREN NOT INVITED TO WEDDING

Q—I sent out my wedding invitations two weeks ago and enclosed reply cards for guests to answer. The invitations made no mention of children. Replies are starting to come in and to my dismay several of them include their children. What can I do about this without causing hurt feelings?

A—I cannot guarantee that it won't cause hurt feelings, but as you did not invite the children and their parents took it upon themselves to include them in their acceptances, you have every right to explain to them that you are very sorry but you cannot have any children at the wedding and if you allow them to bring theirs others will be hurt if their children are omitted.

Salad Served on Lettuce Leaf

Q—When a salad of fruits or vegetables is served on a leaf of lettuce, is it correct to eat the lettuce, and if so, may it be cut with the side of the fork or with the knife

A—Eating the lettuce is entirely optional, and if it cannot be cut easily with the side of the fork, a knife may be used.

Campers Participate In Canoe Trip, Hike; Counselor Is Honored

A highlight of the second encampment at Camp Wendy, the established camp of the Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts, was a five-day canoe trip to Lake George. Sally Redfern, Nancy Kelly, Octavia Tryon accompanied by Mrs. Robert Tremper of Ulster Park and Miss Susan Redfern, Nancy Nitschke, Nancy Kelly, Octavia Tryon accompanied by Mrs. Robert Tremper of Ulster Park and Miss Sherburne Houze of New Paltz participated on this trip. The group paddled over 52 miles on Lake George and camped on the islands. A visit to Fort Ticonderoga was an interesting part of the excursion.

Cadette and Senior girls had a three day encampment at Camp Ridge Ho. They followed a brook trail up Gertie's Nose, one of the peaks in the Shawangunk Mountains. As a service to the rest of the camp, the Romany girls arranged a wide game to be played by the rest of the camp. This wide game tested the girls in their campcraft skills, identifing nature and writing poems.

The Swedish exchange counselor, Miss Dagmar Berquist, had the opportunity to become a Wendy Indian at Indian ceremonies in the Pioneer unit. The Swedish Consulate provided Wendy with a Swedish flag which was presented at an appropriate color ceremony. A highlight for all Wendy campers was the camp banquet in the form of a smorgasbord. Following the meal, Peter Yeaple and his three piece band entertained the campers and provided music for dancing.

Wendy campers had the opportunity to work on Red Cross swimming requirements as well as fulfilling Girl Scout badge requirements. From arts to zoology over 100 Wendy campers had a busy exciting time during the second encampment.

The Ulster County Council of Girl Scouts which operates Camp Wendy as an established camp for six weeks and as a troop camp the remainder of the year is a member of the Ulster County Community Chest.

B of E Grants Bus Awards, Names Working Committees

Primary on the long agenda of Saugerties Board of Education this week was the approval of transportation contracts; naming of working committees, and a report on the progress of the current program. President Robert Herb presided and made the following committee appointments:

Building Committee — Henry Breitenbach, chairman; Jack O. Pakanen, Arthur F. Simmons, Edwin E. Olson.

Finance Committee — Simmons, chairman; Anthony Riozzi, Ann F. Karashay, Stuart M. Buchan.

Site Committee — Pakanen, chairman; LeRoy W. Snyder, Riozzi, Olson.

Policies Committee — Buchan, chairman; Mrs. Karashay, Breitenbach, Snyder.

Non-School Use of Property—Snyder, Breitenbach.

Reports Progress

Chairman Breitenbach, reporting for the Building Committee, stated that good progress is being made at all three projects. A new driveway approach for busses, the parking area, and the renovation of the music area at the high school, will be completed prior to the opening of school. The parking area of the Mt. Marion School has been completed.

Chairman Pakanen of the Site Committee reported that he and Superintendent Dr. Dexter O. Arnold had visited several possible sites which might be suitable for new construction to house elementary pupils. The committee is studying various aspects of the problem, including centers of pupil population, site conditions and transportation.

Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds David Hildebrandt was authorized to proceed with the construction of a 20 by 60 foot concrete block storage building to house athletic equipment and maintenance equipment. The building will be located at the northerly end of the school grounds. It will replace the inadequate storage building which was removed as part of the construction and renovation project at the high school. Hildebrant was also authorized to arrange for installation of a fire hydrant at the Grant D. Morse School.

Dr. Arnold presented the resignations of Miss Marilee Hackler, English teacher at the high school, who is planning further study in another educational area, and Miss Judy Kaminski, second grade teacher at Main Street School who is being married.

Resignations Accepted

These resignations were accepted and upon recommendation of the superintendent the following new teachers were elected: John Battin, a 1964 graduate of Hamilton College and a resident of Glenmont, will teach English at the high school; Miss Helene Napoletano, a resident of Kingston and graduate of the College of New Rochelle, will also teach English at the high school. Miss Napoletano has previously taught at Kingston; Mrs. Bessie Ross, a graduate of Albany State Teachers College, with graduate work at the University of Southern California, Columbia University, and New Paltz, and a resident of Athens, will teach first grade at Mt. Marion School. Dr. Arnold indicated that 29 of the 31 vacancies have been filled to date.

The board approved transportation contracts for the 1964-65 school year as follows: Main Routes — Mt. View Coach Lines —$182,449.75; Feeder Route No. 1 — Fred Ohl — $2,700; Feeder Route No. 2 — Edgar Wilhelm —$800; Feeder Routes No. 3, 4, 5—Richard Lezette—$7,000.

Upon recommendation of Business Manager Gerald Snyder, the board accepted the following bids: Milk—Saugerties Dairy, Incorporated, Kingston; Fuel — Kingston Oil Supply Corporation, Kingston; Ice Cream—Borden's Ice Cream Company, Kingston; Meat—Levonian Brothers Incorporated, Troy, and Forst Packing Company, Kingston; Frozen Foods—Forst Packing Company, Kingston; Groceries — WGY Stores, Albany, A. T. Dist., Monticello, and Ulster Provisioners Cooperative, Kingston.

The superintendent read a report from the Trane Company, manufacturers of ventilating equipment, regarding the installation at the high school auditorium. Recommendations were made to overcome an inadequate circulation of air. Smoke tests were conducted recently and were followed by an inspection of the system.

Curtailed Sessions Set

The board approved the schedule of curtailed sessions recommended by the superintendent to cope with overcrowded conditions. Kindergartens will have triple sessions, and grades 1, 2, 3 and 4 will be on split sessions during the coming year. Grades 7 and 8 will also operate on split sessions under similar arrangements to those in use during 1963-64 school year.

Upon recommendations of Attorney Morris Rosenblum, the board voted a resolution to combine the bond issues for the high school renovations and addition, and the Mt. Marion addition, and the Grant D. Morse School. It was voted to employ Marine Trust Company of Western New York to prepare the bond proposal and other services required for the issue at a cost of $2,790.

A resolution was also adopted authorizing Attorney Rosenblum to prepare a deed to re-convey the property donated by Ferdinand Schaller.

Attorney Rosenblum reported that the village had approved tapping of the water main for the Grant D. Morse School and that materials were being gathered for the State Water Resources Board for its approval.

Meeting Changed

Because of conflicts with other activities, the board voted to change its regular meeting time from the second Monday of the month to the third Monday at 7:30 p. m. The next meeting of the board will be held on Monday, Sept. 21.

In his report to the board, the superintendent stated that a new Driver Education car will be provided by James J. Dargan under a new Chrysler Motor Company program. A 1965 fully-equipped Dodge will be purchased by the school district for one dollar, the car will be completely protected by the Dodge warranty and will be replaced with a new model each year.

He also announced that the Saugerties High School football team will participate in the early football practice program which is being studied by the State Education Department as a means of conditioning and reducing injuries. This is the second year in which the Sawyers have been involved with the state study. He also indicated that in connection with the regular Adult Education program, a special course for welfare recipients who lack basic educational skills will be offered. The cost of this course will be reimbursed 100 per cent in conjunction with a state-wide program.

The State Board of Equalization and Assessment has advised that the following equalization rates have been established: Saugerties, 15; Woodstock, 12; Ulster, 15.

Farm System Of Little League Needs Adult Help

In an open letter to parents of Little Leaguers, Raymond Fuller, president, said the farm system may have to be discontinued unless more adult supervision is available.

The letter follows:

"I am sorry to have to bring this to your attention this way but all other means have failed.

"In our farm system there are 125 boys of ages 8-12. We are going to have to discontinue the league due to lack of help. This would not have to happen if the fathers would come out only twice a season, which is not much to ask.

"We have no umpires. Most of the managers have no coaches or scorekeepers.

"It is impossible for one man to take care of 18 boys. If your boy comes home with tears because there is no more farm system don't blame the people who run it but look in a mirror and blame it on yourself. If I receive no help for the boys by August 15, the league will be discontinued August 17. If you wish to help, contact either Charles Mullaney, Raymond Ohno or the writer.

Farm System Of Little League Needs Adult Help

In an open letter to parents of Little Leaguers, Raymond Fuller, president, said the farm system may have to be discontinued unless more adult supervision is available.

The letter follows:

"I am sorry to have to bring this to your attention this way but all other means have failed.

"In our farm system there are 125 boys of ages 8-12. We are going to have to discontinue the league due to lack of help. This would not have to happen if the fathers would come out only twice a season, which is not much to ask.

"We have no umpires. Most of the managers have no coaches or scorekeepers.

"It is impossible for one man to take care of 18 boys. If your boy comes home with tears because there is no more farm system don't blame the people who run it but look in a mirror and blame it on yourself. If I receive no help for the boys by August 15, the league will be discontinued August 17. If you wish to help, contact either Charles Mullaney, Raymond Ohno or the writer.

Mrs. deLisio Wins 6th Straight County Women's Golf Title

Triple Bogie on 36th Defeats Mrs. Chilson

Woodstock's challenging par-3, 145-yard finishing hole across the Sawkill creek proved to be too much for Elizabeth Chilson to handle yesterday. As a result she missed by one stroke of dethroning Mrs. A. J. (Wiggie) deLisio as Ulster County Women's champion.

In winning her sixth consecutive county title, Mrs. deLisio waged a tremendous uphill battle all day. She started the final 36 holes six strokes behind Mrs. Chilson and then fell four behind again after 30 holes.

This set the stage for the stretch run and Mrs. Chilson had the match seemingly won, leading by two strokes with only the 36th left to play.

She took a disastrous triple-bogie while Mrs. deLisio took only the regulation three shots, giving her a 163 total against 164 for Mrs. Chilson. It represented Mrs. deLisio's closest competition to date in the tournament, of which she has been the only winner.

Six Stroke Lead

Mrs. Chilson went into the final 36 holes with a six stroke lead and immediately lost five shots on the first four holes of the front nine at Woodstock.

She rallied her game to pick up a stroke in the last four holes, despite a birdie-3 by Mrs. deLisio on the eighth hole. Mrs. Chilson still had a one strike lead after 27 holes.

She parred the first four holes on the back nine and rebuilt her lead to 3-up at the end of 30 holes. Not to be denied, Mrs. deLisio deuced the par-3 31st hole for a birdie.

They halved the par 5 32nd with 5's. Mrs. deLisio took the 33rd and 35th holes with par 4's to bogies by Mrs. Chilson.

Disaster Strikes

This sent the players to the 36th tee with Mrs. Chilson leading by two strokes and an almost certain winner Then came disaster.

Her tee shot landed on the far bank of the Sawkill creek that divides the fairway of the par-3 hole.

She had a "playable shot" but stroked it too strongly and the ball landed in the right hand trap. She then exploded across the green too strongly and then pitched back too short, about 13 feet, and needed two putts to get down in a triple-bogie "6."

Mrs. deLisio placed her tee shot on the green, about 16 feet from the pin, and got down in 2, the clincher coming from two and a half feet.

During the day, the champion missed three putts from 18 inches to 2 feet.

Mrs. Roland Riegel of Ellenville and Mrs. Alex Sharpe Jr. of Woodstock tied for low net with 138s. They will have an 18-hole playoff on Friday at 10 o'clock at Woodstock.

Third low net went to Mrs. Richard Stewart, Wiltwyck, with 139. Mrs. Howard DeWitt, Wiltwyck, was fourth with 142.

Then, in order, came Mrs Gerald Gruberg, Wiltwyck; Mrs. E. Passmore, Ellenville and Mrs. J. Raymond, Ellenville, 145; Mrs. Ernest Schirmer, Twaalfskill, 146; Mrs. Howard Terwilliger, Wiltwyck, 147; Mrs. Alvin Motzkin, Wiltwyck, 148 and Mrs. John Hall, Wiltwyck, 149.

The cards follow:

At Woodstock

Mrs. Chilson	444	355	456—40-83
Mrs. de Lisio	555	254	543—38-76

WOMEN'S CHAMPION. Mrs. A. J. (Wiggie) deLisio holds awards she received for winning sixth straight Ulster County Women's tournament with a low gross of 163. Mrs. Alex Sharpe, Jr., left and Mrs. Roland Riegel, right, tied for low net with 138. Mrs. Elizabeth Chilson, second from right, had a 164 gross to finish only one stroke behind Mrs. deLisio. Crows Capture 1st Playoff Tilt

Tom Kuriger's six-hit pitching and Harold Anderson's sixth homer of the season enabled the Crows to nip the Owls, 4-3, to win the first game of the Jaycee Little league championship playoff.

Kuriger walked three and fanned 12 in decisioning Bud Greenburg. Kuriger and Brian Devine of the winners whacked doubles.

Aaron Now 14th on HR List; Yankee Supremacy Fading?

His Pair Help Braves Wallop Houston, 9-6

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was a bad night for the New York Yankees all around.

Even Joe DiMaggio was knocked down a peg.

While the Chicago White Sox whipped the Yankees in a doubleheader, Milwaukee's Hank Aaron whippped past the Yankee Clipper into 14th place on the all time home run list, hammering his 19th and 20th of the season as the Braves walloped Houston 9-6 Tuesday night.

The homers lifted Aaron's career total to 362—one more than DiMaggio—and shoved the 30-year-old right-handed swinger into the National League spotlight that has been focusing almost steadily on the tight pennant struggle between Philadelphia and San Francisco.

Aaron's outstanding performances over the last half of the season have gone virtually unnoticed, but he has been hitting at a .355 clip since June 21 and climbed into the No. 6 spot in the league with a .314 average. In the 48 games over that stretch, he has driven in 45 runs.

Slam for Callison

While Aaron continued his heavy hitting for Milwaukee, Johnny Callison did the same for league-leading Philadelphia, slugging the first grand slam of the season by the Phillies and adding two doubles in a 13-5 walloping of the Chicago Cubs.

The victory kept the Phillies three games in front of the San Francisco Giants, but may have cost them the services of outfielders Cookie Rojas and Tony Gonzalez, the latest additions to an ever-growing injury list.

Rojas jammed both wrists when he ran into the center field wall chasing a fly ball and Gonzalez, his replacement, was hit on his protective helmet by a Dick Ellsworth pitch. Both players were taken to the hospital, but the injuries were not considered serious.

The Giants rode homers by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda to a 6-3 victory over St. Louis, the Cincinnati Reds edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2 on homers by Frank Robinson and Deron Johnson and the New York Mets defeated Pittsburgh 312 in a game halted after 7½ innings by rain.

Frank Thomas slammed three doubles for his new Philadelphia teammates, driving in three runs for a 3-0 lead but the Cubs came back to move in front on homers by Andre Rodgers and Ernie Banks.

Ellsworth Loses 14th

Callison then broke it up with his grand slam, capping a five-run rally touched off by Gus Triandos' homer. The two homers left the Cubs' Ellsworth, a 22-game winner last season, with a 12-14 record.

Harvey Kuenn collected three doubles for the Giants, triggered three rallies and scored three runs. He came home on Hal Lanier's single in the first and Cepeda followed with his 20th homer. In the third Kuenn scored on Mays' 33rd homer and in the seventh he was driven in on a sacrifice fly by Cepeda.

Lose Twinbill To White Sox; Birds Win, 8-7

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Yogi Berra isn't reaching for the panic button yet. It wouldn't be the thing to do in the staid, gray flannel world of New York Yankee supremacy.

But you'll have to forgive Berra if he's wondering just a bit. He's been a Yankee for 17 years and he's seen pennant races reach into August before. That's where the similarity between his club, which lost a day-night doubleheader to the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and 8-2 Tuesday, and former Yankee teams seems to end.

The White Sox, who had lost 10 straight to New York, weren't about to extend that string. Pete Ward stroked three hits, including his 17th home run and drove in four runs as Chicago snapped the streak with the afternoon victory.

They were even more convincing in the nightcap as Ward had three more hits and Juan Pizarro fired a five-hitter winning his 15th game. Pizarro added insult to injury by capping a five-run Chicago burst in the sixth inning with his third homer of the year — a three-run shot into the right field bleachers.

The double victory pulled the White Sox to within one game of the league-leading Baltimore Orioles who edged the Boston Red Sox 8-7. Elsewhere in the American League, Washington whipped Kansas City 5-2, Minnesota downed Detroit 5-3 and Cleveland shut out Los Angeles 3-0.

The losses dropped the third place Yankees 3½ games off the pace, gave them five defeats in six games against Baltimore and Chicago in the last week and left Berra worried.

Baltimore got three two-run homers — the last one Boog Powell's 30th circuit blow of the season—to whip the Red Sox. Brooks Robinson and Sam Bowens also connected for the Orioles, who beat relief ace Dick Radatz.

Powell's shot in the seventh inning came on a 1-2 pitch with two out and broke a tie that was created when Robinson clouted his 16th an inning earlier.

Jim King and Don Lock homered to back up Claude Osteen's pitching for the Senators' victory. Osteen, who won his 11th, was replaced by Jim Hannan in the seventh. Nelson Mathews homered for the Athletics in the ninth.

Earl Battey drove in three runs and Tony Oliva slammed his 26th homer as the Twins snapped a seven-game Tiger winning streak. Detroit built an early 3-0 lead around Don Demeter's 15th homer but Hank Aguirre (2-6) couldn't hold it.

Yankee Power Still Missing, Rank Only 7th in Home Runs

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Watching the New York Yankees these days makes an observer recall that advertising slogan with a slight variation:

"Wonder where that power went?"

This has to be the weakest Yankee hitting team in years. The club has a composite batting average of under .250, with Mickey Mantle the only .300 hitter. His average is .310.

Worse, it is not producing the long ball, a long-time Yankee trademark. It is almost unbelievable, but true, that six of the nine other American League clubs top the Yanks in home runs. Such a phenomenon hasn't occurred in 45 years, or since Babe Ruth joined the organization.

Now 3½ Out

The normally weak-hitting White Sox of Chicago added insult to injury Tuesday by outhomering the Yankees as they swept both ends of a day-night twin bill 6-4 and 8-2. The double loss, the Yankees' fourth and fifth in their last six games, buried them deeper in third place, 3½ games behind the front-running Baltimore Orioles and 2½ behind the White Sox.

Chicago hit four homers to two by the Yankees.

"It's the law of averages," said White Sox Manager Al Lopez. "The Yankees beat us 10 straight and we were long overdue. I've been around long enough to know that everything evens up in the long run."

The Yanks have looked drab and dismal in recent days. Normally a fine defensive club, they committed two errors in each game to go along with their 11 hits.

Uncertain Pitching

The pitching, with Whitey Ford out indefinitely because of a hip injury, is uncertain and undermanned. Manager Yogi Berra is in such a pinch for pitching, he was forced to dig into the club's Richmond farm for help.

Mel Stottlemyre, called up Tuesday, was immediately nominated to start against the White Sox today.

"The club is down," said Berra. "We're not tired. We're just in a rut. We're just not hitting. We can't seem to get that big inning. We picked a heck of a time to go into a slump."

The Yankees have more than 50 games left to play. But with two teams in front of them, neither of which they play after Aug. 20, it looks like a long uphill climb.

They just don't seem to have enough—pitching, or the sock to make up for it.

KHS Grid Candidates Slate Physicals Aug. 24

Kingston High school football coach Bill Hurley has issued a reminder that all candidates for the varsity and jayvee teams will report on Monday, Aug. 24 from 9 to 12 a. m. for physical examinations. They will be given at the High School Medical office, located in the Kate Walton Field House.

All members of last year's varsity, jayvee and freshman teams must report between 9 and 11 a. m. and new candidates will report from 11 to 12.

Returning lettermen should report Monday, Aug. 24, 8 a. m. in the football room for the initial issue of equipment. Uniforms for the balance of the squad will be given during the week.

Pre-season conditioning drills are scheduled to begin Wednesday, Aug. 26, at 8 a. m. at the Kate Walton Field House.

Name Earl (Red) Blaik To Grid Hall of Fame

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Ten more names were added today to the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame, including Earl H. Blaik, former coach at Dartmouth and Army who originated the lonely end formation.

The players honored were Charles O. Carroll, University of Washington halfback 1926-28; Ray R. Evans, Kansas University halfback 1941-42-46-47; Robert J. Herwig, University of California center 1935-37; Allison Hubert, University of Alabama fullback 1922-25; William N. Mallory, Yale University fullback 1921-23; William Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist University halfback 1948-50; W. Earl Sprackling, Brown University quarterback 1908-11; Langdon Lea, Princeton tackle, 1892-95; and Charles R. Rinehart, Lafayette guard, 1894-97.

Lea, Rinchart and Mallory are dead.

The football greats of yesteryear were selected by an honor court headed by Fred Russell, sports editor and vice-president of the Nashville Banner, and announced by Chester J. LaRoche, foundation president.

The selections bring the total of players in the Hall of Fame to 172, and coaches to 51.

The men will be formally inducted at the foundation's annual dinner here Dec. 8 when Donold B. Lourie, Princeton quarterback of 1919-21, will receive the foundation's gold medal award.

College football's Hall of Fame will be built at Rutgers, University, New Brunswick, N.J.

Blaik, now an executive of Avco Corp., had a record of 45 victories, 14 defeats and 5 ties in seven years at Dartmouth. At Army his teams compiled a mark of 121-33-10 from 1941 through 1958, winning the national championships in 1944 and 1945 when he had Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis in his backfield.

Red Sox Win Pair Of RVLL Contests

Red Sox won a pair of Rondout Valley Little league games, defeating the Indians, 13-5, and the Pirates, 5-2.

A seven run explosion in the fifth inning won the first game. The winners had only four hits with Bill Wilkins and Al Auletta hitting doubles.

Huyler VanWagenen won it.

Colts Hoping for Fast Start, Unitas Is Throwing Well

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—Don Shula hopes to get his Baltimore Colts out of the gate in a fast start despite the retirement of Gino Marchetti, the perennial all-National Football League defensive end.

Don Thompson, a 6-foot-4½ 240-pounder in his third year of pro ball, must filll Marchetti's shoes if the Colts front four is to hold its own with the other powers. If Thompson doesn't make it, Shula will have to do some fast shuffling, perhaps moving Fred Miller to the outside.

Shula was new to the club himself last year, his first as head coach. He also had to fit eight rookies into the 1963 squad. Veterans will man most of the key positions this season.

"Johnny Unitas is throwing real sharp," said Shula. "He started slowly last year but he was fantastic in the second half. Unitas is just the best quarterback in football. And that goes for everybody.

Better on Offense

"We'll be better off on offense from the start. A year ago we didn't know John Mackey was as good as he is. We didn't have a fullback until Jerry Hill got going. Raymond Berry and Jimmy Orr were out and Lenny Moore missed half the season.

"Tom Matte did a whale of a job at Moore's position. We can count on him. Whatever we get out of Moore will help. We also are counting on help from Tony Lorick, our No. 2 draft choice from Arizona State."

Lorick at fullback and Ted Davis of Georgia Tech at linebacker are the newcomers with the best chance to fight their way into starting positions.

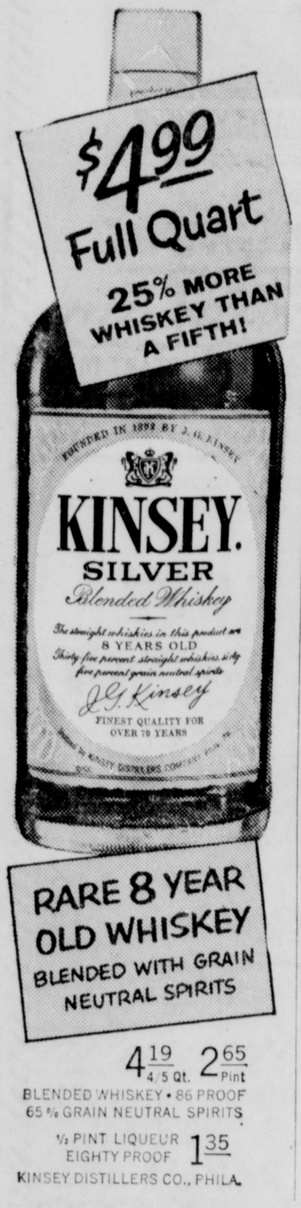

Unitas has his favorite target, Berry, in action at split end and Mackey, touted as "a new Mike Ditka," at tight end with Orr at the flanker, Hill at fullback and Matte or Moore at running back. Willie Richardson backs up Orr and Gary Cuozzo is the second quarterback.

With Jim Parker, an all-league ace, at 'eft guard the front offensive line is intact. Bob Vogel and George Preasman the tackles, Parker and Alex Sandusky are the guards and Dick Syzmanski is at center.

Defense may present more of a problem to Shula's personnel. The return of Billy Ray Smith, who sat out last year, strengthens one tackle spot, with Miller at the other. Ordell Braase will be at his old end job. Marchetti's position is the problem.

TROPHY TIME. Those receiving awards in the Babe Didrickson Zaharias Memorial golf tournament, held over the weekend at Wiltwyck Country Club, are, left to right, O. D. Ingalls, tie for runnerup honors in the men's division; Mrs. Gerald Overbagh, runnerup in the women's division; Mrs. Richard Stewart, tournament winner; Bob Powers, tie for runnerup in the men's division and Bob Swithers, men's winner. Mrs. Stewart is holding the Sylvia Voss Memorial plaque, awarded to the low net winner in the women's division. (Freeman photo).

Mrs. Chilson went into the final 36 holes with a six stroke lead and immediately lost five shots on the first four holes of the front nine at Woodstock.

She rallied her game to pick up a stroke in the last four holes, despite a birdie-3 by Mrs. deLisio on the eighth hole. Mrs. Chilson still had a one strike lead after 27 holes.

She parred the first four holes on the back nine and rebuilt her lead to 3-up at the end of 30 holes. Not to be denied, Mrs. deLisio deuced the par-3 31st hole for a birdie.

They halved the par 5 32nd with 5's. Mrs. deLisio took the 33rd and 35th holes with par 4's to bogies by Mrs. Chilson.

Disaster Strikes

This sent the players to the 36th tee with Mrs. Chilson leading by two strokes and an almost certain winner Then came disaster.

Her tee shot landed on the far bank of the Sawkill creek that divides the fairway of the par-3 hole.

She had a "playable shot" but stroked it too strongly and the ball landed in the right hand trap. She then exploded across the green too strongly and then pitched back too short, about 13 feet, and needed two putts to get down in the tripie-bogie "6."

Mrs. deLisio placed her tee shot on the green, about 16 feet from the pin, and got down in 2, the clincher coming from two and a half feet.

During the day, the champion missed three putts from 18 inches to 2 feet.

Mrs. Roland Riegel of Ellenville and Mrs. Alex Sharpe Jr. of Woodstock tied for low net with 138s. They will have an 18-hole playoff on Friday at 10 o'clock at Woodstock.

Third low net went to Mrs. Richard Stewart, Wiltwyck, with 139. Mrs. Howard DeWitt, Wiltwyck, was fourth with 142.

Then, in order, came Mrs Gerald Gruberg, Wiltwyck; Mrs. E. Passmore, Ellenville and Mrs. J. Raymond, Ellenville, 145; Mrs. Ernest Schirmer, Twaalfskill, 146; Mrs. Howard Terwilliger, Wiltwyck, 147; Mrs. Alvin Motzkin, Wiltwyck, 148 and Mrs. John Hall, Wiltwyck, 149.

The cards follow:

At Woodstock

Crows Capture 1st Playoff Tilt

Tom Kuriger's six-hit pitching and Harold Anderson's sixth homer of the season enabled the Crows to nip the Owls, 4-3, to win the first game of the Jaycee Little league championship playoff.

Kuriger walked three and fanned 12 in decisioning Bud Greenburg. Kuriger and Brian Devine of the winners whacked doubles.

Aaron Now 14th on HR List; Yankee Supremacy Fading?

His Pair Help Braves Wallop Houston, 9-6

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was a bad night for the New York Yankees all around.

Even Joe DiMaggio was knocked down a peg.

While the Chicago White Sox whipped the Yankees in a doubleheader, Milwaukee's Hank Aaron whippped past the Yankee Clipper into 14th place on the all time home run list, hammering his 19th and 20th of the season as the Braves walloped Houston 9-6 Tuesday night.

The homers lifted Aaron's career total to 362—one more than DiMaggio—and shoved the 30-year-old right-handed swinger into the National League spotlight that has been focusing almost steadily on the tight pennant struggle between Philadelphia and San Francisco.

Aaron's outstanding performances over the 'ast half of the season have gone virtually unnoticed, but he has been hitting at a .355 clip since June 21 and climbed into the No. 6 spot in the league with a .314 average. In the 48 games over that stretch, he has driven in 45 runs.

Slam for Callison

While Aaron continued his heavy hitting for Milwaukee, Johnny Callison did the same for league-leading Philadelphia, slugging the first grand slam of the season by the Phillies and adding two doubles in a 13-5 walloping of the Chicago Cubs.

The victory kept the Phillies three games in front of the San Francisco Giants, but may have cost them the services of outfielders Cookie Rojas and Tony Gonzalez, the latest additions to an ever-growing injury list.

Rojas jammed both wrists when he ran into the center field wall chasing a fly ball and Gonzalez, his replacement, was hit on his protective helmet by a Dick Ellsworth pitch. Both players were taken to the hospital, but the injuries were not considered serious.

The Giants rode homers by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda to a 6-3 victory over St. Louis, the Cincinnati Reds edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2 on homers by Frank Robinson and Deron Johnson and the New York Mets defeated Pittsburgh 3!2 in a game halted after 7½ innings by rain.

Frank Thomas slammed three doubles for his new Philadelphia teammates, driving in three runs for a 3-0 lead but the Cubs came back to move in front on homers by Andre Rodgers and Ernie Banks.

Ellsworth Loses 14th

Callison then broke it up with his grand slam, capping a five-run rally touched off by Gus Triandos' homer. The two homers left the Cubs' Ellsworth, a 22-game winner last season, with a 12-14 record.

Harvey Kuenn collected three doubles for the Giants, triggered three rallies and scored three runs. He came home on Hal Lanier's single in the first and Cepeda followed with his 20th homer. In the third Kuenn scored on Mays' 33rd homer and in the seventh he was driven in on a sacrifice fly by Cepeda.

Lose Twinbill To White Sox; Birds Win, 8-7

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Yogi Berra isn't reaching for the panic button yet. It wouldn't be the thing to do in the staid, gray flannel world of New York Yankee supremacy.

But you'll have to forgive Berra if he's wondering just a bit. He's been a Yankee for 17 years and he's seen pennant races reach into August before. That's where the similarity between his club, which lost a day-night doubleheader to the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and 8-2 Tuesday, and former Yankee teams seems to end.

The White Sox, who had lost 10 straight to New York, weren't about to extend that string. Pete Ward stroked three hits, including his 17th home run and drove in four runs as Chicago snapped the streak with the afternoon victory.

They were even more convincing in the nightcap as Ward had three more hits and Juan Pizarro fired a five-hitter winning his 15th game. Pizarro added insult to injury by capping a five-run Chicago burst in the sixth inning with his third homer of the year — a three-run shot into the right field bleachers.

The double victory pulled the White Sox to within one game of the league-leading Baltimore Orioles who edged the Boston Red Sox 8-7. Elsewhere in the American League, Washington whipped Kansas City 5-2, Minnesota downed Detroit 5-3 and Cleveland shut out Los Angeles 3-0.

The losses dropped the third place Yankees 3½ games off the pace, gave them five defeats in six games against Baltimore and Chicago in the last week and left Berra worried.

Baltimore got three two-run homers — the last one Boog Powell's 30th circuit blow of the season—to whip the Red Sox. Brooks Robinson and Sam Bowens also connected for the Orioles, who beat relief ace Dick Radatz.

Powell's shot in the seventh inning came on a 1-2 pitch with two out and broke a tie that was created when Robinson clouted his 16th an inning earlier.

Jim King and Don Lock homered to back up Claude Osteen's pitching for the Senators' victory. Osteen, who won his 11th, was replaced by Jim Hannan in the seventh. Nelson Mathews homered for the Athletics in the ninth.

Earl Battey drove in three runs and Tony Oliva slammed his 26th homer as the Twins snapped a seven-game Tiger winning streak. Detroit built an early 3-0 lead around Don Demeter's 15th homer but Hank Aguirre (2-6) couldn't hold it.

KHS Grid Candidates Slate Physicals Aug. 24

Kingston High school football coach Bill Hurley has issued a reminder that all candidates for the varsity and jayvee teams will report on Monday, Aug. 24 from 9 to 12 a. m. for physical examinations. They will be given at the High School Medical office, located in the Kate Walton Field House.

All members of last year's varsity, jayvee and freshman teams must report between 9 and 11 a. m. and new candidates will report from 11 to 12.

Returning lettermen should report Monday, Aug. 24, 8 a. m. in the football room for the initial issue of equipment. Uniforms for the balance of the squad will be given during the week.

Pre-season conditioning drills are scheduled to begin Wednesday, Aug. 26, at 8 a. m. at the Kate Walton Field House.

Name Earl (Red) Blaik To Grid Hall of Fame

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Ten more names were added today to the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame, including Earl H. Blaik, former coach at Dartmouth and Army who originated the lonely end formation.

The players honored were Charles O. Carroll, University of Washington halfback 1926-28; Ray R. Evans, Kansas University halfback 1941-42-46-47; Robert J. Herwig, University of California center 1935-37; Allison Hubert, University of Alabama fullback 1922-25; William N. Mallory, Yale University fullback 1921-23; William Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist University halfback 1948-50; W. Earl Sprackling, Brown University quarterback 1908-11; Langdon Lea, Princeton tackle, 1892-95; and Charles R. Rinehart, Lafayette guard, 1894-97.

Lea, Rinchart and Mallory are dead.

The football greats of yesteryear were selected by an honor court headed by Fred Russell, sports editor and vice-president of the Nashville Banner, and announced by Chester J. LaRoche, foundation president.

The selections bring the total of players in the Hall of Fame to 172, and coaches to 51.

The men will be formally inducted at the foundation's annual dinner here Dec. 8 when Donold B. Lourie, Princeton quarterback of 1919-21, will receive the foundation's gold medal award.

College football's Hall of Fame will be built at Rutgers, University, New Brunswick, N.J.

Blaik, now an executive of Avco Corp., had a record of 45 victories, 14 defeats and 5 ties in seven years at Dartmouth. At Army his teams compiled a mark of 121-33-10 from 1941 through 1958, winning the national championships in 1944 and 1945 when he had Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis in his backfield.

Red Sox Win Pair Of RVLL Contests

Red Sox won a pair of Rondout Valley Little league games, defeating the Indians, 13-5, and the Pirates, 5-2.

A seven run explosion in the fifth inning won the first game. The winners had only four hits with Bill Wilkins and Al Auletta hitting doubles.

Huyler VanWagenen won it.

Yankee Power Still Missing, Rank Only 7th in Home Runs

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Watching the New York Yankees these days makes an observer recall that advertising slogan with a slight variation:

"Wonder where that power went?"

This has to be the weakest Yankee hitting team in years. The club has a composite batting average of under .250, with Mickey Mantle the only .300 hitter. His average is .310.

Worse, it is not producing the long ball, a long-time Yankee trademark. It is almost unbelievable, but true, that six of the nine other American League clubs top the Yanks in home runs. Such a phenomenon hasn't occurred in 45 years, or since Babe Ruth joined the organization.

Now 3½ Out

The normally weak-hitting White Sox of Chicago added insult to injury Tuesday by outhomering the Yankees as they swept both ends of a day-night twin bill 6-4 and 8-2. The double loss, the Yankees' fourth and fifth in their last six games, buried them deeper in third place, 3½ games behind the front-running Baltimore Orioles and 2½ behind the White Sox.

Chicago hit four homers to two by the Yankees.

"It's the law of averages," said White Sox Manager Al Lopez. "The Yankees beat us 10 straight and we were long overdue. I've been around long enough to know that everything evens up in the long run."

The Yanks have looked drab and dismal in recent days. Normally a fine defensive club, they committed two errors in each game to go along with their 11 hits.

Uncertain Pitching

The pitching, with Whitey Ford out indefinitely because of a hip injury, is uncertain and undermanned. Manager Yogi Berra is in such a pinch for pitching, he was forced to dig into the club's Richmond farm for help.

Mel Stottlemyre, called up Tuesday, was immediately nominated to start against the White Sox today.

"The club is down," said Berra. "We're not tired. We're just in a rut. We're just not hitting. We can't seem to get that big inning. We picked a heck of a time to go into a slump."

The Yankees have more than 50 games left to play. But with two teams in front of them, neither of which they play after Aug. 20, it looks like a long uphill climb.

They just don't seem to have enough—pitching, or the sock to make up for it.

Colts Hoping for Fast Start, Unitas Is Throwing Well

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—Don Shula hopes to get his Baltimore Colts out of the gate in a fast start despite the retirement of Gino Marchetti, the perennial all-National Football League defensive end.

Don Thompson, a 6-foot-4½ 240-pounder in his third year of pro ball, must filll Marchetti's shoes if the Colts front four is to hold its own with the other powers. If Thompson doesn't make it, Shula will have to do some fast shuffling, perhaps moving Fred Miller to the outside.

Shula was new to the club himself last year, his first as head coach. He also had to fit eight rookies into the 1963 squad. Veterans will man most of the key positions this season.

"Johnny Unitas is throwing real sharp," said Shula. "He started slowly last year but he was fantastic in the second half. Unitas is just the best quarterback in football. And that goes for everybody.

Better on Offense

"We'll be better off on offense from the start. A year ago we didn't know John Mackey was as good as he is. We didn't have a fullback until Jerry Hill got going. Raymond Berry and Jimmy Orr were out and Lenny Moore missed half the season.

"Tom Matte did a whale of a job at Moore's position. We can count on him. Whatever we get out of Moore will help. We also are counting on help from Tony Lorick, our No. 2 draft choice from Arizona State."

Lorick at fullback and Ted Davis of Georgia Tech at linebacker are the newcomers with the best chance to fight their way into starting positions.

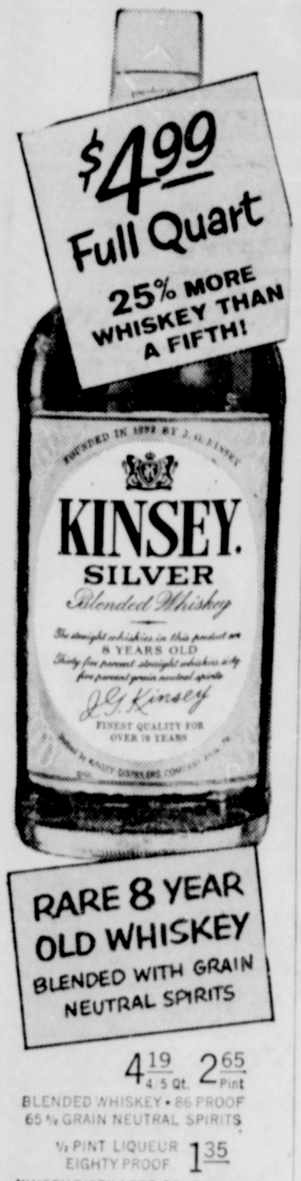

Unitas has his favorite target, Berry, in action at split end and Mackey, touted as "a new Mike Ditka," at tight end with Orr at the flanker, Hill at fullback and Matte or Moore at running back. Willie Richardson backs up Orr and Gary Cuozzo is the second quarterback.

With Jim Parker, an all-league ace, at 'eft guard the front offensive line is intact. Bob Vogel and George Preasman the tackles, Parker and Alex Sandusky are the guards and Dick Syzmanski is at center.

Defense may present more of a problem to Shula's personnel. The return of Billy Ray Smith, who sat out last year, strengthens one tackle spot, with Miller at the other. Ordell Braase will be at his old end job. Marchetti's position is the problem.

TROPHY TIME. Those receiving awards in the Babe Didrickson Zaharias Memorial golf tournament, held over the weekend at Wiltwyck Country Club, are, left to right, O. D. Ingalls, tie for runnerup honors in the men's division; Mrs. Gerald Overbagh, runnerup in the women's division; Mrs. Richard Stewart, tournament winner; Bob Powers, tie for runnerup in the men's division and Bob Swithers, men's winner. Mrs. Stewart is holding the Sylvia Voss Memorial plaque, awarded to the low net winner in the women's division. (Freeman photo).

Ed Palladino's MR Selections

UPST CHANCE — French Algiers (3rd).

1. DAY ABBOT is in a spot to finally win one. Has been close many times POPLAR DOLLY qualified in 2:11.2. RIGHT SONG has shown improvement.

2. EU WILL went good trip in Sire Stakes. Looks much the best here. BONNIE HUNTER can reverse with well-rated drive. WHAT NEXT should finish in the money.

3. SPECTER is a shaky nod to edge this field. Driver is awful. FRENCH ALGIERS has a chance to upset. TINY D. always closes well and is the one to beat.

4. BONNIE DUANE seeks fifth straight. The best bet of the night. FANCY GEORGIE has won two in a row but appears to be overmatched in this one. FREIGHT COMET is hampered by the post

5. OUR ADIOS has the speed to go wire to wire. POTOMAC CHUCK shows signs of waking up. KATHLEEN GRATTAN has been heavily bet in last two races.

6. REBEL ROCK led all the way but couldn't hang on. Might do it here. VARIAN HANOVER will be tough from the rail. Has met much better."AGILE HANOVER a hot horse the last time. Watch the odds.

7. NEVELE YANKEE a wellbred trotter. Should down this field without trouble. FAMILY GIRL is the competition. NOTABLE HANOVER is always close.

8. NEDDA SONG had to go three wide from post eight Is in a spot to win this one. COUSIN KATE was impressive at Saratoga. CREDAMUS is always a bridesmaid, never a bride.

9. HIGH SEAS is razor sharp. Can win another. DUTCH CANDOIT has a hot driver and might upset. VICTORY HOLMES has a poor driver but might still be good enough to win.

Mohr Named Chairman Of '65 KBA Tourney

Bill Mohr, vice president of the Kingston Bowling Assn., has been appointed director for the association's 1964 tournament.

The appointment was made last night by president Charles Forst at the first meeting of the KBA's executive committee, held at the YMCA. It's the third straight year that Mohr will head the annual tourney.

Next year's tournament will be held at Sangi's Bowlero and at the College Lanes in New Paltz. The committee by unanimous vote, awarded the five man event to Sangi's for Feb. 13 and 14. The doubles and singles will be he ld on Feb. 20 and 21 at the College Lanes.

Seminar Conducted

Following the action on the tournament, the meeting was adjourned to the assembly hall for the purpose of conducting a seminar for league secretaries and presidents. About fifty per cent of the league representatives were in attendance.

Secretary Dick Waltman headed the instruction session, which included use of the new individual bowler sanction form and other league records.

Waltman stressed that all bowlers in the KBA wil have to file for a sanction card in each league he participates, whether it be as a regular or as a substitute. However, he will indicate on the sanction form of each additional league after filing his first sanction that he has paid the entry fee with a prior entry and will indicate which league received the sanction fee. This fee has to be paid just once and entitles the bowler to participate in as many leagues as he desires on that single fee.

Substitues Must Pay

Team captains will have to instruct all substitutes and newcomers added to their teams during the year of the necessity of paying this sanction entry fee prior to their initial participation in each league if they have not already been participating in another league within the Kingston Bowling Assn. during the current season.

Waltman cautioned league presidents of the importance of showing the last reported bank balance on the league average sheet posted in the bowling establishment each week. He warned that failure to comply with this rule established by the ABC leaves the league president subject to suspension if any league bowler files a complaint to this effect.

The ABC has clarified a rule applying to junior bowlers which it cautions all league officials and team captains to comply with henceforth. According to KBA Secretary Waltman, the ABC has ruled all bowlers are ineligible to participate in any KBA league before his 19th birthday unless he has presented written parental consent. In addition to this stipulation, the ABC has ruled any junior bowler participating in a league which awards prize money is declared a professional and thereby loses his amateur status making him ineligible to participate in high school sports.

Waltman concluded his seminar with an emphasis on the part of all leagues to be certain they have up-dated their constitutions to conform with the model constitutions listed in the new ABC manuals. These constitutions and any necessary changes must be adopted within the first five weeks of the league bowling season. Waltman stated that all league prize lists must be prepared and posted within the first five weeks of the season or could be challenged by a league bowler as to validity.

At the conclusion of the seminar, the KBA executive committee acted as hosts for the serving of light refreshments.

Queen's Mohican Roosevelt Winner

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Queen's Mohican, driven by Del Insko, copped his third straight victory by winning the $7,000 Invitational pace at Roosevelt Raceway Tuesday night with a 2:02 2-5 mile.

The 4-year-old gelding finished 1¼ lengths in front of Chin Whiskers. Josedale Senor Hal was third.

Queen's Mohican paid $3.80.

At other New York State harness tracks:

Saratoga Raceway—Hal Merry ($5.30) took the first division of the $3,000 pace. Perry C. placed and Clay Haven Battler was third. The winning time was 2:05 1-5.

Vernon Downs—Summit ($2.-40) gained his seventh win in 12 starts at Vernon by taking the $2,000 early closing trot. Jacques Mir was second, 2½ lengths back, and Mitzi Dares showed. The winner stepped the mile in 2:03 1-5.

Rockey Babe Wins Raceway Feature

MONTICELLO — Rockey Babe scored a near wire-to-wire triumph in Tuesday's feature race at Monticello Raceway, going the mile in a brisk 2:05 3, a new lifetime mark for the five-year-old brown mare.

Jim Williard sent the winner to the front just before the quarter pole and he held off a late challenge by Grand Darnley, which came on strong at the top of the stretch.

Sent off at 5-2 odds, Rockey Babe returned $7.70, $3.70 and $2.80 across the board. Grand Darnley, the 2-1 favorite, paid $3.30 and $3.10. Drummer Boy rallied in the final yards to nab the show spot and pay $2.90.

Tuesday's daily double of 1 and 8 paid $84.90. Hobo Frangray, with John Cameron in the sulky, won the trottinghalf and paid $9.60. Adios Fanny won the second race, returning $17.10. Bill Popfinger was on the winning horse, giving him a tie for the dash winning title with Brother Frank. Each has 30 wins.

Their offer vs. Our offer

If their tire fails when it's this worn, all other major tire brands will only allow you a few dollars toward a new tire. (You still have to pay about $15 more.)

Don't take our word for it.

Read the small print in the guarantee at the bottom of practically every tire ad. You'll find a paragraph that says something like this:

If it should fail at this point (which means you'd already have gotten about 80% of the wear out of the tire), you'd only be entitled to a small allowance. On a major-brand first line tire, in Chevrolet, Ford or Plymouth sizes, you'd still have to pay an additional $15 or so.

If our tire fails when it's this worn, U.S. Royal will replace it with a brand new tire free.

U.S. Royal has developed a tire construction that's so strong, and so unlikely to fail, they can make this unheard-of Special Introductory Offer:

If the tire fails for any reason, except a repairable puncture or deliberate abuse, U.S. Royal will replace it with a brand new tire, free of charge.

This offer applies all the way down to the last 1/16" of original tread. (And if you want to see just how far down 1/16" of tread is, look at the picture.)

It doesn't matter how long you own the tire. And it doesn't matter how many miles you go. What's more, road hazards (such as chuck holes or broken glass) are included in the offer.

The U.S. Royal first-line tire (Safety 800)

The tiger's paw (Red-circle Super Safety 800)

The U.S. Royal premium tire (Red-circle Royal Master)

This Special Introductory Offer applies to passenger car replacement tires purchased and registered between now and August 15th.

And there's no catch.

Prices start as low as $16.95

Mohr Named Chairman Of '65 KBA Tourney

Bill Mohr, vice president of the Kingston Bowling Assn., has been appointed director for the association's 1964 tournament.

The appointment was made last night by president Charles Forst at the first meeting of the KBA's executive committee, held at the YMCA. It's the third straight year that Mohr will head the annual tourney.

Next year's tournament will be held at Sangi's Bowlero and at the College Lanes in New Paltz. The committee by unanimous vote, awarded the five man event to Sangi's for Feb. 13 and 14. The doubles and singles will be he ld on Feb. 20 and 21 at the College Lanes.

Seminar Conducted

Following the action on the tournament, the meeting was adjourned to the assembly hall for the purpose of conducting a seminar for league secretaries and presidents. About fifty per cent of the league representatives were in attendance.

Secretary Dick Waltman headed the instruction session, which included use of the new individual bowler sanction form and other league records.

Waltman stressed that all bowlers in the KBA wil have to file for a sanction card in each league he participates, whether it be as a regular or as a substitute. However, he will indicate on the sanction form of each additional league after filing his first sanction that he has paid the entry fee with a prior entry and will indicate which league received the sanction fee. This fee has to be paid just once and entitles the bowler to participate in as many leagues as he desires on that single fee.

Substitues Must Pay

Team captains will have to instruct all substitutes and newcomers added to their teams during the year of the necessity of paying this sanction entry fee prior to their initial participation in each league if they have not already been participating in another league within the Kingston Bowling Assn. during the current season.

Waltman cautioned league presidents of the importance of showing the last reported bank balance on the league average sheet posted in the bowling establishment each week. He warned that failure to comply with this rule established by the ABC leaves the league president subject to suspension if any league bowler files a complaint to this effect.

The ABC has clarified a rule applying to junior bowlers which it cautions all league officials and team captains to comply with henceforth. According to KBA Secretary Waltman, the ABC has ruled all bowlers are ineligible to participate in any KBA league before his 19th birthday unless he has presented written parental consent. In addition to this stipulation, the ABC has ruled any junior bowler participating in a league which awards prize money is declared a professional and thereby loses his amateur status making him ineligible to participate in high school sports.

Waltman concluded his seminar with an emphasis on the part of all leagues to be certain they have up-dated their constitutions to conform with the model constitutions listed in the new ABC manuals. These constitutions and any necessary changes must be adopted within the first five weeks of the league bowling season. Waltman stated that all league prize lists must be prepared and posted within the first five weeks of the season or could be challenged by a league bowler as to validity.

At the conclusion of the seminar, the KBA executive committee acted as hosts for the serving of light refreshments.

Queen's Mohican Roosevelt Winner

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Queen's Mohican, driven by Del Insko, copped his third straight victory by winning the $7,000 Invitational pace at Roosevelt Raceway Tuesday night with a 2:02 2-5 mile.

The 4-year-old gelding finished 1¼ lengths in front of Chin Whiskers. Josedale Senor Hal was third.

Queen's Mohican paid $3.80.

At other New York State harness tracks:

Saratoga Raceway—Hal Merry ($5.30) took the first division of the $3,000 pace. Perry C. placed and Clay Haven Battler was third. The winning time was 2:05 1-5.

Vernon Downs—Summit ($2.-40) gained his seventh win in 12 starts at Vernon by taking the $2,000 early closing trot. Jacques Mir was second, 2½ lengths back, and Mitzi Dares showed. The winner stepped the mile in 2:03 1-5.

Rockey Babe Wins Raceway Feature

MONTICELLO — Rockey Babe scored a near wire-to-wire triumph in Tuesday's feature race at Monticello Raceway, going the mile in a brisk 2:05 3, a new lifetime mark for the five-year-old brown mare.

Jim Williard sent the winner to the front just before the quarter pole and he held off a late challenge by Grand Darnley, which came on strong at the top of the stretch.

Sent off at 5-2 odds, Rockey Babe returned $7.70, $3.70 and $2.80 across the board. Grand Darnley, the 2-1 favorite, paid $3.30 and $3.10. Drummer Boy rallied in the final yards to nab the show spot and pay $2.90.

Tuesday's daily double of 1 and 8 paid $84.90. Hobo Frangray, with John Cameron in the sulky, won the trottinghalf and paid $9.60. Adios Fanny won the second race, returning $17.10. Bill Popfinger was on the winning horse, giving him a tie for the dash winning title with Brother Frank. Each has 30 wins.

Their offer vs. Our offer

If their tire fails when it's this worn, all other major tire brands will only allow you a few dollars toward a new tire. (You still have to pay about $15 more.)

If our tire fails when it's this worn, U.S. Royal will replace it with a brand new tire free.

Don't take our word for it.

Read the small print in the guarantee at the bottom of practically every tire ad. You'll find a paragraph that says something like this:

"In the event of tire failure covered by the guarantee, tire will be pro-rated, based on the amount of original tread remaining."

For instance, the tire in the picture has 1/16" of tread left.

If it should fail at this point (which means you'd already have gotten about 80% of the wear out of the tire), you'd only be entitled to a small allowance. On a major-brand first line tire, in Chevrolet, Ford or Plymouth sizes, you'd still have to pay an additional $15 or so.

This is the standard "life of the tire" guarantee made by practically every manufacturer in the industry, including U.S. Royal.

Now compare this with the Special Introductory Offer described at the right.

U.S. Royal has developed a tire construction that's so strong, and so unlikely to fail, they can make this unheard-of Special Introductory Offer:

If the tire fails for any reason, except a repairable puncture or deliberate abuse, U.S. Royal will replace it with a brand new tire, free of charge.

This offer applies all the way down to the last 1/16" of original tread. (And if you want to see just how far down 1/16" of tread is, look at the picture.)

It doesn't matter how long you own the tire. And it doesn't matter how many miles you go. What's more, road hazards (such as chuck holes or broken glass) are included in the offer.

It covers these tires:
The U.S. Royal first-line tire (Safety 800)
The tiger's paw (Red-circle Super Safety 800)
The U.S. Royal premium tire (Red-circle Royal Master)

This Special Introductory Offer applies to passenger car replacement tires purchased and registered between now and August 15th.

And there's no catch.

Prices start as low as $16.95
6.00 x 13 Black Tubeless
Safety 800, plus tax, exchange

EMPLOYMENT

NOTICE TO JOB APPLICANTS
The Kingston Daily Freeman does not knowingly accept Help-Wanted advertisements from employers covered by the Federal Wage-Hour Law if they offer less than legal minimum wages. Most employes engaged in interstate or foreign commerce or in the production of goods for such commerce must be paid not less than $1.25 an hour and at least one and one-half times their regular rate of pay for hours worked after a maximum workweek of 40 hours, unless specifically exempt. Also, most employes in certain large retail, service, construction and other enterprises engaged in or producing goods for commerce, who have been entitled to a minimum wage of at least $1.00 an hour since September 3, 1961, must be paid overtime pay of not less than one and one-half times their regular rates for all hours worked after a maximum workweek of 44 hours, unless specifically exempt. If you are offered less by covered employers, or if you have questions concerning the Fair Labor Standards Act or other activities of the U. S. Department of Labor, call or write the Department's local office at 881 Gerard Ave., Bronx, N. Y 10452 WYandotte 2-1235.

Foresee Warming Trend by Weekend, Possible Showers

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 a.m. Thursday to 7 a.m. Tuesday:

Eastern New York — Quite cool during a good part of the period, but warmer by the weekend. Temperatures will average 5-10 degrees below normal. Some scattered showers are forecast, mainly over the north portion at the beginning of the period. More general showers are likely by Sunday or early next week.

Western New York — Unseasonably cool weather, with temperatures averaging 8-14 degrees below normal, is predicted. It will be a little warmer over the weekend. A few light showers, averaging less than .1 of an inch, are forecast for Thursday.

Temperature normals — Daytime highs 77-83. Nighttime lows 58-63.

Buffalo Is Hit Hard by Wind During the Night

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Trees and power lines were knocked down and roofs blown off buildings Tuesday night during a series of wind-whipped thunderstorms that battered this area.

The U.S. Weather Bureau, which forecast a few showers for today in the Western New York area, measured wind gust of up to 45 miles an hour Tuesday night.

Extra work crews scurried to a variety of locations along the Lake Erie shoreline and inland, repairing power lines to end blackouts for residents of the afflicted areas.

In Eden, south of Buffalo, an employe of a dog shelter said that, while he was working, "all of a sudden I looked up and the roof wasn't there any more."

A lightning bolt struck a chimney on a home in North Tonawanda and tore through electrical wiring to the ground.

A large tent at the Niagara County Fairgrounds in Lockport was badly shredded.

House Backs Pension Hike for Vets, Widows

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a bill that would increase pension benefits for war veterans or their widows.

Approval came Tuesday on a 388-0 roll-call vote. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The Veterans Administration estimates the measure would add $44 million to pensions in this fiscal year that ends next June 30 and mount in cost until it added $111 million to pensions in the 1969 fiscal year.

At the most, the increase could come to $35 a month. This would apply to a veteran with three dependents who has an income of less than $1,200 a year. His new maximum would be $110 a month.

Pay Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law today a bill that will send fatter pay checks to almost every American serviceman by the first of next month.

All of them will share in the 207-million pay raise except draftees and lowest-ranking enlisted men. For most, it will be the second pay raise in 11 months.

Check Mattress Fire

New Paltz firemen in command of Chief Peter Savago were called out at 4:30 a. m. today to extinguish a mattress fire in a room at the North View House on Route 299. The chief said considerable smoke seeped through the building. Fire destroyed the mattress and burned a hole in the floor. According to the chief, several guests exacuated the building until the smoke cleared.

Names In The News

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mrs. JFK Vacationing

PORTO ERCOLE, Italy (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy was vacationing today on the picturesque Argentario Peninsula of the Tuesan Archipelago.

The widow of the American president arrived in Porto Ercole with her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, from Rome after ending a cruise along Yugoslavia's Adriatic coast.

Mrs. Kennedy and her sister are staying in a villa only a few hundred yards from that of Queen Juliana of the Netherlands. Dutch Princess Beatrix welcomed Mrs. Kennedy on her arrival in Porto Ercole.

Optimistic on Segni

ROME (AP)—Doctors issued another optimistic report today on the condition of President Antonio Segni, stricken last Friday with a cerebral stroke.

"The president of the republic passed another tranquil night, sleeping for some hours," the medical bulletin said. "This morning his general condition remains good. Pulse and breathing are regular."

The duties of the 73-year-old president have been taken over temporarily by Senate President Cesare Merzagora.

Mrs. Nixon on Tour

BERGEN, Norway (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon and her daughters, Patricia, 18, and Julia, 16, left Bergen today for a bus tour of Norway.

The wife of the former U.S. vice president and her children are to arrive in Aslo next Saturday. They'll visit Sweden and Denmark before flying back to New York City.

Illegal Parking Solutions in Two Cities of Brazil

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Rio de Janeiro solved its illegal parking problem by deflating the tires of violators.

Sister city Sao Paulo has come up with a more subtle but just as effective solution:

Illegally parked cars are impounded. To recover the car, the owner must go to the proper department and pay the 20 cruzeiro — less than two cents —fine.

Simple? The Paulistas have employed every trick in the bureaucratic book to make it complicated.

When the owner arrives he finds a line ahead of him.

The delegate charged with accepting the fines is painstaking in checking documents and is obliged to pause frequently for coffee breaks or to talk on the telephone.

Alleged Escapee Is Going Back to Texas

BATH, N. Y. (AP) — A migrant laborer, arrested as a result of a routine fingerprint check, will be returned to Texas, where he allegedly escaped from prison 38 years ago while serving a life sentence on a murder conviction.

Anthony Leonard, 69, signed extradition papers in Steuben County Court Tuesday, clearing the way for his return to Texas.

He was arrested Monday on a street in the nearby community of Atlanta and was charged with being a fugitive from justice.

Sheriff's deputies said Leonard, who had been using the assumed name of Calvin Collins, was arrested last July 11 on charges of public intoxication and indecent exposure. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail here.

Think Meningitis Over

FT. ORD, Calif. (AP) — Army officials say a meningitis outbreak that has claimed 10 lives at Ft. Ord apparently has been controlled.

Post Surgeon Rolland B. Sigafoos said Tuesday "we still have nine patients in the hospital, but, thankfully, all are now off the serious list."

The disease has stricken 61 persons so far this year at this Army training base. Nine soldiers and a child, a military dependant, have died of the dissease.

Meters Total $3,379

A July city parking meter total of $3,379.02 was reported today by City Treasurer M. G. Richardson. This was $622.18 under the June total and $626.98 below that in July, 1963.

Rosendale Ski Site Plans Get Coach's Approval

U. S. Olympic Ski Jumping coach, Arthur Tokle, recently spent two days at the site of the old Telemark Ski Club Championship Ski Jump, at Rosendale, and expressed great enthusiasm and high hopes, for the proposed new facility.

Tokle was quoted as saying, "This can be easily made into a 90 meter hill." He further said, "The hill has all the natural facilities and resources, to make a great jump."

Tokle, in spending the weekend, with the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club, further volunteered his services, to assist in the re-design, and re-construction of the jump, along the lines of modern European internationlly known jumping hills. He said that with the cooperation of the townspeople of Rosendale, and with the effort shown thus far, there is no reason whatscever, that the hill should not be in operation, for the forthcoming competitive year.

Judge Visits Also

During the previous week, internationally known jumping judge, Ole Clements, also visited the site, during the progress of a profile survey, and other engineering and design work being done under the leadership of Frank L. Klepeis. Clements was also similarly impressed with the facilities, left there by the Telemark Ski Club.

Counsel, William P. Curren of the Joppenbergh Mountain Corp., which is in the process of acquiring the jump site, and will lease it to the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club Inc., announced this week, that the option to purchase has been exercised, and the title closing will take place Aug. 17.

Purchase Price Met

The $20,000 purchase price, was raised by investments of the townspeople of the Town of Rosendale, in only four short weeks, rather than the nine weeks anticipated. Already, the $20,000 has been received by the Joppenbergh Mountain Corp., representing investments by 96 townspeople in Rosendale, out-of-town friends and summer visitors. This has been termed as the largest single undertaking by the townspeople of Rosendale, in the entire history of the town, and it is one step further, in the over-all endeavor to make Rosendale, "The Nordic Ski Capital of the East."

It is anticipated, that invitations will be extended to the United States Eastern Amateur Ski Association to hold their ski jumping training camp at Rosendale, which is also the site of the 1965 15 kilometer New York State Cross-Country Championship, sponsored by the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club Inc.

The first stockholders meeting and organizational session of the Joppenbergh Mountain Corp. will be held Saturday 7:30 p. m. at the Astoria Hotel, Main Street, Rosendale. Board of directors will be elected.

Pleads Innocent To First Degree Larceny Charge

Accused of swindling a man out of $1,100 by obtaining the money through fraudulent means, Robert Eypper, 38, of 5 Sparrow Lane, Town of Poughkeepsie, was arrested Tuesday by Millbrook State Police.

Eypper pleaded innocent to first degree grand larceny before Justice of the Peace C. Allerton Morey, Town of Washington, and was held in $1,000 bail for examination on Tuesday, August 18.

According to authorities, Eypper allegedly told a friend who was not identified that he had a good-sized bank account and needed some money, but couldn't get it because the bank was closed.

The friend, it was reported, allegedly asked Eypper how much he needed and he replied $1,100. The man made out a check in that amount and gave it to the defendant, troopers said. Investigation disclosed there was no account in Eypper's name, according to reports.

BCI Investigator John Conway made the arrest yesterday.

Slate Joint Picnic For Area Masons

A joint picnic by Rondout Commandery 52 and Poughkeepsie Commandery, Knights Templar, will be held Sunday at the 3-R picnic grounds on Mt. Marion Road. All members, their families and friends are invited to attend.

Each member is requested to bring a lunch. Dessert will be furnished by the Commanderies. A full program has been arranged by the committee including swimming.

Lunch for all is scheduled to start promptly at 12 noon.

Reports Stolen Dog

A Spring Street man notified police Tuesday that he believed his two-year-old beagle, answering to the name, "Ticker" had been stolen during the previous night. The dog, said Alfred Mannello, of 149 Spring Street, had been in an enclosed wire pen, and its lock had been broken. SPCA Agent Arnold Adams was notified.

World News In Brief

Encyclical Indicates Unity Is Long Way Off

GENEVA (AP) — Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, general secretary of the World Council of Churches, says Pope Paul's encyclical indicates Christian unity is still a long way off.

Dr. Visser't Hooft, whose organization represents 209 Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox denominations, said Tuesday it was "encouraging" that the Pope emphasized the necessity of continued dialogue among all Christians.

But he added:

"The concept of dialogue which the encyclical develops is not quite the same as that which we have used and practiced for many years in the ecumenical movement. According to the encyclical, dialogue is mainly a form of communication of the truth which the Roman Catholic Church holds."

Ceylon's Press Faces New Government Curbs

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Ceylon's press faces new controls aimed at curbing concentration of newspaper ownership and criticism of the government.

Prime Minister Sirimavo Banderanaike approved Tuesday the establishment of a press council and tribunal to carry out the recommendations of a three-man study commission.

The commission suggested that the tribunal draft a code of ethics for newspapers, fix prices and advertising rates, license reporters and pave the way for the nationalization of Ceylon's largest newspaper group, Associated Newspapers of Ceylon Ltd.

Soviets Report on Near Crash With Destroyer

MOSCOW (AP) — The skipper of the Soviet cruise ship Gruzia says only the skill of his sailors prevented a collision with the U.S. destroye. Kretchmer on a trip to Cuba.

"There was a moment when a collision with the U.S. destroyer seemed inevitable," Capt. T. Makatsaiy was quoted as saying in the government newspaper Izvestia Tuesday. "Many of the U.S. sailors rushed on deck wearing lifejackets."

The captain also said the Gruzia was buzzed several times by U.S. planes. He did not say where or when the incidents occurred. The Gruzia is in the Soviet port of Kalingrad.

Former Reporter Dies in Florida at 58

NEWARK, N. Y. (AP)—Aubrey L. Pierce, who served as a reporter on newspapers in four cities, died Tuesday in Fort Myers, Fla., at the age of 58.

Word of his death was received Tuesday in this Upstate community where he lived at one time.

Pierce was a reporter for the Buffalo Evening News, the Binghamton Sun, the Binghamton Press, the Miami Herald and the Newark (N.J.) Ledger.

Funeral services will be held Friday at the Harvey Funeral Chapel in Fort Myers.

Western New York, Northern and Southern Finger Lakes, East of Lake Ontario:

Windy and cool with changealbe but mostly cloudy skies and a few light showers this afternoon, tonight and Thursday, temperature this afternoon generally between 65-70. Low tonight in the middle 50s, cooler in some inland sections. Strong westerly winds, 20-40.

Foresee Warming Trend by Weekend, Possible Showers

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from 7 a.m. Thursday to 7 a.m. Tuesday:

Eastern New York — Quite cool during a good part of the period, but warmer by the weekend. Temperatures will average 5-10 degrees below normal. Some scattered showers are forecast, mainly over the north portion at the beginning of the period. More general showers are likely by Sunday or early next week.

Western New York — Unseasonably cool weather, with temperatures averaging 8-14 degrees below normal, is predicted. It will be a little warmer over the weekend. A few light showers, averaging less than .1 of an inch, are forecast for Thursday.

Temperature normals — Daytime highs 77-83. Nighttime lows 58-63.

Buffalo Is Hit Hard by Wind During the Night

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Trees and power lines were knocked down and roofs blown off buildings Tuesday night during a series of wind-whipped thunderstorms that battered this area.

The U.S. Weather Bureau, which forecast a few showers for today in the Western New York area, measured wind gust of up to 45 miles an hour Tuesday night.

Extra work crews scurried to a variety of locations along the Lake Erie shoreline and inland, repairing power lines to end blackouts for residents of the afflicted areas.

In Eden, south of Buffalo, an employe of a dog shelter said that, while he was working, "all of a sudden I looked up and the roof wasn't there any more."

A lightning bolt struck a chimney on a home in North Tonawanda and tore through electrical wiring to the ground.

A large tent at the Niagara County Fairgrounds in Lockport was badly shredded.

House Backs Pension Hike for Vets, Widows

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a bill that would increase pension benefits for war veterans or their widows.

Approval came Tuesday on a 388-0 roll-call vote. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The Veterans Administration estimates the measure would add $44 million to pensions in this fiscal year that ends next June 30 and mount in cost until it added $111 million to pensions in the 1969 fiscal year.

At the most, the increase could come to $35 a month. This would apply to a veteran with three dependents who has an income of less than $1,200 a year. His new maximum would be $110 a month.

Pay Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law today a bill that will send fatter pay checks to almost every American serviceman by the first of next month.

All of them will share in the 207-million pay raise except draftees and lowest-ranking enlisted men. For most, it will be the second pay raise in 11 months.

Check Mattress Fire

New Paltz firemen in command of Chief Peter Savago were called out at 4:30 a. m. today to extinguish a mattress fire in a room at the North View House on Route 299. The chief said considerable smoke seeped through the building. Fire destroyed the mattress and burned a hole in the floor. According to the chief, several guests exacuated the building until the smoke cleared.

Mrs. JFK Vacationing

PORTO ERCOLE, Italy (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy was vacationing today on the picturesque Argentario Peninsula of the Tucsan Archipelago.

The widow of the American president arrived in Porto Ercole with her sister, Princess Lee Radziwill, from Rome after ending a cruise along Yugoslavia's Adriatic coast.

Mrs. Kennedy and her sister are staying in a villa only a few hundred yards from that of Queen Juliana of the Netherlands. Dutch Princess Beatrix welcomed Mrs. Kennedy on her arrival in Porto Ercole.

Optimistic on Segni

ROME (AP)—Doctors issued another optimistic report today on the condition of President Antonio Segni, stricken last Friday with a cerebral stroke.

"The president of the republic passed another tranquil night, sleeping for some hours," the medical bulletin said. "This morning his general condition remains good. Pulse and breathing are regular."

The duties of the 73-year-old president have been taken over temporarily by Senate President Cesare Merzagora.

Mrs. Nixon on Tour

BERGEN, Norway (AP) — Mrs. Richard M. Nixon and her daughters, Patricia, 18, and Julia, 16, left Bergen today for a bus tour of Norway.

The wife of the former U.S. vice president and her children are to arrive in Aslo next Saturday. They'll visit Sweden and Denmark before flying back to New York City.

Illegal Parking Solutions in Two Cities of Brazil

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Rio de Janeiro solved its illegal parking problem by deflating the tires of violators.

Sister city Sao Paulo has come up with a more subtle but just as effective solution:

Illegally parked cars are impounded. To recover the car, the owner must go to the proper department and pay the 20 cruzeiro — less than two cents —fine.

Simple? The Paulistas have employed every trick in the bureaucratic book to make it complicated.

The owner must go in person. The pound is on the outskirts near the airport. No buses go by it. It is either an expensive taxi ride or a long walk.

When the owner arrives he finds a line ahead of him.

The delegate charged with accepting the fines is painstaking in checking documents and is obliged to pause frequently for coffee breaks or to talk on the telephone.

Alleged Escapee Is Going Back to Texas

BATH, N. Y. (AP) — A migrant laborer, arrested as a result of a routine fingerprint check, will be returned to Texas, where he allegedly escaped from prison 38 years ago while serving a life sentence on a murder conviction.

Anthony Leonard, 69, signed extradition papers in Steuben County Court Tuesday, clearing the way for his return to Texas.

He was arrested Monday on a street in the nearby community of Atlanta and was charged with being a fugitive from justice.

Sheriff's deputies said Leonard, who had been using the assumed name of Calvin Collins, was arrested last July 11 on charges of public intoxication and indecent exposure. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail here.

Think Meningitis Over

FT. ORD, Calif. (AP) — Army officials say a meningitis outbreak that has claimed 10 lives at Ft. Ord apparently has been controlled.

Post Surgeon Rolland B. Sigafoos said Tuesday "we still have nine patients in the hospital, but, thankfully, all are now off the serious list."

The disease has stricken 61 persons so far this year at this Army training base. Nine soldiers and a child, a military dependant, have died of the disease.

Meters Total $3,379

A July city parking meter total of $3,379.02 was reported today by City Treasurer M. G. Richardson. This was $622.18 under the June total and $626.98 below that in July, 1963.

Rosendale Ski Site Plans Get Coach's Approval

U. S. Olympic Ski Jumping coach, Arthur Tokle, recently spent two days at the site of the old Telemark Ski Club Championship Ski Jump, at Rosendale, and expressed great enthusiasm and high hopes, for the proposed new facility.

Tokle was quoted as saying, "This can be easily made into a 90 meter hill." He further said, "The hill has all the natural facilities and resources, to make a great jump."

Tokle, in spending the weekend, with the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club, further volunteered his services, to assist in the re-design, and re-construction of the jump, along the lines of modern European internationlly known jumping hills. He said that with the cooperation of the townspeople of Rosendale, and with the effort shown thus far, there is no reason whatscever, that the hill should not be in operation, for the forthcoming competitive year.

Judge Visits Also

During the previous week, internationally known jumping judge, Ole Clements, also visited the site, during the progress of a profile survey, and other engineering and design work being done under the leadership of Frank L. Klepeis. Clements was also similarly impressed with the facilities, left there by the Telemark Ski Club.

Counsel, William P. Curren of the Joppenbergh Mountain Corp., which is in the process of acquiring the jump site, and will lease it to the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club Inc., announced this week, that the option to purchase has been exercised, and the title closing will take place Aug. 17.

Purchase Price Met

The $20,000 purchase price, was raised by investments of the townspeople of the Town of Rosendale, in only four short weeks, rather than the nine weeks anticipated. Already, the $20,000 has been received by the Joppenbergh Mountain Corp., representing investments by 96 townspeople in Rosendale, out-of-town friends and summer visitors. This has been termed as the largest single undertaking by the townspeople of Rosendale, in the entire history of the town, and it is one step further, in the over-all endeavor to make Rosendale, "The Nordic Ski Capital of the East."

It is anticipated, that invitations will be extended to the United States Eastern Amateur Ski Association to hold their ski jumping training camp at Rosendale, which is also the site of the 1965 15 kilometer New York State Cross-Country Championship, sponsored by the Rosendale Nordic Ski Club Inc.

The first stockholders meeting and organizational session of the Joppenbergh Mountain Corp. will be held Saturday 7:30 p. m. at the Astoria Hotel, Main Street, Rosendale. Board of directors will be elected.

Pleads Innocent To First Degree Larceny Charge

Accused of swindling a man out of $1,100 by obtaining the money through fraudulent means, Robert Eypper, 38, of 5 Sparrow Lane, Town of Poughkeepsie, was arrested Tuesday by Millbrook State Police.

Eypper pleaded innocent to first degree grand larceny before Justice of the Peace C. Allerton Morey, Town of Washington, and was held in $1,000 bail for examination on Tuesday, August 18.

According to authorities, Eypper allegedly told a friend who was not identified that he had a good-sized bank account and needed some money, but couldn't get it because the bank was closed.

The friend, it was reported, allegedly asked Eypper how much he needed and he replied $1,100. The man made out a check in that amount and gave it to the defendant, troopers said. Investigation disclosed there was no account in Eypper's name, according to reports.

BCI Investigator John Conway made the arrest yesterday.

Slate Joint Picnic For Area Masons

A joint picnic by Rondout Commandery 52 and Poughkeepsie Commandery, Knights Templar, will be held Sunday at the 3-R picnic grounds on Mt. Marion Road. All members, their families and friends are invited to attend.

Each member is requested to bring a lunch. Dessert will be furnished by the Commanderies. A full program has been arranged by the committee including swimming.

Lunch for all is scheduled to start promptly at 12 noon.

Reports Stolen Dog

A Spring Street man notified police Tuesday that he believed his two-year-old beagle, answering to the name, "Ticker" had been stolen during the previous night. The dog, said Alfred Mannello, of 149 Spring Street, had been in an enclosed wire pen, and its lock had been broken. SPCA Agent Arnold Adams was notified.

World News In Brief

Encyclical Indicates Unity Is Long Way Off

GENEVA (AP) — Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, general secretary of the World Council of Churches, says Pope Paul's encyclical indicates Christian unity is still a long way off.

Dr. Visser't Hooft, whose organization represents 209 Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox denominations, said Tuesday it was "encouraging" that the Pope emphasized the necessity of continued dialogue among all Christians.

But he added:

"The concept of dialogue which the encyclical develops is not quite the same as that which we have used and practiced for many years in the ecumenical movement. According to the encyclical, dialogue is mainly a form of communication of the truth which the Roman Catholic Church holds."

Ceylon's Press Faces New Government Curbs

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Ceylon's press faces new controls aimed at curbing concentration of newspaper ownership and criticism of the government.

Prime Minister Sirimavo Banderanaike approved Tuesday the establishment of a press council and tribunal to carry out the recommendations of a three-man study commission.

The commission suggested that the tribunal draft a code of ethics for newspapers, fix prices and advertising rates, license reporters and pave the way for the nationalization of Ceylon's largest newspaper group, Associated Newspapers of Ceylon Ltd.

Soviets Report on Near Crash With Destroyer

MOSCOW (AP) — The skipper of the Soviet cruise ship Gruzia says only the skill of his sailors prevented a collision with the U.S. destroye. Kretchmer on a trip to Cuba.

"There was a moment when a collision with the U.S. destroyer seemed inevitable," Capt. T. Makatsaiy was quoted as saying in the government newspaper Izvestia Tuesday. "Many of the U.S. sailors rushed on deck wearing lifejackets."

The captain also said the Gruzia was buzzed several times by U.S. planes. He did not say where or when the incidents occurred. The Gruzia is in the Soviet port of Kalingrad.

Former Reporter Dies in Florida at 58

NEWARK, N. Y. (AP)—Aubrey L. Pierce, who served as a reporter on newspapers in four cities, died Tuesday in Fort Myers, Fla., at the age of 58.

Word of his death was received Tuesday in this Upstate community where he lived at one time.

Pierce was a reporter for the Buffalo Evening News, the Binghamton Sun, the Binghamton Press, the Miami Herald and the Newark (N.J.) Ledger.

Funeral services will be held Friday at the Harvey Funeral Chapel in Fort Myers.

Answers Your Insurance Questions

QUESTION: Does my auto medical payments insurance cover the people in my car or in another car that I might collide with?

ANSWER: Medical payments coverage applies to the people in your own car. Your personal injury liability insurance would provide for emergency medical attention to persons in another car which was involved with yours in an accident.
